Newton Teens Prepare For Symphony Concert Program

The 1963-64 performing season of the Greater Boston Youth Symphony Orchestra will begin on Saturday, December 28, with almost a dozen Newton teenagers as members of the famed musical organization.

An informal concert and Alumni Day celebration at Boston University will be a feature of the curtain raising event.

The teen symphony, made up of 114 junior and senior high school players from some 50 Boston suburbs and towns, will also give an open rehearsal at Boston University's Sargent Gymnasium on January 5th.

Aldermen Vote Memorial To Late President 12 - 8

A resolution asking for the appointment of a committee to establish a memorial in Newton to the late President John F. Kennedy was approved by a 12-8 vote at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Aldermen.

Alderman Theodore D. Mann, who presented the resolve, expressed the belief that the city should take steps to perpetuate the memory of the President who was assassinated as he rode along a Dallas street.

Objection to the measure was led by Alderman Earle D. Wood who argued that the city has not memorialized any President in the past except for naming streets in their honor.

Wood maintained that any memorial to President Kennedy should be undertaken under federal or state auspices, not by the city. He asserted that there should be a more fitting memorial to the late President than anything which can be done by a Newton citizens' committee.

Those who voted in favor of Mann's resolution calling upon Mayor Donald L. Gibbs to designate a committee to establish a Kennedy Memorial were Aldermen Wendell R. Bauckman, William Carmen, Melvin J. Dangel, Ernest F. Dietz, Franklin N. Flaschner, William M. Glovsky, George C. Hicks, William M. Hopkins,

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Robert Kennedy Would Help Johnson as Nominee for VP

The political picture would undergo a sharp change if Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy should decide to accept the Democratic nomination for Vice-President next year.

Some political observers are speculating on whether President Lyndon Johnson would ask Robert Kennedy to become his Vice Presidential running mate.

Johnson is a shrewd, astute politician who doesn't need anyone to enumerate the problems which will confront him when he stands for the Presidency next year.

His prime objective will be to win the election. You may be sure he will undertake to get a running mate who will be the greatest help to him in achieving that goal.

It is difficult to think of anyone who, as the second man on the Democratic national ticket, would be as great an asset to Johnson as would Robert Kennedy.

Johnson's big problem next year will be to carry such states as New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, California and possibly Massachusetts and Connecticut.

As the Vice Presidential nominee, Robert Kennedy probably could swing votes to Johnson in those States that the new President otherwise wouldn't receive.

Bobby Kennedy doesn't have the relaxed, easy-to-meet man-

Jaycees Open Annual Yule Kiddies Tour

Today they made two requests in connection with their worthwhile undertaking.

1. They asked school teachers and clergymen throughout Newton to send them the names of the most needy children.

2. They appealed to Newton residents for donations so that they may make the coming Christmas a happy one for as many deserving children as possible.

Persons willing to help bring some Yuletide cheer to boys and girls facing a bleak and desolate Christmas are asked to sit down today and make out a check to the Jaycee Christmas Shop Tour.

The contributions should be mailed to Jaycee Christmas Shop Tour, West Newton Cooperative Bank, Box 26, Newton 65. Or anyone in the vicinity of the bank, which is located at 1308 Washington st., West Newton, may stop in there and leave their contributions.

How much the Jaycees will be able to do for needy Newton youngsters will depend on the public response to their appeal. Members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce are planning a festive program for the children whose names are submitted to them.

On Saturday, Dec. 21, they will hold a Christmas party for the youngsters at the Newton Community Centre, with a brilliantly decorated Yuletide tree and a Santa Claus to present a gift to each boy and girl.

MARY COCHRANE

Washington School Post To Newtonite

Mrs. Mary Williams Cochran, a resident for many years at 152 Grove Street, Auburndale, has accepted the position of executive assistant to the Director of the Hannah Harrison School of the Y.W.C.A. in Washington, D.C. She was formerly associated with the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

This residential vocational school was made possible by the late Julius Garfinckel, merchant and philanthropist, who left the major part of his estate to the YWCA of Washington, D.C. in memory of his mother, Mrs. Hannah Harrison.

Two nationally accredited courses offered by the school are administrative housekeeping and food supervision for women 25 to 55 years of age and practical nursing for women 18 to 50 years of age. The school gives complete room, board and tuition scholarships to all who are accepted for training, regardless of nationality, race or religion. It is the only school in the country to offer this type of free training.

Mrs. Cochran has begun her administrative duties in the Nation's capital and is now living on the Hannah

Incinerator, Leash Law Wait Aldermanic Action

Members of the Board of Aldermen have only one more scheduled meeting in which to act on two controversial proposals which have been pending before them for months.

One is a recommendation by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs that a $2 million bond issue be floated to finance the erection of a new municipal incinerator on Rumford avenue in West Newton.

The other is a petition for a so-called dog leash law which would prohibit Newton's 5000 canines from running loose in the city.

The final 1963 session of the Aldermanic Board is to be held the night of Dec. 16—a week from next Monday.

If the incinerator measure and dog leash petition are not acted upon at that time, they will automatically die on Dec. 31, when the current terms of the Aldermen expire unless they are referred to the incoming Board.

Aldermanic President Wendell R. Bauckman told the city fathers at their meeting Monday night to come to the Dec. 16 session prepared to act on all unfinished business and clear their desks. Whether that will actually happen is uncertain.

Sixteen votes are needed to approve the incinerator loan order. Unless that many supporters of the measure are on hand, it probably will not be acted upon.

Members of the Board of Aldermen have indicated informally that they will reject the petition for a dog leash law but will adopt a compromise plan for controlling the city's canine population.

This would include the employment of a full-time dog officer, the establishment of a city pound, strict enforcement of existing regulations applying to unruly dogs and possibly the adoption of some new rules.

So far, however, there has been a lot of talk but no action on a proposal which has aroused widespread public interest and feeling.

Comparatively little business was transacted at this week's meeting of the Aldermanic Board which lasted only 35 minutes.

A $465,000 appropriation to finance the construction of the new Horace Mann School to replace the structure destroyed by fire last December was approved. However, no action was taken on a proposed $35,000 appropriation for furnishings and equipment for the school.

The new school will contain 12 classrooms, a kindergarten, a library, two conference rooms, a teachers' room, an assembly room, a play room and office and utility space.

A petition by the Gene Brown Motors for a new license to deal in second-hand cars at 714, Beacon street was granted by the Board with the restriction that neither officials nor employees of the company may park their automobiles on Beacon street or in the municipal parking lot. Brown has sold the company.

The 1963 schoolboy football season ended on a note of disappointment and defeat for both Newton High School and Newton South High.

Newton High's Tigers were tamed 36-22 by a strong Brookline High aggregation in the annual Thanksgiving Day clash between the two schools at Brookline's Tech Field.

Newton South was stunned 20-0 by Hingham High in a game played at Dickinson Stadium on the holiday morning.

South wound up the season with a record of six victories and three defeats. Newton High had a season's record of four wins, four losses and one tie. Coach Jim Ronayne of Newton High and Coach George Winkler of Newton South already are looking ahead to another football season.

For Ronayne prospects for next autumn are rather bleak. His squad, comprised largely of seniors, will be riddled by graduation.

Mayor Moves To Halt Vandalism

Steps to halt vandalism in the public schools, which runs up an annual bill of some $45,000, have been initiated by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

In a letter to Charles E. Brown, superintendent of schools, Police Chief Phillip

Purcell and Building Commissioner Vincent D. Burns, the mayor suggested that each appoint two representatives to a permanent committee that would apply it-

Newton Man Is Lacrosse Hall Of Fame Choice

Fred C. Alexander of 87 Fair Oak ave., Newtonville, has been elected to the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame.

He will be inducted Dec. 14 in one of the closing ceremonies of the three-day annual convention of lacrosse officials, referees and coaches.

One of the all-time great lacrosse players, Alexander captained and coached the championship 1910 Harvard varsity lacrosse team.

He played on the Crimson lacrosse team for three years. It won the Northern Intercollegiate championship each of the three years. Alexander also was captain and coach of his Harvard freshman team.

Wage Hikes Are Sought By Teachers

Newton teachers, who asked the School Committee Monday night for a $250 increase in the $5,000 minimum salary schedule, will meet again with the committee on Monday, December 23, before the budget is voted.

Starting pay for a teacher with a master's degree, under the proposed schedule, would be $5,600. Those with a master's degree plus one year of experience would get $5,950 to start. Starting pay for those with a doctorate would be $6,350.

It was estimated that the total cost of granting the teachers' requests would be $483,375, or a little under $2 on the tax rate.

Bauckman Seen Re-elected As Alderman Head

Aldermanic President Wendell R. Bauckman probably will be reelected to head the new Board of Aldermen which assumes office on New Year's Day.

Either Harry E. Jam, Jr., of Auburndale or John P. Nixon of West Newton is likely to be chosen vice president to succeed Earl D. Wood who is to retire from the board at the end of the year.

This was indicated after the members of the Board of Aldermen who won reelection last month and the newly elected members held an informal caucus Monday night to discuss plans for the organization of the board for the next two years.

The lame duck Aldermen who were not reelected remained in the Aldermanic chamber and did not take part in the caucus since they will not be members of the Board which assumes office Jan. 1.

Usually the Board selects a vice president on the basis of seniority of service. That is why the choice is likely to be either Jam or Nixon.

4 Women Authors At Book Display

Literary talent is in abundance in Newton as was evident when four gifted writers of children's books attended the current exhibition of their works at the Boys and Girls Library, 126 Vernon St. The exhibit will be on display until December 14.

Four local women are authors whose books are featured in the exhibit of fine juvenile literature.

Margot Zemach, Elvajan Hall, Maxine Kumin and Shirlee Newman are the gifted feminine writers. Margot Zemach, in private life Mrs. Harvey Fischstrom, was accompanied by her

Weeks Junior High Group To Present Musical Show

Alec Wilder's opera, The Lowly and Sea, will be presented in the Weeks Junior High School auditorium on Hereward road, Newton Highlands, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, December 11 and 12, announces the school's Music Department.

Participating in the performances, under the direction of Mr. Raymond Smith and Mrs. Anita McDuffie, will be the Ninth Grade Music Theatre group, the Boys' Glee Club, and the orchestra of the Weeks Junior High School.

Tickets are available for both performances through students in these musical organizations, or in Room 214 of the school before classes begin each morning. Since the number of tickets is limited by the small size of the Weeks auditorium, and no standing room is permitted, tickets should be purchased well in advance of the performance.

Two alternate casts will perform on the successive evenings. Leading parts will be played by the following students: Beth Piken and Teresa Bryant (as Doris Davis), Hannahbeth Jackson and Tamar Shelkan (Hannah), Patricia Newman and Alice Lepie (Belinda), Tamar Shelkan and Patricia Newman (Delight), Dorey Finn (Patience), Alice Lepie and Hannahbeth Jackson (Submit), David Dobler and Stephen Hendrickson (Johnny Dee), Richard Bloom (Captain Jesse), Dennis Hannon (Nathaniel Hazard), Joel Krakow and Peter du Moulin (Amos), Peter du Moulin and Eric Malins (the Doctor).

Members of the orchestra are: Carol Shapiro and Jonathan Cline (flute); Martin Yaffee (oboe); Susan Mescon and William Dornbusch (clarinet); Fraser Gurd (french horn); Thomas Lerner (baritone); Gary Mescon (trombone); David Winer, Lawrence Katz, Ralph Crevoshay, Ralph Katz, (trumpet); Judith Walper, Priscilla Rose, Janis Jacobson, Marjorie Weinert, Ann Sollogub, Beverly Greenwald, Susan Carlin (violin); Judith Kumin (cello); Beth Sonis (bells); Michael Muther and Charles Thompson (percussion); Beth Sidman and Regina Vivardo (piano).

Removal Of Yule Commercialism Meeting Theme

Theme of the meeting of the Women's Alliance at the First Unitarian Church in West Newton on Wednesday, Dec. 11, will be "Ways to Take Commercialism Out of Christmas."

Mrs. Richard A. Lowell, 13 Hillside Ter., West Newton, will preside and act as the moderator in the discussion. This will take place after 10 o'clock coffee.

A demonstration will be given showing how gifts may be made at home. Instructions for making decorations and gift wraps will also be given. A Christmas party in the afternoon will feature games, carol singing and an exchange of gifts.

A devotional service at noon will be led by Mrs. Arthur S. Laughland, 340 Hammond St., Chestnut Hill, and be followed by a business meeting, conducted by Mrs. L. Fabian Bachrach, 215 Highland Ave., Newtonville, president of the Alliance.

Between the two sessions, luncheon will be served by a committee, headed by Mrs. George Thompson, 17 Winthrop St., W. Newton, and Mrs. Belton Westhaver, 60 Judkins St., Newtonville, co-chairmen.

May Dance For Goodwill League

Goodwill League, Inc., announces that its eighth annual dinner dance will be held May 23 at Blue Hill Country Club, Canton.

Following were the officers elected at the group's annual meeting: Mrs. Samuel Kaitz, reelected president; Mrs. Edgar Grossman, vice president; Mrs. William Pollack, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Nelson Noble, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Yanofsky, publicity, and Mrs. Nathan Goodman, Happy Day Fund.

GOP Ward 6 Committee Has Meeting

Members of the Ward Six Committee of the Newton Republican City Committee met recently at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Malvin F. White of Chestnut Hill. William L. Bruce, chairman, presided.

Guest speaker for the event was Mrs. Franklin Lindsay of Precinct Inc. who spoke on "Good Government at the Local Level." A discussion followed the talk.

The meeting voted to make the following associate members of the Ward organization: Samuel Citron, Benjamin A. Davis, and Philip C. Plumley.

Committee assignments made at the meeting included: Dr. and Mrs. Malvin F. White, chairmen of the Survey Program; Leonard Alford, chairman, Survey Program, Precinct one; Mrs. Parker Pond, notary assistant; Mrs. Whelan Vinnicombe, secretary of the program.

Mrs. Herman Smeling was designated assistant secretary of the Ward Committee.

Women Pledge $17,000 In Drive

Mrs. Mabel K. Chase of Newton was chairman of the Christmas Bazaar, held yesterday (Wednesday) by the Women's Association of the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital.

Members of the association have pledged $17,000 toward improvements in the Dietary Department of the hospital in the 1964 Hospital Expansion Program.

Concert

It will also perform major concerts at Lowell, Mass., February 15 and at Concord, N. H., on April 18 and 19.

Founded in 1953 by Prof. Marvin Rabin, of the B.U. musical faculty the highlight of the orchestra's short history was its concert on the White House lawn on April 16, 1962, for the late President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy. It also gave a concert for United Nations guests at Carnegie Hall later in the same week.

The late President Kennedy's address in praise of the youngsters, and the community's increased awareness of the orchestra created by that trip, were a turning point in the fledgling symphony's development.

Prof. Rabin pointed out that in addition to performing in the Youth Symphony, each youngster must continue to play in his or her own school band or orchestra, so that the players' schools are not drained of their best talent, but in fact gain from the wider experience of these players.

Following are the local teenagers in the symphony:

Leslie Claff, flute, Newton H.S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Claff of 144 Austin St., Newtonville.

Dianne Currens and Hawley Currens, violins, Newton H.S., daughters of Dr. and Mrs. James Currens of 222 Prince St., West Newton.

Susan Dietz, flute, Newton H.S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Dietz of 93 Hancock Ave., Newton Centre.

Bruce Kowal, viola, Newton South H.S., son of Dr. and Mrs. Sam Kowal of 1342 Walnut St., Newton Highlands.

Damien Kuffler, cello, Boston College H.S., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kuffler of 9 Surrey Road, Newton.

Gillian Rogell, violin, Newton H.S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard C. Rogell of 31 Devon Road, Newton.

Henry White, French horn, the Commonwealth School, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon S. White of 50 Valleyspring Road, Newton.

Steven Woodbury, viola, Newton South H.S., son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles B. Woodbury of 46 Rockledge Road, Newton Highlands.

Anne Brudevoid, violin, Newton South H.S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finn Brudevoid of 284 Woodward St., Waban.

Mary Foley, cello, St. Mary H.S., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Foley of 209 Linden St., Waltham.

Fluoridation Recount Will Resume Friday

A recount of the votes cast for and against fluoridation will be resumed tomorrow (Friday) morning at 8:30 o'clock.

The retabulation of the fluoridation vote was suspended on orders of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs on the day the late President Kennedy was assassinated.

Ballots cast in two of the city's wards remain to be rechecked. So far there has been no substantial change in the original result which saw the people of Newton vote by a slim margin to retain fluoridation.

Locals Named To N.E. Baptist Hospital Posts

A number of Newton residents were elected to office at the 70th annual dinner meeting of New England Baptist Hospital last night (Wednesday).

Albert P. Everts of Newton was elected vice-president.

Trustees named included George L. Hunt of Newtonville, the Rev. Dr. Harold A. Malmberg of Newton Centre, and Dr. Samuel F. Marshall of West Newton.

Dr. William A. Meissner of Newton Centre and Judge Franklin W. L. Miles of Chestnut Hill were elected as new members of the corporation.

Re-elected as corporation members were A. Ellis Hunt of Newton, Dr. Samuel F. Marshall of West Newton and John B. Richmond of Waban.

Fine Program For Our Lady's Holy Namers

Members of Our Lady's Holy Name Society anticipate a highly interesting meeting on Sunday, Dec. 8, when their guest speaker will be Lt. Cmdr. William B. O'Connor, Catholic chaplain of U. S. Carrier Wasp.

Also on the program will be the Navy film "The Hunter - Hiller Group" and movies of the recent football game in which Our Lady's defeated St. Patrick's and clinched the Suburban Catholic League title.

The members will assemble in the church parking lot at 7:45 a.m. and march to the church for 8 o'clock Mass, during which they will receive Holy Communion together. The meeting will be held immediately afterward in the parish school cafeteria.

Newton League of Women Voters Reviews Registration Success

The Voters Service Committee of the Newton League of Women Voters met last week at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Saul Shapiro, and reviewed the committee's activities and analyzed its effectiveness in the recent municipal election.

The committee's report concluded with a statement that of the 47,605 registered voters, 1112 had enrolled since June, when the group began its campaign to boost registrations. Planning was under the direction of Mrs. Shapiro and Mrs. Norman Rosenberg, vice chairman.

A report was also made by Mrs. Leon Blum, chairman of the Candidates' Questionnaire and Election Guide, which was printed with the cooperation of the Newton Graphic and mailed and widely distributed throughout the city by the League prior to election.

Mrs. Daniel Carmen reported

self to curbing the costly acts of mischief.

"For some time I have been concerned by the senseless damage," the mayor's letter began. "It has run the gamut from defacing of exterior and interior walls, to many broken windows and even arson. This problem is not confined to our own community, but is nationwide."

"Apparently other cities are experimenting with electronic devices with some success, as well as invoking an intensive educational campaign to seek general citizen support."

"All potential ideas should be explored in depth, that in the end we may reduce this problem to an acceptable level."

ed that more than 600 persons attended the candidates' meeting last month. She was assisted at the meeting by Mrs. Maynard Slessinger. The Candidates' Night flyers were designed by Mrs. Alan Licatie and distributed with the help of the Newton Savings and the Newton-Waltham Banks.

Special mention by Mrs. Carmen was made of the fact that the League was able to display voting signs in strategic spots because of the assistance and cooperation she received from Director of Public Works William S. Pratt and Mr. Quinn of the City Hall paint shop, the Newtonville Star Market, the Newton-Norman Sign Company and the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company.

Posters advertising the meeting were made and distributed under the chairmanship of Mrs. Theodore Hansen, who was assisted by Mrs. Jack Fisher, Mrs. Frank Mann and Mrs. Paul Nation.

"We have completed the first big phase of our Voters Service activity," said Mrs. Shapiro, "but we have another big task ahead of us in informing the public of the details and mechanics of the Primary election to be held on April 28. Voters Service is indeed a year-round job."

Junior Santa Clauses

The active and energetic members of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce are assuming the roles of Junior Santa Clauses in order to bring Christmas cheer to needy boys and girls whose families will be able to do little for them this coming Yuletide.

How many deserving youngsters the Jaycees will be able to make happy will depend on the response of the warm-hearted people of Newton.

A story on the front page of this edition of The Graphic tells of a fund the Jaycees are undertaking to raise to finance their wonderful undertaking.

Christmas is a time when every small boy and girl should be happy—when no youngster should be forgotten because of unfortunate circumstances.

All of us could make our own Christmas a little more joyous and meaningful by sending a small contribution today to the Jaycees and helping in their good work.

A check sent today would mean that some Newton boy or girl would be spared the pang of a bleak Yuletide.

Will you play Santa Claus to some deserving youngster by mailing a donation to the Jaycees? They'll do the rest.

Vandalism Is Expensive

A news story in The Graphic today records the astounding fact that youthful vandalism, with our local schools as targets, runs up an annual bill for taxpayers of better than $45,000.

The major scope of the hoodlumism compels Mayor Donald L. Gibbs to take forceful steps to curb the menace.

This news is hard to believe in this community because Newton is not a slum area, or an underprivileged district, neither is it populated by a majority of low-income families. Such conditions, we are led to believe, spawn juvenile vandals and lawbreakers.

It is safe to say that the perpetrators of school vandalism in Newton are the offspring of better than average homes and are children who can enjoy most of the good things of young life in our times.

Not discounting the lawlessness associated with some who are jammed together in our big city slums, deprived of the decencies of life for one cause or another, it must be understood that too much of today's juvenile hoodlumism is performed by boys from good homes in top bracket communities.

Certainly, Newton is one of these more fortunate cities, which makes it that much more difficult to comprehend the antics of the lawless fringe of our young population.

The entire community will stand behind Mayor Gibbs and Newton officialdom in any steps, however drastic, it is necessary to take to curb the senseless destruction of public property by kids who should know better.

Day Of Reverence

Editor,
Newton Graphic:

The enactment of a bill to make Nov. 22 a legal holiday in Massachusetts should be approved without one dissenting vote in memory of our late President John F. Kennedy, who sleeps in the Cradle of Remembrance.

He loved honor more than he feared death and he kept the lamps in our Constitution, Declaration of Independence and Bill of Rights ignited, to hold intact Faith, Courage and Trust and warned any foe that the Lights of Peace must not be turned out again all over the world.

Distinguished South American Visitors Here

The Newton Community Centre had as special guests of the Centre on Tuesday, December 3, Miss Therezinha Fram of Brazil and Miss Maria Eugenia Norton of Argentina.

Miss Fram and Miss Norton spent the day with Mr. Bibbo, executive director of the Centre, to learn a bit about the working of a Community Centre and focussed on the use of volunteer leaders at a Centre. The ladies have been at Wellesley College as part of the Overseas Leadership Fund Leadership Institute.

Miss Fram from Sao Paulo graduated from the Catholic University of Brazil. She has served as a principal of an experimental, primary school, university professor of contemporary education and child and adolescent psychology, and has been a girl guide leader responsible for senior branches of Brazil.

Miss Norton, from Mendoza, graduated from Universidad Nacional de Cuyo in Argentina. She has directed training of volunteers for civic education, worked with library and employment services for the blind and been a part of student political organizations.

The program included participation by staff and volunteers in assisting the visitors from South America with information pertaining to their interest of volunteer service.

Hospital Service Of DAY Aux. Head Is Honored

Mrs. Jack Oppen, commander of Chaplain William J. Farrell Chapter Auxiliary, Disabled American Veterans, has been awarded a medal for her exceptional service as a volunteer to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Jamaica Plain.

The presentation was made at the recent pre-Thanksgiving dinner in the War Memorial Auditorium that was attended by more than 100 members and friends of the Chapter and Auxiliary.

City Clerk Monte G. Basbas and State Representative Joseph G. Bradley dropped in to say "hello" to the happy throng.

It was announced that the gala, enjoyable affair was only the beginning of a series of parties to be held for the benefit of the Chapter's hospital work and rehabilitation program.

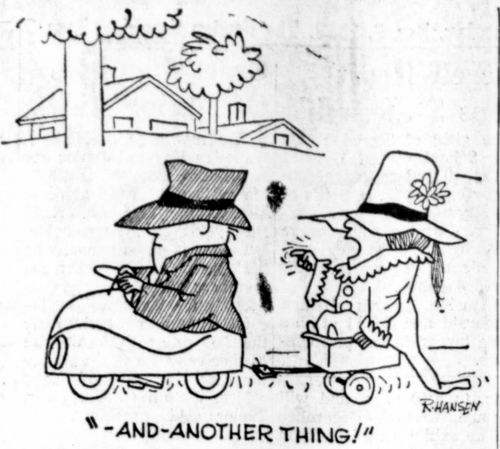

WINTER WOES

by Pinson

One day in his car, Joe B. Dew, (Dead wiper blades streaking his view)
Ran into a bus
And caused a great fuss—

PREVENT THOSE WINTER DRIVING WOES

The Safe Winter Driving League presents the following tip for better visibility this winter from the National Safety Council: "Be sure your windshield wiper blades are in good, live condition to prevent streaking. Arms should provide at least an ounce of pressure for each inch of blade length to sweep off snow, sleet and road-muck. You must see danger to avoid it."

Headlights and Highlights From Newton South High

By LINDA DANNENBERG

Seniors will soon be taking the College Board Entrance Examination Board tests, administered by the Educational Testing Service. The exams will be given at Newton South on Saturday, (Dec. 7.) Testing begins at 9 a.m. with the Scholastic Aptitude Test. The S.A.T. lasts three hours. At 2 p.m., after a two hour break, the Achievement Tests will be held. Each test lasts an hour, and a student can take a maximum of three tests.

The Math Team is looking forward to a successful year, although it lost its first match at Brookline High. The team consists of Bruce Karlin and Sandy Shaw, seniors; Stanley Cole, and Stephen Shaw, juniors; and Jim Horowitz, sophomore. Mr. Manhard is the advisor.

A few seniors have been accepted to college under the early decision policy of the college of their choice. Audrey Biller has been accepted at Radcliffe, Julie Burgess at the University of Michigan, Jerry Durbin at Dartmouth, Mark Scheier at Antioch, and Debby Stone at Smith.

Improvement Of School System To Be Described

Stanley Russell, assistant to the superintendent of schools, will speak on "Newton's Comprehensive School Improvement Program" at an open meeting to be held by the 'Newton League of Women Voters next Monday afternoon, Dec. 9, at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Newton Junior College, Washington Park, Newtonville.

Newton schools are midway in activities under the $226,000 Ford Grant that was awarded in March, 1962. Its purpose was to allow the system to expand many existing projects and to embark on new ones, it was explained by Mrs. Mark Gordon, chairman of the League's social study item on Education.

Mr. Russell's talk will be timely and of wide interest, so the meeting has been opened to the public, and the League hopes for a large attendance.

Tau Beta Beta Guest Meeting December 10

The annual guest meeting of Tau Beta Beta will be held on Tuesday afternoon, December 10, at 2 p.m. at Longwood Towers in Brookline.

Following the business meeting, a most interesting program is planned. The Madrigal Group of the Harvard Glee Club - Radcliffe Choral Society, conducted by Elliot Forbes, will entertain the members with seasonal music.

Mrs. Robert W. Moore, Jr. of Waban is chairman of the day of the hospitality committee, assisted by Mrs. Victor G. Hofbauer of Waban, as assistant chairman.

Newton members serving on this committee are Mrs. John S. Clapp, Mrs. Andrew W. Johnston and Mrs. Harold R. Keller, Mrs. Stanley P. Lovell and Mrs. Norman B. McCutcheon of Newton are serving on the Tea Committee.

Archery Classes Start In January

The Newton Recreation Department will sponsor an archery instruction school starting Thursday, January 9, Commissioner John B. Penney has announced.

Classes will be open to boys and girls 9 through 15 years of age, and they will meet from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursdays in the Newton Centre Fieldhouse, Tyler terrace, Newton Centre.

If registrations exceed the anticipated amount, a second class will meet Thursday afternoons at 3:30. Closing date for registration is Friday, December 13. Forms may be had from the Recreation Department at City Hall daily between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Instructors will be two past presidents of the Newton Archers Association, Moses Aronow and Ben Jackson, along with Eben Baker, field archer and president of Tepee Archery and Tackle Company of Auburndale.

Kiddies At Community Centre On Many Trips

Trips continue to highlight the activity at the Newton Community Centre. In a program paying special tribute to the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy, 50 youngsters from the Newton Community Centre participated. The youngsters appearing on the BOZO TV Show, joined Bozo and Judy Valentine in a special tribute to the late President.

On Monday, December 2, from the Newton Community Centre to the Wonder Baking Company where they were treated to a tour of the facilities and served refreshments.

Today, Thursday, December 5, featured a trip by 50 other youngsters to the BOZO TV Show. The boys and girls appearing on the TV Show included: Christie Athens, Steve Berkowitz, Mark Bernfeld, Stephen Dean, Howard Har-

World's Fair Planners

Blueprint For Fair

Three prominent Newton residents took outstanding parts in the recent New Eng-crease in popularity at the Centre. Because of the demand for the Kiddie Klub activity underway for the first time at the Centre this year, a second club has been started and a third is anticipated. Kiddie Klub is held each Wednesday and Thursday afternoon for youngsters 3-5 years of age. Youngsters enjoy the regular Nursery School facilities and engage in activities similar to Nursery School. They learn to share and play with one another harmoniously.

Parents are urged to make application soon for all activities at the Centre. This facilitates planning and staff in evaluating the needs for the coming year.

In looking ahead, Anthony J. Bibbo, executive director of the Centre, stated that adults may register now for the golf school, cake decorating, and sewing classes to begin in the new year.

The golf school will be the first to get underway. Classes will be held each Wednesday evening, beginning on January 15. The six classes will deal with all phases of golf and is geared for both the experienced and beginning golfer. Mr. Meany, instructor for the class, stresses individual instruction in his teaching. Classes are held each hour beginning at 6:30, 7:30, 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. Those interested in this activity should register soon to insure a suitable class time.

For additional information with regard to activities at the Center please visit the agency at 429 Cherry street in West Newton, or phone 244-2260.

three children, Kaethe, Heidi and Rachel.

Mrs. Fischrom has collaborated with her artist husband in illustrating several of her books.

Illustrations from "The Three Sillies" are on display at the library through the courtesy of Holt, Rinehart and Winston, her publishers.

These illustrations and the work book for "The Three Sillies" reveal the humor and flavor of a familiar folk tale. The drawings are particularly interesting and show the process of illustrating from the artist's sketch to the finished book.

"The Land and People of Norway" by Elvajeane Hall is written with a first hand knowledge of the country. It is published by Lippincott.

"Eggs and Things" by Maxine Kumin and Anne Sexton, one of several books from the pen of Mrs. Kumin for beginner readers, is published by Putnam.

"The Shipwrecked Dog" by Shirlee Newman, published by Bobbs-Merrill, is a story for young readers by the author of several quality books for children.

These new books as well as many others written by the four Newton women may be borrowed from the library.

Miss Donna Mildred Griggs Wed To Henry L. Cramer

There were baskets of chrysanthemums and double candelabra decorating the Sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, Melrose, for the recent wedding of Miss Donna Mildred Griggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Griggs of Melrose, to Mr. Henry Lincoln Cramer, son of Dr. and Mrs. Harold H. Cramer of Newton Centre, formerly of Needham.

A cornucopia of fall flowers, with a scalliped neckline, seed pearls and iridescent on the bodice, and fingertip lace sleeves.

Her fingertip-length tulle veil fell from a pearl crown with lace inserts. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli.

Mrs. Gordon Lewis of Malden, a cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. David Hoyle of Norton, a college friend of the bride, and Miss Susie Griggs, the bride's sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Cobuzzi Bermuda Honeymoon Follows Cobuzzi - Cooper Wedding

Our Lady Help of Christians Church in Newton was the recent scene of the marriage of Miss Beverly Ann Cooper to Robert Joseph Cobuzzi.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Cooper of 112 Newtonville avenue, Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Angelo J. Cobuzzi of 69 Falmouth road, West Newton, are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, pastor and celebrant of the 10 o'clock nuptial mass, performed the double-ring ceremony. The Hotel Beaconsfield in Brookline was the setting for the reception.

Mr. Cooper gave his daughter in marriage. She chose a chapel-length gown of Chantilly lace and pleated tulle. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a jeweled sabrina neckline and long petal-point sleeves.

A jeweled crown, centered with a silk organza rose, held in place her bouffant illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses, orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Anne Wholey of Brighton was honor maid. The bridesmaids were Miss Anne Marie Martin of Newton, Mrs. Judith Kane of Brighton and Mrs. Jacqueline Boucher of Auburndale. Miss Marion McIntosh of Newton Centre was junior bridesmaid.

Joseph G. Cosgrove of West Newton served as best man. The ushers were John Hearn of West Newton, Donald Kane of Brighton, cousin of the bridegroom and Ralph Guertin of Framingham. Donald Cobuzzi of West Newton was junior usher.

The couple, who spent their honeymoon at the Carlton Beach in Bermuda, are now living in Waltham.

John P. Nixon, Jack M. Roberts, Robert Tennant and Mann himself.

Recorded in opposition to the measure were Aldermen Wood, Winslow C. Auryansen, Adelaide B. Ball, William A. Diman, Harry H. Ham, Jr., W. Hardy Prentice, William C. Ripley and Allard M. Valentine.

Mann's resolution reads as follows:

"WHEREAS: On Friday, Nov. 22, 1963, our nation and world were saddened by the tragic assassination of our youthful, energetic, eloquent, beloved, extremely popular President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, and

"WHEREAS: In the short period of less than three years, John Fitzgerald Kennedy has left an indelible mark upon the nation, the world and in the hearts of men, and

"WHEREAS: John Fitzgerald Kennedy, recognized as a worldwide influential power, is a native and favorite son of our Commonwealth of Massachusetts, it is fitting and proper that the City of Newton consider a proper memorial to our departed President.

"NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED: That this Honorable Board of Aldermen recommend to His Honor the Mayor that he appoint a committee of Newton citizens to study and establish a proper memorial in the City of Newton for our late and beloved President John Fitzgerald Kennedy."

Symposium Tuesday At Junior College

An all-day program is planned by Newton Junior College on Tuesday, December 10, in recognition of an event of major significance in the history of the College, to be announced to the public on Dec. 8.

At 10:30 a.m. a formal all-college convocation will be held at the Newton War Memorial Auditorium. Honored guests will join the faculty and administration in an academic procession opening the convocation.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs; Haskell C. Freedman, chairman of the Newton School Committee; Dr. Charles E. Brown, Superintendent of Schools; Franklin D. Jerome, chairman of the Newton Junior College Board of Directors; Robert Sherman, president of the Student Council; and J. W. Wilson, president of the Newton Junior College Alumni Association will speak briefly on the significance of the occasion.

The keynote address will be delivered by Charles W. Dudley, director of the college, who has chosen as his subject and as the theme of the day's events "The College and the Community: Partners in Progress." Mr. Dudley, under whose leadership the college has made its most notable progress and achieved distinction, will discuss the present status of the college and the plans for its future.

Following a luncheon for guests and faculty, there will be a symposium on Mr. Dudley's theme. Four panels will discuss the following topics: "The College and the Business Community," and "The College and the Adult Community."

Among the Newton citizens, distinguished for their involvement in each of these areas, who will serve as moderators and panelists are Mrs. Norma Mintz, member of the Board of Directors of the College and member of the School Committee; Mr. Justin Horan, Executive Director of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; George L. White, President, Newton Chamber of Commerce; Ernest G. Angevine, Newton Community Concerts Association; Mrs. Mildred Reynolds, League of Women Voters; Mrs. Louise E. Bielski, PTA Creative Arts Committee; Donald E. Dionne, Industrial Relations Mgr., Raytheon; Mrs. Worthing West, Member, Newton Junior College Nursing Advisory Committee; and M. William Carmen, Alderman, City of Newton. Representative of the business, civic, educational, and cultural community of the city as well as outstanding citizens, alumni, and students have been invited to attend these panels.

All participants will convene at the Auditorium of College Hall at 2:30 when Mr. Dudley will welcome the guests and introduce the program of the afternoon. Immediately following the panel discussion, a reception will be held in the Student Commons.

The evening program of the day will be a concert by The Camerata, a group of instrumentalists who will present early Baroque and Renaissance music, using ancient instruments from the Museum of Fine Arts Collection. This event is part of the Newton Junior College Art and Music Series, which includes a variety of cultural programs free of charge and open to the public. The concert will begin at 8:15 in the Auditorium of College Hall, Washington Park, Newtonville. The audience will be invited to meet the artists at a reception following the program.

On Thursday, December 12, at 2:30 in further observance, Newton Junior College will play host to principals, guidance counselors, housemasters, and students from all the secondary schools in Newton. Mr. Dudley will welcome the guests and introduce Dr. Charles D. Merrill, Dean of the College; Leo P. Judge, registrar and admissions officer; Robert Savidge, guidance counselor; John Flynn, Dean of Students; Miss Monique Bilizekian, alumna of the College and teacher at the Newton High School; and Robert Sherman, president of the Student Council, who will participate in a panel discussion, "The College and the Student Community." Dr. Emil Frenire, chairman of the Department of Humanities, will act as moderator. After guided tours of the College campus, Newton Junior College students will hold a reception for the guests.

In implementing the philosophy of Newton Junior College as Newton's community college, Mr. Dudley, the director, has sought to dignify the entire program for both Tuesday, December 10 and Thursday, December 12, by a representation of all aspects of Newton community life. He has also announced that interested citizens may be included in any of these events by calling the College office, Woodward 9-9570.

The Curran Comets of New Rochelle, N. Y., arrived in Newton on Friday, November 29, and were royally entertained at the YMCA and in Newton homes, where the players were quartered until their game against the Newton Patriots the next day.

The Patriots won the contest, a post-season Pop Warner Football Conference game, by a score of 20 to 3.

It was a 0-0 tie throughout the first quarter, but after that the Patriots began to operate in high gear.

After the game, a banquet was held for both elevens. The Newton Patriots finished the season with a 8-3 slate.

Basketball Tryouts At Junior High

Basketball tryouts continue at the Warren Junior High School on Thursday evenings for all boys interested in participating on one of the Newton Community Centre squads.

The minimum age for a youngster to try out for the agencies Pony League team, is 12 years of age. There is no maximum age for a Centre team with men as well as boys welcome to participate. Boys up to 16 years of age will begin each Thursday evening at 7:00 p.m., while the older group will get underway at 7:30 p.m.

James C. Callahan, assistant director of the Centre will head the tryouts. He will be assisted by Don Fox, Jim Fitzpatrick and Joseph Wright.

In commenting on the basketball program, Mr. Callahan stated that the Thursday evening gym program is also open to individuals interested in just getting a good physical workout. It is not limited to team members only.

For additional information with regards to the basketball program please visit the Centre at 429 Cherry street in West Newton or phone 244-2260. Registrations are being taken at the Centre by Mr. Callahan as well as on Thursday evenings at the gymnasium.

Season's First Snow Causes Autoists Grief

During Monday night's snow fall, the season's first, Newton had three skidding accidents that injured a trio of motorists.

A tractor-trailer and two passenger cars became involved in trouble at Washington St. and Lowell Ave., Newtonville. The other, Mrs. Mary Michaels, 21 Hibbard Rd., Newton. The former suffered a leg injury, the latter a back injury, according to reports.

Taken to the hospital Saturday following three accidents at 28 Watertown St., Newton, were two soldiers, Lee Ray Clay and Matthew Thomas.

Police Extra Busy With A Rash Of Thefts

Schools were among other places in which thieves plied their trade over the weekend.

It was reported to police Monday that the combination of a safe on the third floor of Newton High School Building No. 1 on Walnut St. had been removed by someone who pried a lock to gain entrance between Nov. 22 and Nov. 26. However, the money the safe contained was not taken.

On Nov. 29 Franklin School in West Newton lost pens, a set of ear phones and a stapling machine.

The house of George Fine, 130 Boylston St., Chestnut Hill, was entered, and a silver service, a gold watch and a quantity of liquor were taken.

The wine cellar in the home of Mrs. Stanley D. Sholley, 221 Prince St., West Newton, was entered and two bottles of liquor removed.

A coin collection and a .22 calibre rifle were taken from the home of the Rev. Sidney K. Bliss, 67 Waverly Ave., Newton.

Maurice Dennison's home at 558 Beacon St., Newton Centre, was ransacked. The losses: a wrist watch and $85.

Police are of the opinion they solved a number of break cases when they arrested a Boston man after his car became mired on a lawn at 131 Wayne Rd., Chestnut Hill. Paul V. Crowdie of Bowdoin St. was arrested when police searched the car and found a camera taken from a Belmont home. The man had a record of previous arrests, they said, and after his home was searched a considerable quantity of loot was found, much of it, the police say, from the home of Robert Greer, 92 Reservoir Rd., Chestnut Hill, and from the home of Richard H. Leahy, 8 Lee Rd., Chestnut Hill. Both homes had been entered during the weekend.

Arraigned in Newton District Court, Crowdie was held in $20,000 bail.

Jaycees

Before the children make merry at the party arranged for them, they will be taken on a shopping tour to Parke Snow's department store in Newton Centre where they will be allowed to choose gifts for members of their families, with the Jaycees footing the bill.

In this way the boys and girls not only will be receiving gifts of their own but also will experience the joy of Christmas giving to others.

Persons desiring specific information concerning this wonderful project or wishing to submit names of children whose families are in needy circumstances may contact one of the following members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Theodore G. Green, 41 Daniel st., Newton Centre, program chairman; William Connell, 367 Albemarle rd., Newtonville, shopping tour chairman; Jerome Michaels, 53 E. Quinobeguin rd., Waban, public relations director, and Oscar Wasserman, 28 Osborne path, Newton Centre, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Committee For Histadrut Affair

A number of Newton residents are members of the committee for the 40th anniversary dinner of Histadrut at Sidney Hill Country Club, Chestnut Hill, Thursday evening, December 12.

Guest speaker will be Under-Secretary of Labor John F. Henning who has recently returned from a Histadrut-sponsored trip to Israel.

Dinner committee members include Histadrut President Alexander Shapiro of Newton, Business Division Chairman Carl Cohen of Chestnut Hill, Philip Kramer of Newton, Ben Cohen of Newton, co-chairman of the Businessmen's Division; Hyman Green of Newton, treasurer; Frank Casty of Chestnut Hill, executive board chairman, and Milton Kaplan of Newton, Histadrut vice chairman.

Defeats

In addition, he will be handicapped in developing an inexperienced team because spring football practice is barred at Newton High but is allowed at all the schools which Newton plays.

Newton South should have enough players back to form the nucleus of a fairly strong squad.

Newton High put up a strong fight in its game with Brookline but was unable to cope with Brookline's passing attack spearheaded by quarterback Kevin Fleming. Quarterback Ken O'Connell and fullback Fred Magarian both played brilliantly for the Tigers. O'Connell scored two touchdowns and a two-point conversion to chalk up 14 points and passed for still another conversion.

Magarian was the game's top ground-gainer, grinding out a total of 129 yards. He also scored the final Tiger touchdown.

Newton and Brookline were tied 8-8 early in the second period. But then Fleming began to bomb the Tigers, and Brookline put 28 more points on the scoreboard before the Tigers tallied again.

Larry Gentilucci, Jimmy Hoover, Marty O'Gorman, Sam Rosenberg, Guy Reynolds and several others along with O'Connell and Magarian played well. But it just wasn't Newton's day. Much the same thing was true at Dickinson Stadium where the Lions of Newton South were being caged by Hingham.

Hingham obviously was more fired up for the game than was South.

Coach Winkler has words of warm praise for Captain Mark Young who played well all season and for tackle Dick Horwitz.

Some observers feel that Newton South has not been the same since Dick Kessler broke his leg and was sidelined for the final three games. It was the first time in more than three years that Newton South has been held scoreless.

The Thanksgiving defeats were especially disappointing to the seniors on the Newton South and Newton High squads.

God's Kingdom Science Church Lesson Subject

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of this Sunday's Bible Lesson to be read at all Christian Science church services.

God's government of the universe and all mankind will be emphasized in many of the readings, including this Bible verse: "For the kingdom is the Lord's; and he is the governor among the nations" (Psalms 22:28).

A corresponding passage from the Christian Science textbook reads: "When man is governed by God, the ever-present Mind who understands all things, man knows that with God all things are possible" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 180).

Style Corner

- PRE-CHRISTMAS REDUCTIONS
- CRICKETER SUITS
- IMPORTED and DOMESTIC TOPCOATS

Jacques — the bright and shining men's wear tabernacle in Newton Corner — is now conducting the following Pre-Christmas Coat & Suit Sale:

ALL TOPCOATS, and CRICKETER SUITS, Originally $59.50 and $59.95 ... NOW $47.50
CRICKETER SUITS, Originally $65 and $69.50 ... NOW $55.50
$75 TOPCOATS in Herringbones, Saxories and Houndstooth Checks ... NOW $59.50
$89.50 COATS of 100% IMPORTED CAMEL HAIR, in Natural Shades ... NOW $71.50
$110 COATS of 100% IMPORTED CASHMERE, in Navy and Black ... NOW $89.50

The reductions of suits are only on Cricketer suits. While the folks at Jacques may have been touched by the type of Fall weather we've had, they haven't gone entirely daft to include all suits in this Pre-Christmas markdown event.

Actually, they want to move out some of these coats and suits before Christmas shopping hits its peak on gift items. And speaking of which, these coats and suits would make a dandy Yule gift for the man or men in your family, ladies!

And if this event isn't enough to make one's mouth water, then hark to the half-price coat event that has also turned this area upside-down. This is Jacques' famous-quality $45 suburban town-and-casual coat, being sacrificed with a smile (gulp) ... for only $22.50.

Buy one now while kindly Manager Stan Marquedant is still dazed and his spell of philanthropy continues for your benefit!

★ For Christmas ... Open Tues. thru Fri. Until 9 P.M. Monday and Saturday 9:30 A.M. to 6 P.M.

Political Highlights

ner of either the late President M. Kennedy. Kennedy or Senator Edward His role has been that of campaign manager rather than candidate.

Many politicians consider him too stiff and unbending. He definitely is not "one of the boys."

While Bobby Kennedy probably never will be held in the same warm affection by the people as was his late brother, he does command tremendous public respect.

Reports have been circulated periodically that he might come back to Massachusetts and run for the Governorship or the U. S. Senate.

If those rumors had any basis of fact and if Bobby Kennedy is interested in seeking elective office, he is not likely to pass up the Vice Presidential nomination if it is offered to him.

His selection as the Democratic Vice Presidential nominee would, of course, brighten Democratic prospects in Massachusetts in addition to helping Johnson throughout many parts of the nation.

Whether Johnson can find a running mate he believes would be more help to him than Robert Kennedy and whether the latter would accept second place on the Democratic national ticket if he is asked to do so are questions which time eventually will answer.

The long-distance guessing is that Johnson will decide on Bobby Kennedy and that the latter will accede to Johnson's wishes.

Hennigan Files Bill For Kennedy Medal

State Senator James W. Hennigan, Jr., of Jamaica Plain, has come up with one of the better suggestions for honoring the memory of President Kennedy.

Hennigan has filed a bill providing for the establishment of a Kennedy Medal which would be awarded each year to four Massachusetts residents.

The medals would be conferred for outstanding achievements in the field of public service, scientific research, literature and amateur sports.

Bellotti Puzzles Political Experts

Beacon Hill observers are somewhat puzzled by the action of Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti in sponsoring a bill to expand the duties of the office he now holds.

Because of Bellotti's political activity it has been assumed that he intends to strike out next year for either Governor or Attorney General.

The fact that Bellotti is seeking to give the Lieutenant Governor additional powers is construed by some onlookers to mean that he plans to remain in that office.

Bellotti drafted and filed the bill without consulting Governor Peabody. That in itself was not surprising since relations between Peabody and Bellotti are somewhat on the chilly side.

However, Peabody could easily scuttle the measure if he doesn't desire to give Bellotti the additional duties and authority which the latter wants.

In commenting on his bill, Bellotti declared that the Lieutenant Governorship is largely a ceremonial office and that it might be wise to consider abolishing it unless the Lieutenant Governor is assigned more responsible duties.

Bellotti's own statement makes it somewhat difficult to justify the action of the Legislature in raising his salary to $16,000 a year and in granting his request for additional funds so he could enlarge his office staff.

John McCormack No Heads Party in State

Speaker John W. McCormack for several reasons is the head man of the Democratic party in Massachusetts as a result of President Kennedy's death.

McCormack fills the second most powerful office in Washington. He is next in line for the Presidency itself if anything should happen to President Johnson, and he is closer to Johnson than anyone else in the eastern United States.

While he vigorously supported John F. Kennedy for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1960, McCormack was a warm, personal friend of Johnson, and, in fact, had been one of Johnson's mentors when the latter was a young Congressman.

Because John McCormack's duties as Speaker demand virtually his entire time and energy it is improbable that he will take much part in state politics.

But he will have an important voice in selecting the Massachusetts delegates to next year's Democratic national convention.

McCormack is on extremely friendly terms with Senator Ted Kennedy and has indicated that he will share control of federal patronage with the junior Senator and youngest brother of the late President.

His relations with Governor Peabody have been strained at times in the past.

Even though he will be spending most of his time in Washington, McCormack's steady hand will be felt by the Democratic party in his home state.

JFK Choice of Johnson Good One For Nation

Looking back now to the 1960 Democratic national convention in steaming Los Angeles, it is fortunate for the United States that John F. Kennedy picked Lyndon B. Johnson as his Vice Presidential running mate and not one of several other nondescript political figures who were hopeful at the time of getting the nod.

It is equally fortunate for the nation, too, that Johnson consented to become Kennedy's running mate. Most of the political pundits at the convention were convinced that he would decline the second spot on the Democratic national ticket since his position as Senate majority leader was a far more powerful one than that of Vice President.

Neither Kennedy nor Johnson, of course, could foresee the tragic chapter that was to be written into history on Nov. 22, 1963.

Kennedy wanted Johnson as the Vice Presidential nominee because the latter would help him to carry the South and because next to himself Johnson was the dominant figure at the convention.

Johnson accepted the second spot because the late Speaker Sam Rayburn had told John W. McCormack and Congressman Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., that any man who sought the Presidential nomination had an obligation to accept the Vice Presidential endorsement if he failed in his attempt to win the top spot.

Rayburn made that statement when he was convinced Johnson would win the Presidential nomination and was using it to prepare the case he expected to argue that John Kennedy should accept second place on the ticket with Johnson.

As a result of those circumstances the nation had a Vice President who was equipped by experience to step into the breach when an assassin's bullet ended the life of John F. Kennedy.

Johnson is rated by many Washington observers as the most effective leader in the history of the U. S. Senate and as the most experienced national politician ever elected Vice President.

President Johnson in all probability will not demonstrate the same skill in handling international problems as did the late President Kennedy. He is expected to follow closely the Kennedy policies.

But he may achieve unusual success in getting his programs through Congress.

Local Glee Club Concert Next Tuesday

The Highland Glee Club of Newton will present its fifty-sixth annual, winter concert next Tuesday evening, December 10th in the Newton High School auditorium in Newtonville at 8:15 o'clock.

Among the numbers appearing on the program will be the Alma Mater of several New England and eastern colleges and universities including Harvard, Dartmouth, Yale and Cornell.

The program will also include compositions by such composers as Johann Sebastian Bach, S. Rachmaninoff, Felix Mendelssohn, Franz Schubert, Johannes Brahms, Joseph Haydn and Michael Praetorius, of which some numbers have been especially arranged by the Highland Glee Club director, Dr. Homer Whitford, a former director of the Dartmouth Glee Club. Besides several Christmas numbers by the glee club there will be the usual audience participation in the singing of familiar Christmas Carols.

The accompanist for the concert will be Herbert T. Hobbs of Malden, organist and choir director at the First Baptist Church in Watertown. Guest soloist for the concert will be Barbara Hardy soprano from Portland, Me. Her accompanist will be Dorothy Hicks, also from Portland.

The ushers for the concert will be high school students representing both of the Newton high schools. They are, Margaret Clinton, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Robert L. Clinton, 511 Grove St., Newton Lower Falls, of Newton High School, and Barbara Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Smith, 25 Bradford road, Newton Highlands, Newton South High.

From Newton South High will be Mary Collins daughter of Mrs. Kenneth McGovern, 23 Woodward street, Newton Highlands, also Nancy Hassell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Hassell, 15 Fair Oaks avenue, Newtonville, of Newton High School.

George F. Brewer, 1095 Walnut street, Newton Highlands is president of the Highland Glee Club.

Performance champions from Daytona to... Riverside

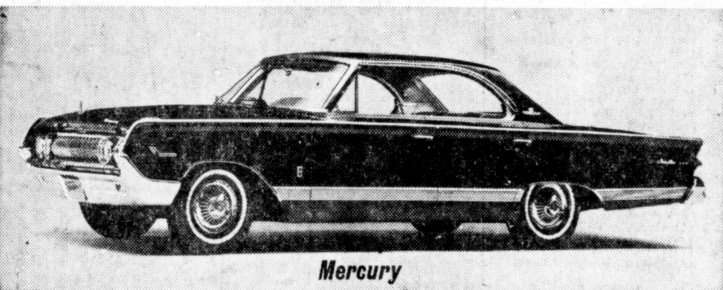

COMET—world's 100,000-mile durability champion. At Daytona, Florida, a team of '64 Comets, specially equipped and prepared for high-speed driving each travelled 100,000 miles, each at over 105 miles per hour. It was the toughest test of stamina and staying power a new car ever faced. Each Comet was driven day and night for approximately 950 hours. For the lead car, only six hours were spent in pit stops for such items as refueling.

MERCURY—proved performance champion of the medium-price field. Eleven times in eight months, Mercurys—modified and specially equipped like their competitors—have topped all comers in the medium-price field... in events like the Golden State "400" at Riverside. The same basic engineering excellence that has helped establish both Comet and Mercury as performance champions is yours in every new Comet and Mercury.

LENNOX Humidispray® Humidifier Automatically Softens Air!

Do you have squeaky floors? Does the "cold and sore throat season" hang on at your house? Chances are your home is drier than the Sahara! And the hot, dry air is taking its toll. It's costing you in family comfort, health and hard cash.

A Lennox Humidispray automatic spray-type humidifier, attached to your heating system, will end these problems forever! And it costs you nothing to enjoy the advantages of moisture-softened air... for the Lennox Humidispray actually pays for itself! It will keep the air in your home at a constant, healthful humidity level. Your furnishings won't dry out. And your furnace will heat your home on less fuel — because moisture-softened air feels warmer!

Chief Perkins Urges Drills To Save Lives

Appalled by the number of deaths caused by fire each year, Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr., has advised all Newton citizens to hold frequent rehearsals of escape routes in their homes.

"One of the basic causes of multiple deaths in homes, apartments, hotels and the like in instances of fire," the chief points out, "is lack of familiarity with potential exits."

"This may sound ridiculous in instances of private homes," Chief Perkins continues, "yet it is a fact that many lives would be saved each year if home owners held fire drills more often."

"What applies to the family living in a single home would appear even more important for families dwelling in apartment or tenement houses. In case of fire, the fire escape routes would involve more people, and unless a pre-arranged plan is in operation, a very serious panic condition could result in unnecessary death and injury."

The chief stressed the fact that routine fire drills should be a must in all homes. He added that in staying at ho-

Planning Big Event

Temple Will Burn Mortgage Dec. 15

An event of paramount importance will take place at Temple Mishkan Tefila, 300 Hammond Pond Parkway, Chestnut Hill, on Sunday, December 15, when the Temple congregation gathers in the social hall to burn the mortgage.

Of unusual significance is the fact that the mortgage burning will take place just five years after the dedication of the beautiful new Temple, held in 1958.

In that year the members of the congregation commemorated the centennial anniversary by dedicating the new structure.

Exercises on Sunday, December 15, will begin at 5:30 p.m., with appropriate prayers in the sanctuary. This will be followed by a cocktail hour, a catered dinner and dancing.

Plans are also being formulated to dedicate the "Golden Wall" whereon appear the names of the families whose recent pledges accelerated the redemption of the mortgage. It is expected that all these families will be represented at the event.

Sunday's gala event will mark another milestone in the long history of Temple Mishkan Tefila from a humble beginning in the South End in the year 1858, moving to Moreland street in Roxbury in 1907, and in 1925 the beautiful edifice on Seaver street in Roxbury was dedicated.

Mishkan Tefila was among the founders of the United Synagogue of America and the leader of the Conservative movement in New England.

Because of the migration of Jewish families from Roxbury into the suburbs, particularly into the Newton area, the decision to build in this area was inevitable.

Many obstacles and difficulties had to be met and overcome, and it is, therefore, all the more remarkable that in only five short years after the dedication the membership will gather on Sunday, December 15, to mark the burning of its mortgage and to honor those who gave of themselves and of their finances to make this possible.

Following are the members of the committees handling arrangements for the event:

Program: David Stern, chairman; Leo M. Beckwith, Abraham A. Bloom, Charles S. Narins, A. Raymond Tye.

Reception: Albert S. Frager, chairman; Alan Axelrod, Norman M. Buchbinder, Arthur Cooper, Dr. Henry Foster, Dr. Milton L. Glickstein, George M. Levy, Benjamin Lipson, Theodore D. Mann, Bertram Rodman, Melvin A. Ross, Jason Sacks, Sidney Shuman.

Reservations: Louis Kaitz and Melvin B. Miller, co-chairmen; Martin Braver, Abraham Furst, Alan J. Tichnor. Printing: Alan J. Tichnor. Decorations: Mrs. Morris Levy. Music: Dr. David J. Baraban. Publicity: Samuel Sacks and Jacob L. Sieve.

Need for a teen curfew, more stringent control of dress for school, and drastic regulation of drinking of alcoholic beverages, are contained in an extended study of teen-age activities in Newton released this week by the Newton High School PTA.

Aldermen Are Urged To Act On Incinerator

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs last night urged members of the Board of Aldermen to approve his proposal for the construction of a $2 million municipal incinerator at their final meeting of the year next Monday evening.

The Mayor pointed out that the incinerator measure was submitted to the Aldermanic Board last Feb. 4 and has been awaiting action for more than 10 months.

He expressed concern that his recommendation had been allowed to gather dust for so long.

"It's time we moved," Gibbs declared, adding that there is a vital need for a new incinerator.

Mayor Gibbs said the old incinerator recently was out of operation for about a week and that during that time it was necessary to use the open dump.

He stressed that the existing antiquated incinerator is not adequate to meet the needs of a city such as Newton and that a new one must be erected.

The Mayor's plan calls for the erection of a new incinerator on Rumford avenue in West Newton.

While the Mayor's recommendation for a $2 million

Jaycee Fund For Kiddies Needs Boost

Are you willing to make this coming Christmas a brighter one for some needy Newton family?

If you are, the member of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce ask you to make a modest contribution to a fund they are raising for exactly that purpose.

You can do it by dropping a coin or a bill in one of the containers which will be placed in stores, shops and restaurants throughout Newton this weekend.

The Jaycees are now arranging their 12th annual Christmas shopping tour for under-privileged children in the city.

They plan to hold a gala Christmas party for under-privileged youngsters at the Newton Community Centre a week from Saturday (Dec. 21).

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Political Battles in State To Start Early in New Year

The 1964 political campaign will get underway in Massachusetts almost immediately after the Christmas and New Year's holidays, with the maneuvering starting on both the Democratic and Republican fronts.

Free-swinging battles will break out for both the Democratic and Republican nominations for Governor.

For the first time since 1938 a sitting Governor will face a hard fight within his own party for the right to stand for reelection.

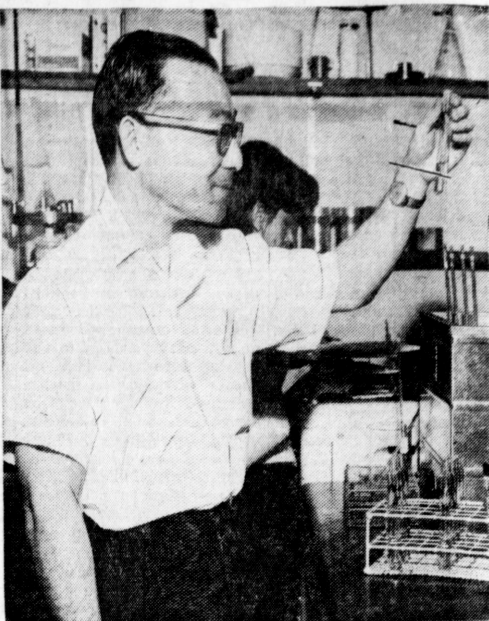

Republican activity will be heightened by the strong belief of many GOP leaders that their party has an excellent chance of capturing the Governorship next November.

That opinion was widely voiced in GOP circles even before the assassination of President Kennedy dealt a stunning blow to the Democratic party in his home State.

Democratic chieftains are conceding nothing to Pay Raises For City Help Seen

A pay raise for municipal employees adequate to cover the rise in the cost of living probably will be included in the city's budget for 1964, The Graphic learned last night.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs reportedly has such a plan in mind and intends to confer on it with other city officials. However, no final decision on the matter has yet been reached.

Aldermen Set To Tackle Dog Laws

Members of the Board of Aldermen will finally tackle Newton's dog problem at their meeting next Monday night—the last session of the year—The Graphic learned today.

A long-awaited plan for curbing the meanderings of the more unruly members of the city's canine population will be submitted to the full board by the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee.

However, funds would have to be provided by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs in the city's 1964 budget before some of the recommendations to be made by the Aldermen could be carried out.

These would include the employment of a full-time city dog officer who would function as an old-fashioned dog-catcher, the purchase of a small truck for his use, and the creation of a pound to which "nuisance" dogs would be taken.

Funds are not presently available for any of these purposes.

This means that the plan the Aldermen will propose probably will not be put into effect before the late winter or early spring of the coming year.

Indications are that a new city ordinance imposing penalties on dog-owners who fail to control unruly and disobedient pets, will be adopted by the Aldermen.

Mayor Gibbs is expected to follow the recommendations

Chanukah Is Observed By Newton Jews

Chanukah, the eight day "Festival of Lights" is being observed by Jews throughout the world and in Newton today.

The event which symbolizes the right to enjoy religious freedom, and first marked by Jews two thousand years ago, began at sundown on Tuesday to continue for eight days.

Candles are lit in Jewish homes every night during the joyous festival. Beginning with one on the first night, moving to two on the second night, and so on until the final day when eight candles will burn in a special Chanukah candelabrum, called the menorah.

The festival commemorates the great victory of the armies of the Maccabees over the forces of Antiochus, the Syrian king, who tried to force the cults of paganism upon the Jews.

The gay season also is the time for exchanging gifts in Jewish families. Children are the recipients of presents from parents and relatives on each of Chanukah's eight days.

Kenya, Africa may seem a long way off to most Greater Bostonians.

To residents of West Newton, however, Kenya is as close as 13 Hillside Terrace, West Newton.

This is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Lowell, and for the next two years the home of Miss Catherine Masakwe of Nairobi, Kenya.

She is a Junior at Newton High School and is being sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Lowell and the Unitarian-Universalist Service Committee. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lowell are active in the West Newton Unitarian Church. Mr. Lowell is currently the chairman of the Board of Trustees and Mrs. Lowell is the program chairman of the Women's Alliance of the Church.

This past Sunday Miss Masakwe participated in the service of the Unitarian Church in West Newton when she gave a reading concerning African independence and freedom. The sermon by the Rev. Dr. Leslie T. Pennington, minister of the church, was a "Salute to Kenya's Coming Independence." Independence for Kenya is today (Thurs., Dec. 12)

Miss Masakwe came to the Lowells last August and is one of 50 students from East Africa now in the U.S. under the sponsorship of the Unitarian-Universalist Association.

The daughter of John Washike, a member of the Legislative Council of Kenya, Miss Masakwe came to this country solely to obtain

Norumbega Park Luxury Hotel

Architect's drawing of swank luxury motor hotel to be constructed on 10 acres of Norumbega Park in Newton. 336-room hotel will be completed in summer of 1965.

1965 Opening Date Is Set For Luxury Hotel

Plans for construction of the $4-million luxury motor hotel on the banks of the Charles River area went into high gear this week with the announcement by J. William Marriott, founder and president of Hot Shoppes, Inc., parent company of the Marriott hotel chain. Completion is scheduled for the summer of 1965.

Announcement of plans for the 336-room hotel followed the recent approval of Newton city officials of a zoning application for permission to construct the facility on a 10-acre section of the park area at the intersection of Route 128 and the Mass. turnpike.

Mr. Marriott, who founded his national restaurant, food service and motor hotel chain as a root bear stand in the nation's capital 36 years ago, said construction on the Newton hotel will start within the coming year with completion scheduled for the summer of 1965.

Features of the newest Marriott hotel will include:

336 luxuriously appointed guest rooms and suites, each with individual room temperature control, wall-to-wall carpeting and free radio and television.

Three large restaurants — a Fairfield Inn family dining room, a Sirloin & Saddle steak room and an exotic Kona Kai Polynesian restaurant.

Drive-in registration and parking for 642 cars.

A large patio swimming pool and children's wading pool.

Private balconies for most rooms and suites, many overlooking the Charles River. Gift shop, barber shop, beauty shop and free ice machines on each floor. A major banquet and convention center, including ban-

Former Mayor Gets $18,000 Position Bid

Former Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., has been offered an $18,000-a-year position as an associate public works commissioner by Governor Peabody, it was learned this week at the State House.

Whitmore, who is affiliated with an investment counselling firm in downtown Boston, reportedly reserved decision on accepting the post until he learns who the other commission members are to be.

Under the DPW reorganization law two of the five members of the new commission must be Republicans.

Civil Rights Bill Has GOP Support Here

Members of the Newton Republican Club have been asked by their president, Wallace F. Forbes, to take an active part in the campaign for Civil Rights legislation and to urge Congressional support for its passage.

In a letter released this week, Forbes states that without Republican support Civil Rights legislation faces an indefinite delay in the House of Representatives. He points out that the Republican Congressional leadership has pledged its support and that hearing from the voters back home will help expedite action.

"Our Republican Representatives in Congress," Forbes stated, "are being offered a rare opportunity to provide the positive leadership needed for early enactment of Civil Rights Legislation."

"While many of us may differ with regard to the specifics of the currently proposed bill, I feel sure that none of us would quarrel with or deny the need for legislation to protect more fully the rights of all our citizens."

Custodian Is Guest Tonight At Reception

Daniel J. Kerr, retiring custodian at the Emerson School, Newton Upper Falls, will be honored at a reception at the school tonight, Thursday, December 12th, at 8 o'clock, sponsored by the school PTA.

The veteran custodian has served for over twenty years and will retire on December 31st. Friends, neighbors, and all those who have known Mr. Kerr during his years of service are invited to attend.

He was born in Everett and came to Newton when he was five years old. He resided at 22 Fuller St., West Newton, until he married in 1917.

As a boy he attended the Rodger Walcott School, which is now the Angier grade. Albert Angier and Daniel Kerr sat next to each other in Kindergarten and studied through the grades together. Years later, when the sixroom Walcott School was torn down and a new one built it was to be renamed "Walcott School."

High School Seniors Eligible for Contest

Talented young artists among Newton's high school students who are members of the Class of 1964 are eligible to enter an art talent contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs and Hallmark Cards.

Announcement of the contest was made this week by Mrs. Charles S. Walkup, Jr., 14 Sheridan road, Wellesley Hills, art chairman of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, affiliate of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

The contest theme, "To Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" may be interpreted in oils, water colors, pastels, or mixed media. Compensation is open to high school seniors graduating in 1964.

Hallmark Cards will provide scholarships for advanced art study to the three national winners. Students whose work win first, second, and third places in the nation-judging will receive $1,000, $750, and $600 scholarships from the greeting card firm.

Mrs. Charles S. Walkup, Jr., said senior students of public, parochial and private schools throughout the state are eligible to enter. Every effort should be made for the student to enter the contest through an affiliate GFWC club in his hometown or school district.

If that is impossible, entries will be accepted by state officials. Entry blanks and other information may be obtained by writing Mrs. Walkup, Jr., at her Wellesley Hills address.

Dave Greenblatt Doing Well In Amherst Sports

Dave Greenblatt of Newton Highlands was one of four sophomores at Amherst College to receive a varsity football letter.

Though small (175 pounds), Dave saw considerable action as an alternate starter at offensive guard and defensive line-backer, and contributed to the college's seven victories under Coach Jim Ostendarp. He hopes to step into a starting position next fall.

Also a good baseball prospect, Dave captained the freshman nine last spring. This coming spring he will battle for the varsity catcher spot.

A Dean's List scholar, Dave is a physics major.

As a co-captain of the 1961 Newton South High School gridders, Greenblatt played under Line Coach Norm Walker, who now coaches at Newton High. Strangely enough, Walker also played under Ostendarp in 1956 and 1957 at Williams College, Amherst's arch rival.

Urges Larger Summer Program In High School

Discussing Newton High School's proposed rehabilitation at Monday night's meeting of the School Committee, Richard W. Mechem, its principal, advocated an expanded summer program for high school students.

He did not urge adoption of a year-round school session, but expressed the thought that there is need for a summer program that would enable the quick learners to go faster and the less speedy to go a little more slowly. It would be in the interest of all-round efficiency, he said.

The program to which he turned the thoughts of the committee members was not intended to involve all students, he explained, only those with characteristics that required either more or less school time to benefit from courses.

Mr. Mechem began by saying that planning must be done on two points, the structural aspects of the new complex, and a statement of philosophy.

He touched only lightly on such matters as the needed space to be provided for each room, then declared that "we must begin with a final decision on our statement of philosophy."

"We see a great waste in today's educational trends," he went on. "The time and skills of certain individuals are not always utilized to the fullest. The notion that all schools should be in session the same number of days is highly debatable. We see the possibility of enlarging it. The number of boys and girls who are fed up with school might be won back by some kind of new summer school program."

"We have to take care of different levels of achievement, and we suggest that we operate on a three-term schedule. At present there are two semesters and a third summer term. Many youngsters, under existing conditions, find after six or eight weeks that they are taking wrong courses. So we should permit students to go through school at different rates. Our plan might permit the slower ones to take courses at times other than those regularly scheduled. Perhaps the schools should be open a greater percentage of time."

"Our major theme in planning must involve getting the youngsters to work on their own. The libraries are seriously overtaxed. We will need considerably more library space. The students would be better off if they had more opportunity to choose their own material. We hope in the new construction we will have a better material center. At present it is loosely organized. A relaxed atmosphere is needed."

The Newton High principal declared that dropouts have resented restrictions ever since kindergarten days. He said that as yet a program to win back 25 percent of the dropouts, possibly by encouraging them to take summer school courses, has not been firmly developed.

Dr. Way Dong Woo, who was elected to the School Committee last month, attended the meeting as an interested spectator. When Mechem ended his remarks, the doctor asked him if he could foresee the time when students are graduated from high school at an earlier age.

The Newton High principal replied that what he looked ahead to was graduation at both an earlier and a later age, depending on the student's individuality.

NANCY R. FARRAR

Nancy Farrar Is Telephone Chief Group Operator

Nancy R. Farrar, a native of Newton and graduate of Newton High School, Class of 1955, has been appointed chief group operator in the Franklin street office of the New England Telephone Company.

She has been an employee of the company for approximately nine years and has worked as an operator in Newtonville and Wellesley and as an interviewer in the company's employment office. Most recently she was a supervisor in the traffic department in Newton.

Miss Farrar also is active in the company's bowling league.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Helen A. Farrar, 11 Gertrude street, Watertown, and resides with her mother at that address.

West Concord Man Gets Post At School Here

Harold G. Smith of West Concord, has been named comptroller for Andover Newton Theological School, Newton Centre, according to an announcement by President Herbert Gezork. Since 1940, Mr. Smith has been treasurer of the E. L. Ham Company of Boston.

He is a graduate of Bentley College of Boston and Northeastern University. He is a deacon in the West Concord Union Church, which is affiliated with the United Church of Christ, and continues his membership in the First Baptist Church of Boston. Andover Newton is related to both the United Church of Christ and the American Baptist Convention.

In his new position, Mr. Smith will have budgetary responsibilities for the school's operations, which total nearly $700,000 annually.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith live at 393 Main St. in West Concord. They have two sons, aged 11 and 16.

To Be Honored

Newton-Chestnut Hill Chapter, American Jewish Congress, will honor new members at the Dec. 18 luncheon to be held in the Brookline Motor Hotel, Beacon and St. Paul Sts., Brookline.

The program, which begins at 12:30 p.m., will include a reception to new members and a report on current activities of the parent organization.

Mrs. Manuel C. Brackman, president of the chapter, will preside. Invocation will be offered by Mrs. Henry Rosenzweig and Mrs. Charles Brown, chairman of membership, will serve as hostess. In charge of hospitality for the meeting will be Mrs. Irving Mishara and Mrs. Arthur Williams.

a message from your pharmacist about protecting your family's health

HOW CAN YOU HELP keep your family feeling healthy during these important months which lie ahead?

Children (and their parents) can help keep themselves fit by following a regular program of proper sleep, exercise, and good habits of eating. Good nutrition includes proper vitamins—every day. If keeping up with fall activities causes members of your family to neglect or miss nutritionally-sound meals, they could become victims of vitamin deficiency.

To help protect your family and yourself from vitamin deficiency, get VIGRAN... multi-vitamins in a form for each member of your family... capules, liquid, chewable tablets, or tablets with minerals added. benefactions for the recently projected $5,500,000 Boston University central library campaign, according to the announcement by President Harold C. Case.

Mr. Sherman's latest gift, allocated to adjoining malls and a two-tier connecting corridor which will eventually link physically the recently completed George Sherman University Union and the central library, was conceived as "both a practical and inspirational gift" by the Newton industrialist. Mr. Sherman is chairman of the Sherman Paper Products Company in Newton Upper Falls.

He stated that the gift of the connecting corridor has a purpose. He hopes that it will usher in a torrent of gifts from alumni and friends of the University.

A plaque inside the connecting corridor will read: "Presented to Boston University by George and Beatrice Sherman in honor of their son, Norton, his wife, Claire, and their children, Amy and Steven."

Benefactions of Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman are numerous. They include: a student center at Brandeis University; the Beatrice G. and George Sherman Charitable Fund, the George Sherman Auditorium, and expanded psychiatric services at the Beth Israel Hospital in Boston; the new Laboratory for Research in Stomatology at the Boston University School of Medicine; the outpatient department at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital; the solarium at both the Jewish Memorial Hospital, Roxbury, and the Recuperative Center, Roslindale; an administrative room for the Boston Center for Adult Education; and X-Ray and technical units and a memorial wall for the new Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for the Aged in West Roxbury.

He is a trustee of the Children's Hospital in Boston, the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, the Jewish Memorial Hospital, the Hebrew Rehabilitation Center for the Aged, the Boston University Medical Center, the Center House Foundation and the Associated Jewish Philanthropies, Boston. Recently, he became a director of the Garden City Trust Company in Newton.

Newton Junior College Is First Accredited For N.E.

With Newton Junior College's acceptance into membership in the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the school, which was established in 1946 to serve the educational needs of World War II veterans, became the first accredited public junior college in New England.

Announcement of the acceptance was made last Sunday by the college's director, Charles W. Dudley, in a statement in which he termed the event a "proud and significant moment" in the 17-year history of the school.

Said Mr. Dudley, "The recognition and respect of one's peers are among the highest accolades which can be conferred on an institution. But," he continued, "the college realizes that accreditation is not an end in itself. It is recognition, to be sure, but in a truer sense it is a stimulus to continuing institutional growth. Accreditation is a good start on a promising future for Newton Junior College."

The announcement set off a series of events lasting nearly the entire week. First, on Tuesday morning, there was a formal all-college convocation in the Newton War Memorial auditorium. Then, in the afternoon, a reception was held in the Student Commons following a luncheon attended by a great number of distinguished guests and members of the faculty. A concert by the Cameraata instrumental group was featured in the evening.

Then, today (Thursday afternoon), the college was host to principals, guidance counselors, housemasters and students from all Newton's secondary schools. At this time there was a panel discussion "The College and the Student Community." Guided tours of the campus concluded the program.

Corpus Christi Holy Name Holds Monthly Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Corpus Christi Holy Name Society was held at the Auburn-dale Library Hall on Sunday, December 8.

Following a light breakfast, president, John L. Vaccaro, called on the society's spiritual director, Rev. Edward W. Beucler, for a few words.

After a brief business meeting President Vaccaro introduced the featured speaker of the day, Rev. John T. Feeney, S.T.D., pastor of Corpus Christi Church. Fr. Feeney spoke on the Supreme Courts recent decision regarding prayers in public schools.

a high school education. There are no high schools or places in the high schools for girls in Kenya, according to Mrs. Lowell.

The 19-year-old Miss Masakwe is a conscientious student at Newton High. She studies every night during the week from four to six hours and perhaps more on week-ends. She also helps Mrs. Lowell voluntarily with household chores such as washing dishes and dusting.

Her favorite subjects at Newton High where she carries a full load, are math and history, she says. She is studying in addition to these two courses, biology, home economics, driver education and gym. English is her least favorite, she says.

What about food? Did she have to get used to American dishes? Actually, no. There has been no problem of adjusting to typical American food, because there is really little difference between American food and the food many people eat in Kenya. No uncooked food is served in Kenya, but there are remarkable similarities between the dishes served on both sides of the Atlantic. There are a number of differences in the preparation of the food, however, Miss Masakwe adds.

What is her favorite American food? What else? The hamburger.

One thing she has not yet adjusted to is the local weather. "I have never lived in snow before or have even been near to it. I am still getting used to the snow we had last week and I'm not used to the cold you have here," Catherine Masakwe added.

In just about all other things the adjustment has been satisfactory and comfortable, according to Mr. and Mrs. Lowell.

"Catherine came to us and has become part of our family. We have become thoroughly attached to her," Mrs. Lowell stated.

"I would enthusiastically recommend to others that they take in an international student as we did. It is well worth the time and effort," Mr. Lowell, who is Branch Manager of the Thermo-Fax Sales, Inc. in Providence, R.I., concurred.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell have two sons, Richard, 13 and Ralph, 11.

Survey Studies Acute Problem

The report of the comprehensive study of teenage behavior in this city released this week by the Newton High School Parent-Teacher Association provides meat for serious local chewing.

The study entitled "The Teen-Ager ('63-'64) in Newton, Massachusetts" was initiated last March and launched as the result of continued reports of drinking, party-crashing, vandalism, and other hoodlums committed by local young people.

A panel of distinguished Newton residents carried out the survey. They deserve the commendation of the entire city.

Recommendations are summarized in a news story elsewhere in today's Graphic. There is plenty of good, hard horse sense contained in the report. It should provide interesting reading for parents and their teen-age offspring.

That such community activity is necessary by civic, religious and school officials is a sorry testament to our times. However, the survey and its excellent report comprise only the first step. The permanent committee suggested in the report should be formed.

The problem is a serious one, in this city as elsewhere throughout the land. Control of senseless vandalism must be established. Other recommendations discuss a teen curfew, more stringent regulation of teen boozing, and some consideration given to more sensible dress habits, at least during school hours.

This study was not made by any holier-than-thou fringe. Those who gave so much of their time and energies are concerned solely with helping maintain an orderly American community.

An orderly community is enjoyed when everybody gives consideration to the personal and property rights of the other fellow. No one is granted special privileges to destroy property or to harass, or invade the rights of others. This important facet of contemporary life seems lost to many teen-agers.

When the youngsters assume to establish laws of their own in direct violation to those of the community and the land, then it behooves the adults to move in with the big stick. The soft tongue appears quite ineffective as a weapon against young lawlessness.

As usual, the great majority of local teen-agers, who are happy, healthy youngsters living within the law, must bear the burden of their heedless contemporaries. It's a further adaptation of the "one rotten apple" truism.

Driving Warning At Christmas

'Tis the season to be jolly, but not while driving the family car in the hectic Christmas holiday traffic.

As a grim reminder mid the happy yuletide festivities, it might be well to ponder the fact that the Christmas season claims more lives on the highway than any other holiday period.

A total of 10,155 persons were victims of highway slaughter on Christmas holidays during the years 1947 through 1962.

Meanwhile, the record of fatalities for the same number of years for Labor Day was 8,705.

A comparison study of traffic deaths for other principal holidays of the year, made by the Automobile Legal Association, showed that the Fourth of July ranked third with a total of 6,860 fatalities. New Year's Day claimed 6,650 lives on the highway, while Memorial Day counted 5,770 deaths.

Last year alone, the highway death toll at Christmas was 805. Labor Day had a record of 670 lives lost, followed by New Year's Day with 485, Fourth of July with 225, and Memorial Day with 170.

Safety experts, police and other law enforcement agencies, urge motorists and pedestrians to realize the great danger of highway death at Christmas, and take part in an all-out drive to promote holiday safety. A safe-driving Christmas is a Merry Christmas.

Waban Doctor Project Hope N.E. Chairman

Dr. John Schulman Jr., of 7 Ashmont road, Waban, has been named chairman of the New England Committee for Project Hope, it was announced from Hope's headquarters in Washington, D.C.

Dr. Schulman served aboard S.S. Hope, the white hospital ship, for two months last year during its voyage to Peru.

Project Hope, founded in 1958, is the principal activity of People-To-People Health Foundation, Inc., a non-profit corporation formed to cooperate in the field of health between people of the United States and newly emerging nations of the world.

The S.S. HOPE carries aboard a top-flight staff of volunteer doctors, dentists and nurses, many of whom serve without pay, who have trained some 1700 doctors and nurses, performed over 4000 major operations and examined and treated nearly half a million people in South-east Asia and Peru.

On Nov. 2, S.S. HOPE left New York City to begin a medical mission in Guayaquil, Ecuador. As on the two previous missions, American professionals will be working closely with their local counterparts to heal, teach and bring better health knowledge.

A Yale graduate, Dr. Schulman has a medical degree from the Univ. of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. He is on the staff of Beth Israel and Boston City Hospitals, and is on the faculty of Harvard Medical School.

"Christmas In The Heart" Is Program Title

A program entitled "Christmas in the Heart," will constitute the observance of the Yule season by the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands.

Scheduled for 1:45 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 18, in the parish house of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church, it will include three inspirational dramatic readings by Hazel Erb, followed by Christmas selections from Italy, Spain and Mexico.

Also on the program will be a camera contest sponsored by the Art Committee.

After the program there will be a Christmas tea served by the Executive Board in the Columbus St. Works.

More Raytheon Tube Business

The next three months will see added Raytheon production in Newton due to consolidation here of receiving tube manufacture that has been carried on in two plants in Maine.

It was said by company officials that the move, to be effective by next March, was the last of three loss-corrective measures announced earlier this year.

The plants to be shut down are in North Windham and Quincy, Me.

by the Aldermen and to furnish the necessary funds to carry them out.

A petition asking for the adoption of a dog leash law in Newton, which has been pending for about nine months, will be rejected although there is some sentiment in the Aldermanic Board in favor of it.

One Alderman objected sharply when the term, "compromise plan," was used in describing the recommendations which will be made next Monday night, asserting that this is not an accurate description.

He declared that the entire dog problem is an administrative matter and that there are now sufficient ordinances on the city's statute books to handle it—if they were enforced.

It was also emphasized that the Aldermen cannot originate appropriation orders to pay the salary of a new dog officer or to finance the operation of a pound and that such measures must be submitted by the Mayor.

Complaints have been made for years by parents about dogs which molest small children in school yards and playgrounds or while on their way to and from school.

Some Aldermen explained that the reason action on the dog problem has been delayed until the final meeting of the year is that any new ordinances adopted would not take effect until the new year and that any recommendations involving the expenditure of funds could not be carried out until the 1964 budget is approved.

Members of the Aldermanic Board have conferred with a dog-officer in another city where a problem similar to Newton's has been met and overcome.

It is estimated that there are about 5000 dogs in Newton.

Also scheduled for action next Monday is a petition by Boston College for the right to build a dormitory in the area bounded by College road, Quincy road and Hammond street.

Aldermen

(Continued from Page 1) bond issue to finance the construction of an incinerator probably will be voted on next Monday night, there is considerable doubt that it will be adopted.

Sixteen affirmative votes are needed to approve a bond issue.

Since several of the Aldermen are opposed to locating the new incinerator on Rumford avenue, this means that virtually all the supporters of the Mayor's plan must be on hand in order to adopt it.

At least one Alderman who reportedly favors the bond issue will be absent from next Monday night's session.

Double-Ring Nuptials For Miss Hamilton Mr. Nangle

The marriage of Miss Marguerite A. Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Hamilton of Watertown, to Robert B. Nangle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Nangle, of 55 Bowen street, Newton Centre, took place recently at St. Luke's Church in Belmont.

Celebrating the 11 o'clock nuptial mass was the Rev. William Morgan, who performed the double-ring ceremony. A reception was held at the Charterhouse Hotel in Waltham.

Mr. Hamilton gave his daughter in marriage. She was attired in pure silk tulle with a full skirt and face appliques. The full skirt terminated in a court train.

A crown of pearls was fastened with her illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and ivy. Miss Janet Hamilton of Watertown was maid of honor for her sister. Miss Janet Welsh of Arlington and Miss Martha Duffy of Cambridge were the bridesmaids.

Richard K. Nangle of Dedham served as best man for his brother. The ushers were Edward J. Nangle, Jr., of Woburn and David J. Nangle of Old Bridge, N. J.

The couple left on a trip to New York City and Washington, D. C. They are now making their home in Newton Highlands.

The bride was graduated from Wyndham School in Boston.

Mr. Nangle is a graduate of Merrimack College, where his fraternity was Sigma Beta Kappa.

Anastasia Kirby To Be Guest On Club Program

The Program Committee of the Newton Centre Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Stanford D. Blitzer and Mrs. Frank J. Linehan, Jr., are co-chairmen, will present Anastasia Kirby in an afternoon program of "Essays and Etchings for Christmas" on Friday, December 13, at the clubhouse at 2:30 p.m. The social hour at 1:00 p.m. will be followed by the monthly business meeting at 2:00 p.m.

Anastasia Kirby is a resident of Auburndale. She was graduated from Emmanuel College, and originated and directed Emmanuel's "Festival of Christmas" which took place this year on the campus in November. The accent of the festival was on the creative and cultural in both exhibits and shops, through research in customs and their origins, as well as practical achievement in workshops.

Anastasia Kirby has had a varied career as a writer, character actress, radio and television personality, business woman, and parent.

Her "Dream of Christmas Eve" has become a Christmas classic, and one of her radio series won a national award for CBS. She was the most frequent guest on the TV program "Swan Boat," and has presented her own original character sketches from Maine to California. During the war she owned and operated a book store, and was also the wartime assistant director of the American Red Cross Blood Donor Service of Boston.

Mrs. Stanton J. TenBroeck, Jr., president of the club, will preside at the business meeting. Serving as receptionists will be Mrs. Arthur E. LaCroix and Mrs. Curtis H. Mosher. At the tea the hostesses will be Mrs. Duncan A.

Ecumenical Choir To Present Yule Concert

The 80-voice ecumenical choir of the Andover-Newton Theological School will present a concert of Christmas music on Dec. 17 at 8:30 p.m. in the First Church of Newton (Congregational) 1115 Centre St.

Dr. David C. Johnson, visiting professor of church music at Andover-Newton, will direct the concert. The Andover-Newton choir will be assisted by the Oratorio Choir of the First Church in Cambridge (Congregational).

Soloists will be Susan Self, soprano; Jenneke Barton, contralto; and Ernest Triplett, baritone. The singers will be accompanied by a string quartet, harp and harpsichord. The ecumenical choir includes singers from the Andover-Newton Theological School, and Protestant and Roman Catholic churches in the Newton area.

No tickets are necessary but a silver offering will be taken to help defray expenses of the concert. The choir will repeat the program on Dec. 18 for the patients at Worcester State Hospital.

Support

Forbes urged his membership to make their positive contribution as citizens by writing to their congressmen to express support for the legislation.

He indicated that communications from this area should be sent to Hon. Joseph W. Martin, Jr., House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C.

Newton High Music Club Concert Tomorrow Night

The Newton High School Music Club will present a concert by the school's musical performing groups on Friday, December 13, in the Newton High School Gymnasium. The concert will benefit the N.H.S. Music Club Scholarship Fund which annually awards a scholarship to a deserving senior to continue musical studies in either applied music, music education, or creative composition. The musical entertainment will begin at 7:45 and will be preceded by a dessert at 7:00. Dessert will consist of coffee, punch and finger pastries provided by the members of the musical groups and classes.

The program is as follows: Billboard March, Band, Klor; Rock of Ages, Hebrew, Lullaby, Girls Chorus, Czech Carol; Rumanian Dances, Orchestra, Bartok; Let All Ye Sons and Daughters Sing, Leisring, Soon Ah Will Be Done, A Cappella Choir, Negro Spiritual; Suite #2 in E flat for Military Band (March) Holst; Come Again Sweet Love, Dowland, The Spinning Top, Madrigal singers, Russian; Brandenburg Concerto No. 2 in F, 1st movement, Orchestra, Bach.

Rock-amy-Soul, Ding Dong, Merrily on High, 16th Century Carol, Girls Chorus, Spiritual; Nutmeggers, Band, Osterling; Gloria from "Sinfonia Sacra," A Cappella Choir and Brass Choir, Pinkham; Thou Must Leave Thy Love, Spanish Dance No. 1, Orchestra, De Falla, Turn Back, O Man, Orchestra and Choir, Holst.

The choral organizations, band and orchestra will be led by Miss Geraldine Seaver, Peter Cobb and Donald March respectively. The program has been coordinated by James Remley, supervisor of music in Newton. Henry Lasker is the Music Club faculty advisor.

Tickets are being sold in the music classes and will be sold on the evening of the performance in the lobby of Building III.

Local Singers In Lexington Choral Concert

Mrs. Charles Woodbury of Newton Heights and Mr. David Clemens of Newton Centre will be among the 125 singers who will perform at Cary Memorial Hall, Lexington, when the Lexington Choral Society presents its first program of this season at 8:30 P.M. on the evenings of December 14 and 15.

An interesting and varied program, mainly of a-cappella music, will be presented under the baton of Allen Lannon, the Society's eminent director. The program will be "Mass in G Minor" by Ralph Vaughan Williams; three Renaissance pieces by Sweetinck, Victoria, and di-Lasso; the Motet No. 6 "Lobet den Herrn" by Bach; four a-cappella choruses from "Cattuli Carmina" by Carl Orff; and the finale from "Belshazzar's Feast" by William Walton. Accompanist for the Society is Donald MacFeeley.

Tickets to these concerts are free of charge and may be obtained from any member of the Choral Society, or from Mrs. David Sykes, ticket chairman, at CL 9-9091. It is urged that all interested persons get their tickets early, since the capacity of the hall is limited.

Jaycee

Not only will the children themselves receive gifts from Santa Claus, but they also will be taken on a shopping tour at Parke Snow's department store in Newton Centre and allowed to buy presents for members of their families.

It is the objective of the Jaycees that the boys and girls, specially selected on the basis of need by teachers and clergymen throughout the city, shall know the pleasure of both Christmas giving and receiving.

At a joint meeting Tuesday night of the Jaycees and their sister organization, the Jayceettes, it was announced that plans for the 12th annual Christmas shopping tour for underprivileged children are progressing satisfactorily.

But it was also reported that the amount of money received to date is only adequate to provide a joyous Christmas for a very small percentage of the needy boys and girls the Jaycees want to invite to their Yuletide party.

So it was decided to distribute containers to 200 business establishments throughout Newton in order to make it easier for residents to help boost the worthy undertaking.

How many deserving children will have their Yuletide brightened by the Jaycees will depend on the public response in the next nine days.

YOU can play Santa Claus to some needy boy or girl by making a modest contribution.

You can drop it in one of the containers you will see when you go shopping.

Or you can make out a check to Jaycee Christmas Shop Tour and mail it to the West Newton Cooperative Bank, Box 26, Newton 65.

The Jaycees will do all the work, make all the arrangements, hold the Christmas party, buy the gifts and take the youngsters on a happy shopping expedition.

But they need financial help to do it. And they will welcome any small contribution you make.

They point out that your own Christmas should be more joyous because of the knowledge that you have brightened it for some family in humble circumstances.

The Newton Jaycee Shopping Tour Fund for Underprivileged Children has been accredited by the Solicitation Control Committee of the Newton Chamber of Commerce.

Highlands Garden Club Holds Christmas Party

The Newton Highlands Garden Club held the annual Christmas party at the Workshop for their December meeting. A brief business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. Henry W. Nelson, preceded the program of entertainment, exchange of Christmas gifts, and Christmas music. Holiday refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Clifford W. Rust, Mrs. Ross E. Langill, and Mr. Walter B. Fogg. The welcoming host was Mr. Arthur C. Douglas.

The Christmas dinner meeting which had been enjoyed for many years was changed this year to a "Get Acquainted Smorgasbord" in October, arranged by the executive board of the Garden Club.

Mrs. Hubert S. Dennie was the welcoming hostess and Mrs. Leo A. Handy the chairman for the very successful dinner which preceded a program of talks by members and description of gardens visited during recent travels.

Mrs. Warren B. Kennedy and Mrs. Donald D. Mackay spoke of Wales, England, and the Continent; Mrs. Ward I. Cornell of New York State; Mrs. Clifford Rust, of Ohio and the mid-West; Mr. Herbert W. Fleischer, of England; and Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Russell of Cape Cod.

Christmas flower arrangements and decorations shown by members were discussed and judged at the November Garden Club meeting by Mrs. Malcolm Russell, accredited judge, Massachusetts Federation of Garden Clubs, assisted by Mrs. Alexander Mitchell and Mrs. John Logan of the Natick Garden Club. The hostesses were Mrs. Allen R. Tailby, Jr., Mrs. Robert D. Dame, Mrs. Warren B. Kennedy and Mrs. Donald D. McKay.

D.A.R. Presents A 50-Star Flag To Scout Troop

Newton Highlands Chapter, D.A.R., presented a 50-star American flag to Scout Troop 219 at the recent Court of Honor held in the First Church in Newton, with some 50 persons in attendance.

Each year the chapter gives a flag to a civic organization to further community patriotism.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Leslie Irwin, Regent of the Chapter, and Mrs. Harry Walen, Flag Committee chairman. Ronald Dean, Troop Committee chairman, accepted the flag in behalf of Troop 219.

A dedication ceremony followed the presentation, at which Sergeant Dietz made some remarks pertinent to the origin, history and display of, and the respect due, the United States Flag.

The Court of Honor was officially opened by Advancement Chairman James Spinks. Col. E. Lake Jones, Clerk of the Court, then called forward Scouts Robert King, Peter Weiskel and Philip Anastasia to receive Tenderfoot awards. Warren Dean made the presentations. A second class award was made to Scout Thomas Kelly by Robert Livingston, and a first class award was made to Scout Nevin Scrimshaw by Clarence King. The awards of rank were climaxed by the presentation of Life Rank to Scout Kenneth Giles by Ronald Dean.

Before conclusion of the Court, merit badges were presented to Richard King, Nevin Scrimshaw, Kenneth Giles, Theodore Brown and Clifton Dean by Dr. Scrimshaw and Sgt. Dietz.

Touring Players To Present Show At Cabot School

A three-act adaptation of Grimm's famed "Rumpelstiltskin" with original music and dancing by Charlot Chorpensing, will be presented at the Cabot School Auditorium at 2 p.m. on Saturday, December 14, at 2 p.m.

The play was originally scheduled for Nov. 23, but was postponed until this week because of the assassination of President Kennedy.

Produced by the Children's Hour Touring Players, the play is directed by Allen J. Savage, with set design by Judd Weisberg, costumes by Anthony Buglio and music by Charles Dittell. The lead role of Rumpelstiltskin is played by Martha Jacobs, 13, a freshman at Brookline High School.

Tickets will be on sale at the door on Saturday.

Church Women In Auburndale Plan Tinsel Tour

A "tinsel tour" of five homes beautifully decorated in the holiday theme will be sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, on Wednesday, Dec. 18, from 1 to 4 p.m.

The homes to be opened to the public are those of Mrs. Allard Velentine, 45 Islington Rd., Miss Anne Bunker, 176 Grove St., Mrs. Joseph Scott, 41 Leslie Rd., the church rectory at 175 Auburn St., all Auburndale, and Mrs. Robert Wilkes, 107 Loring Rd., Weston.

Tea will be served in the rectory from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Chairman of the tour is Mrs. Leroy Faulkner. Other committee members are Mrs. Peter Janis and Mrs. Robert Freeto, in charge of tickets; Mrs. Alfred Mosher, Mrs. William Woodland, Mrs. Robert Freeto, Mrs. Hubert Ames and Mrs. Alfred Marotte in charge of tea, and Mrs. Malcolm Jackson and Mrs. Blake Tewksbury in charge of decorating.

Hostesses at the various houses will be Mrs. Richard Crosby, Mrs. Charles Higgins, Mrs. Peter Janis, Mrs. John Norton, Mrs. John Palen, Mrs. Curtis Reed, Mrs. Gregory Samoylenko, Mrs. Earle D. Wood and Miss Jane Wyman.

Tickets may be purchased from committee members or at any of the open houses.

Ruth Ann Bliss To Describe Her Year In Italy

At an open meeting of Newton Chapter, American Field Service, will feature a talk by Ruth Ann Bliss, who was selected as "Our American Abroad" by the Newton South High School AFS Committee in 1962.

Each year this group, and the corresponding one at Newton High, award scholarships to the two or three high school students to become part of a family in another country. Those who participate in the program find, as Ruth Ann did, that the experience is wonderful.

Ruth Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bliss, 58 Vaughan Ave., Newton Highlands, spent a rewarding year in Italy, living with a family in Milan. There she attended the Leonardo da Vinci High School, graduating from Newton South High in absentia.

While abroad, she passed a year in Rome, where she attended a reception held by the President of Italy. She is now a Radcliffe freshman, and was recently elected president of the Italian Club there.

The meeting to which the AFS Committee is looking forward will be held Dec. 19, at 8 p.m. at Newton Centre Methodist Church, Langley Rd. and Chestnut St.

JUDY ANN BAKER

Judy Ann Baker Is Fiancee Of Peter Myerson

The engagement of Miss Judy Ann Baker to Peter Paul Myerson, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul G. Myerson of Waban, is made known by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baker of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miss Baker is now attending Emerson College in Boston.

Mr. Myerson, a graduate of Newton High School and the University of Michigan, is attending Boston College Law School.

Speaks Friday At West Newton

John Hughes, assistant overseas editor of the Christian Science Monitor and news analyst at WBZ-TV, will give the third in a series of four world affairs lectures, sponsored by the Women's Alliance of the First Unitarian Church in West Newton, at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow, Friday, December 13.

Mr. Hughes, who was born in Wales and educated in England, worked as a reporter on a number of newspapers and news agencies in South Africa and in London.

In 1955, after a year with the Christian Science Monitor in this country, he was assigned to Africa. There he remained six years as the Monitor's Africa correspondent.

In 1961, he took up a year's Nieman Fellowship at Harvard University, after which he rejoined the Christian Science Monitor.

Mr. Hughes has written "The New Face of Africa" and is a contributor to several magazines, including the Atlantic Monthly, the Saturday Review, etc. He writes sections for Funk & Wagnalls International Yearbook, Collins Encyclopedia Yearbook, and the World Book Encyclopedia.

Mrs. Henry Whitmore, 31 Sterling St., West Newton, will preside and introduce the speaker.

Progressive Dinner, Yule Party Is Held

The Newton Community Club, Evening Division, held its progressive dinner and Christmas party Monday evening, December 9, with the first course held at the home of Mrs. Ronald Morse, 20 Larkin road, West Newton.

Hostesses for the second course were Mrs. Robert Burns, Mrs. Black Lynde and Miss Virginia P. Kent.

The third course was held at the home of Mrs. Percy Trundle, 121 Hunnewell avenue. Christmas gifts were exchanged.

Women Voters To Distribute Social Studies Kits In City

A Social Studies supplement kit is the League of Women Voters' latest effort in the citizenship education field. Mrs. Proctor Houghton, president of the League of Women Voters of Newton, announced this week.

Prompted by hundreds of requests received from teachers and students requesting information in the social science field, the League has designed this kit of materials to supplement textbooks in citizenship, governmental processes, and even such specialized subjects as U.S. foreign economic policy and the United Nations.

The kit's eight selected League publications are: "You and Your National Government," "Ideas for Progress Based on You and Your National Government," "Is Politics Your Job?," "The Role of Political Parties, U.S.A.," two "Facts and Issues" reports (one on foreign economic policy, the other on the United Nations), "Do You Know the A-B-C's of Your Town's Government?," and "Simplified Parliamentary Procedure."

Mrs. Robert Wofsey, publications chairman for the Newton League, is supplementing the national kit with the following materials: "Newton—a Guide to its Government," "Voter's Primer," and a fact guide on the U.N.

In an all-out effort to acquaint and make the kit available to as many people as possible, Mrs. Wofsey has already contacted A. William Kunkel, head of the Newton Free Library, who is planning to have copies available in each of the libraries.

Charles W. Altree, head of the Social Studies Department at the High Schools, has also shown interest in the kit. Organizations concerned with community affairs will also find the kit of value.

The Social Studies Supplement Kit may be obtained by calling Mrs. Wofsey at WO 9-7668.

Seal Sale Is Holding Last Year's Level

Hilda G. Hope, executive director of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, announced at the recent executive committee meeting that the returns from the sale of Christmas Seals this year are approximately the same as last year.

Miss Hope pointed out that additional funds are needed to continue the fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases. Those who have not as yet sent in their money for the Christmas Seals are urged to do so in the immediate future.

Other members of the executive committee are J. Ellis Bowen, Miss Helene Breivogel, Francis C. Chase, Dr. Henry Greenleaf, Dr. Dudley Hall, Mrs. George Rawson, Paul L. Shakespeare, Dr. David Skinner, John N. Sullivan, Mrs. David Weisberger and Mrs. John D. Fox.

Also present at the meeting was Marvin H. Burton, associate director Field Program Services Division, National Tuberculosis Association. Mr. Burton congratulated the local chapter for the outstanding work it is doing in Newton in combating tuberculosis.

A board of directors meeting of the Newton TB and Health Association was held yesterday, December 11th at the First Unitarian Society Church in West Newton.

Pee Wee Hockey Makes A Start

The Newton Recreation Department's Pee Wee hockey program got underway with a session that attracted more than 50 boys to St. Sebastian's hockey rink.

There was skating, instruction in fundamentals of the game and a start made on organizing teams.

Heading the program are William J. Barry and Coaches Gerald Butterworth and Lawrence Smith.

League play will begin next week.

ident of the New England Merchants National Bank.

Officers of the hospital elected to serve during 1964 were, George L. White, Newton, president; Philip C. Raye, Wellesley, first vice president; Gordon K. Wentworth, Wellesley, second vice president and treasurer; Richard S. Chamberlain, Wellesley, assistant treasurer; and Ralph F. Taber, West Newton, clerk of the corporation.

More than 200 friends of the hospital, members of the medical staff, and community leaders joined the trustees at the annual dinner, held after the meeting.

Monsignor John L. Parsons of St. Philip Neri Roman Catholic Church in Waban offered the invocation. Greetings were expressed by Mrs. Jean Bowen, member of the Board of Selectmen of Wellesley, and by Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf, director of the Newton Board of Health, representing Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

Following dinner, guests assembled in the hospital's Usen Auditorium for the annual report of the director and the president.

Hospital Director William S. Brines of Wellesley reported that launching of the Medical Office Building held top billing among the accomplishments during the hospital's 77th year. Following months of planning, ground was broken during September for the professional building that will house about 50 physicians in single or shared suites. Mr. Brines acknowledged the assistance of Newton-area banks who loaned construction funds. Rental fees of the building's tenants will repay the loans.

"With the assistance of the Newton Fire Department, we carried out those safety measures which were felt by experts to offer additional protection for patients and for the hospital. Included was automatic sprinkling for the basement areas."

"Help from the Hospital Aid on two Party Day occasions made it possible to complete four apartments for married residents and interns. And there was a project that community contributions made possible—a new parking lot."

Renovations in the cafeteria and the addition of a dishwashing machine and tray conveyor brought wage savings and enhanced the rooms and the service. Masonry repair and waterproofing on the south wing has been undertaken.

Citing equipment additions, Mr. Brines reported that plans are underway for improved instrument service in the hospital, thanks to funds raised by the Junior Aid Association at their Valentine Ball. A new physician's page system has been installed. A combination washer-extractor was added in the laundry to replace worn out equipment.

"We have been blessed with other new equipment such as a Blood Volume Machine presented by our Medical Staff," Mr. Brines said. "Year-end contributions, plus assistance from a foundation and the Hospital Aid Association permitted the addition of a diagnostic and fluoroscopic x-ray machine, and intensifier, cine and television chain. In addition, a comparatively new x-ray machine was transferred to the Admitting-Emergency Unit, where such service has been sorely needed."

Mr. Brines called attention to the School of Nursing's 75th year, observed during 1963, and the beginning of a program where nursing students of Lasell Junior College obtain their clinical experience at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

"We are particularly grateful to the Board of Governors, Trustees and volunteers for their limitless help," Mr. Brines said. "All of us have benefited, too, from the complete and ready support of Newton and Wellesley Town officials and their departments. And the wholehearted cooperation of area newspa-

Newton Meets Waltham Saturday In 1st GBI Hockey League Game

BY PETER RYAN

Newton High School's hockey team faces a tough battle this year as it strives for its third straight GBI championship.

Several key players have graduated, giving Coach

Francis (Sarge) Kinlin a difficult rebuilding task.

Newton, Arlington and Brookline tied for the league title last year. Arlington, which lost only two players because of graduation, looms as the favorite in the season about to start.

On Saturday the Tigers open their league play against a potentially good Waltham squad, with the makeup of the starting team still uncertain.

Three candidates are contesting for the goalie's job. They are senior Arthur Bernard, junior Ken Welsh and

Nurse on Staff Presbyterian Medical Center

Antoinette D. Dow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Dow formerly of 19 Stearns red, West Roxbury, has been appointed a general duty nurse at the Presbyterian Hospital, Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, New York City.

Miss Dow was graduated from Roslindale High School and Mt. Auburn Hospital School of Nursing, Cambridge. Before joining the nursing staff Miss Dow worked as an operating room nurse at Faulkner Hospital for one-and-a-half years and as a private duty nurse at Mt. Auburn Hospital.

The Presbyterian Hospital, composed of the ten hospitals and clinics at the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, is the largest voluntary, non-profit hospital in the United States.

Participates In Korean Exercise

Army Pvt. Edward V. Casavant, son of Mrs. Mary E. Casavant, 68 Pond St., Newton, took part with other members of the 7th Infantry Division in Exercise Strong Shield, a field training maneuver in Korea.

The exercise was a test of combat readiness of forces defending the Republic of Korea.

The 18-year-old soldier is a 1963 graduate of Newton High School. He entered the Army last March and had basic training at Fort Dix, N.J. He is a clerk in Headquarters 3d Battalion of the division's 32nd Infantry.

sophomore Kevin MacLachl. Bernard and one of the other two will stay with the varsity squad, but the starting goalie has not yet been selected.

Captain Dick Valle, one of the few seniors on the squad, will start at one of the defense spots. Bob Toomey heads the list of hopefuls for the other defense positions. Bob Barry and Kim Britt should comprise the second defense.

For forwards Coach Kinlin is relying heavily on juniors Jeff MacLaughlin and Dick Toomey who had sensational sophomore debuts last year. Another junior, George Mechem, teams with them on the first line. On the second line Dave Mullare and Tom Leonard will skate with an as yet unchosen wing.

At this stage it would seem that Arlington and Brookline are the strongest teams in that order in the GBI hockey team, with Newton rated third. The Tigers hope to get off to a winning start against Waltham.

To Attend Aircraft Maintenance School

Airman Harvey J. Segall, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Oxman, 34 Cottonwood Rd., Newton Centre, is being reassigned from Lackland to Amarillo Air Force Base, Texas, for technical training as an aircraft maintenance specialist.

He is a 1962 graduate of Newton South High School, and attended Newton Junior College.

Budget Upset Looms Following Request For School Pay Hikes

Formal requests for salary increases by two groups, the school secretaries and the custodians, made to the School Committee at Monday night's meeting could, if approved, complicate budget discussions, which are at this time the major behind-the-scenes activity of the committee members.

There was a special closed meeting on Monday night, Dec. 2, for budget planning and another will be held next Monday evening, Dec. 18. Also, the budget occupied the members at the executive session to which the committee adjourned following last Monday's meeting.

According to Stanley Russell, administrative assistant to the superintendent of schools and the committee's secretary, the final vote on the budget will be taken some time before the end of the year. Meantime, the members will continue to hold closed budget sessions, at each of which parts of the budget are taken up and discussed, with occasional changes made.

The case for the members of the Newton Educational Secretaries Association was presented Monday night by the group's chairman, Mrs. Rose F. Silverman. Recommendations for the 1964-65 salary schedule were as follows:

1—Increase maximum salary of all 12-month secretaries $250. 2—Grant an adjustment of $150 to all 12-month secretaries who have not yet reached the maximum pay.

3—Increase maximum salary of all 10-month secretaries $150. 4—Grant an adjustment to all 10-month secretaries who have not yet reached maximum in the amount of $100.

It was noted by the Secretaries Association that the change in maximum salary as requested will result in the same hourly rate for both 12-month and 10-month secretaries.

The salary requests were based on the following facts, the presentation stated: A steady increase in living costs.

As representatives of the School Committee, the superintendent of schools and the School Department, the Newton school secretary meets the public at all levels, and bears great responsibility in her role as liaison between the public and the department. The truly professional and efficient secretary helps spread the reputation of the Newton public schools as one of the most outstanding in the United States.

The role of the school secretary, like that of a medical secretary, demands the highest degree of efficiency, tact and confidentiality.

The state, within the past few months, has granted an overall 10 percent increase to state employees.

Salaries paid to the average Newton School Department secretary are well below those paid in other communities, particularly in some neighboring cities and towns.

Mrs. Silverman's presentation included a list of communities in which school secretaries are paid at a rate considerably higher than that of Newton. The communities included Arlington, Boston, Brockton, Brookline, Everett, Waltham and Watertown.

Mrs. Silverman cited the salary differences existing between Newton and the other cities and towns. In Brookline, for instance the maximum pay for executive secretary-clerk is $6032. Here it is $5425. The Brookline minimum, $5408. Newton's minimum $2925.

In the salary comparisons submitted, the differences were about the same in each of the communities.

Robert Robard, president of the Newton Public School-Schoolhouse Custodian's Association, Local 454, presented the recommendations, which were for an across-the-board increase of $300, a 40-hour week with time and a half for all over eight hours daily, and a fourth week of vacation after 10 years.

"If we receive it," he said, "we will still be a year behind the 15 communities in the accompanying list."

Listed were the following cities and towns: Dedham, Lowell, Brookline, Boston, Wellesley, Waltham, Revere, Haverhill, Lawrence, Wayland, Arlington, Saugus, Westfield, Natick and Needham.

In the order named, the salaries ranged from $108.94 per week paid Dedham custodians to $94.92 paid in Needham. Newton, with its salary of $93.85, occupied the 16th place in the list, salary-wise.

Reasons for the request were about the same as those cited by the secretaries.

"We sincerely hope that you will bear these figures in mind when you make up our 1964 budget," Robard concluded.

Committee Chairman Haskell C. Freedman told both groups that their requests would be accorded serious consideration by the committee members.

Custodian

Mr. Kerr, felt that it would be appropriate to name it after Albert Angier, a Lieutenant in the Army and one of the first from Waban lost in the First World War. This suggestion, with the help of Alderman Walker, was accepted and it became the "Angier School."

Mr. Kerr joined the U. S. Navy in November 1917 and served for eighteen months. After his naval service he joined the plumbing business of his brother, an association which lasted for sixteen years.

He joined the Newton School Department on December 6, 1934, and served as junior custodian at the Newton High School for three years. He was then promoted to head custodian and worked at the Administration Building for five years. He was assigned to the Emerson School on July 5, 1943 and has maintained that post since that date.

Mr. Kerr married Winifred Glendon, a Newton Upper Falls girl, on June 6, 1917. They had six children, four boys and two girls. A son, William, was lost in World War II. The Kerrs have 15 grandchildren. They reside at 36 Chandler Place, Newton Upper Falls.

Tonight's PTA reception will honor his long school service. For more information, contact Mrs. Kenneth S. Viass, 12 Spring St., or the Emerson School, 5 High St., Newton Upper Falls.

IT WILL MEAN MORE IF

IT'S FROM JOHN DOUGLAS

colorful...casual...typical John Douglas

This phrase best tells the John Douglas story.

For instance: a rich, bright Fair Isle Sweater with Matching Skirt; a colorful new Ski Parka, or an imported Boiled Wool Jacket from Austria.

Or maybe a new Evening Skirt in rich velveteen that just arrived. Even a fabulous Lilly in new cruise cotton prints from Lilly of Palm Beach.

Or, for him, Hockley Shetland Sweaters that are ours alone; a Ski Sweater in a color combination we designed last April — you won't find it anywhere else. Storm Boots for life in the suburbs, or leather Ski Mittens with the new silk and foam insulation.

Myriad gifts, all new — all with the John Douglas flair for something different.

Everything is colorful, casual, typically ours.

Give the gifts in the bright red box! They mean more when they're from John Douglas.

Water buffalos are delightful characters. But we'd rather see one than be seen by one — which is our own version of Burgess' "Purple Cow."

So, water buffalos being what they are, it gives Jacques great pleasure to offer water buffalo jewelry cases at $14.95, and water buffalo secretaries (Now there's a foolish statement for you!) at $10.95.

We'd probably endear ourselves to our benign publishers if we ever listed all our Xmas gift goodies. But here's a few eyeball-grabbers:

Electric back-scratchers ($5); musical cocktail shakers ($10); imported ice buckets ($16.50) and authentic antique British leather gun-powder buckets ($21.50). These barely scratch (electric-back-scratch, that is) the surface of gift-idea whimsies at Jacques.

Some of the more exotic items in our wide range of gifts are: imported Italian neckwear, $3.50 to $10; leather wallets from $5 to $10.95; Alpaca cardigan sweaters, $39.50; Cashmere cardigan sweaters, $45; Hathaway silk sport shirts, $22.50; Peerless Lanella robes, $35; and Peerless all-wool robes in plaids or solids, at $25.

Ample free parking is available for easy shopping at Jacques during the Yule season. Evening hours to 9:30 p.m., Tuesday through Friday; Monday and Saturday, 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

We shall now stand back so as not to get trampled in the rush to buy Jacques' wondrous Christmas gift items. But watch out for those water buffalos, please!

Nursing Home Visits Planned By Policewomen

Mrs. Mary Anderson, community service chairman of the Newton Policewomen, reported at their recent Christmas party that the members are planning Christmas visits to nursing homes, and described visits and gifts made to their residents last summer and also in October.

The party was held in the home of Mrs. Alberta Morrison, 11 Neal St., Newton Lower Falls.

The president, Mrs. Angelina Henes conducted a short business meeting. There was a report by co-chairmen of the Scholarship Committee, Mrs. Mary Magliola and Mrs. Mary Phillips. A report on the fund drive, which attained its goal, was made by the committee, whose members are Mrs. Kay Constantine, Mrs. Barbara Gassett and Mrs. Henes.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Caroline Blake, refreshment chairman, and Mrs. Alberta Morrison for singing. Other committee members are Mrs. Dorothy Booth, Mrs. Ruth Dunn, Mrs. Barbara Gassett, Mrs. Jesse Jensen, Mrs. Beatrice Kamin, Mrs. Pat Lyons and Mrs. Clara Mitchell.

"Jamestown Junket" Helped By Sale of Christmas Trees

"Jamestown Junket", a Newton Church Fellowship Group, is sponsoring a Christmas Tree Sale, Friday, December 13th and Saturday, December 14th 9:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M. from 7:00 P.M.-10:00 P.M. at the Eliot Church parking lot. Good trees of varying sizes will be on sale to help raise $1900 for their Eastern United States trip.

The group composed of high school members of the Eliot, United Church of Christ, Grace Episcopal, and Newton Methodist Churches is named after the southern most point of the trip—Jamestown, Virginia.

The purpose of this trip, during the April 1964 vacation, is to help build a bridge of understanding between peoples of the North and South by learning first hand about their heritage and way of life, and especially about the racial issue, to learn and explore our country's historic areas, and to live and share as a group in Christian fellowship.

In 1957 the first plans for such a trip were made late in December. The members were told "they'd never make it; it was impossible for high school pupils". The members fought back by working harder and harder and set a precedent by making the first trip in 1958.

Visiting Nurse Board Meeting Stresses Care

The meeting of the board of directors of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association was held Dec. 9 at agency headquarters with Mrs. Albert R. Beisel, Jr., president, presiding.

It was announced that the Visiting Nurse Association will establish health care for the elderly in the Newton Housing Development early in 1964.

Two of the staff nurses reported on their work with premature infants and prenatal patients. Mrs. Harriet Yas, who works in the Nonantum area, discussed the care and development of the premature infant. Any infant weighing 5½ pounds or under is considered premature and must be reported to the Newton Health Department. They in turn refer selected premature infants to the Visiting Nurse who offers health guidance to the mother of the infant as needed until he is two years of age.

Miss Maryann Motherway who works in the Waban area discussed the various aspects of the nurses concern with the prenatal patient. These are the need for early medical care, good nutrition, rest and important signs and symptoms of pregnancy.

These presentations emphasize two aspects of the work of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association, a Red Feather organization.

Women Voters' Meeting Hears Stanley Russell

The League of Women Voters of Newton had Stanley Russell as the speaker at its open meeting on Education on Mon., Dec. 9, at Newton Junior College. Mr. Russell, who is assistant to Dr. Charles Brown, superintendent of schools in Newton, spoke on education in the Newton public schools.

In late 1960 the Ford Foundation gave a Planning Grant to the Newton public schools of $20,000 to study plans for a comprehensive program and in 1962 the Ford Foundation gave $266,000 to put these plans into effect. Mr. Russell is Director of this program.

Six areas were investigated by the planners: staff utilization, grouping for learning; curriculum development; interest for learning; space for learning and time for learning.

As a result of this grant, there are several experimental programs in effect. In 8 elementary schools there is co-operative teaching, a sharing of teachers and pupils in groups. In one school there is a continuous program in grades one through three where the label of grades has been removed. This is also being tried in one junior high school. In another junior high school about 150 children have been selected to proceed at their own speed. At the high school level work is being done to motivate the students in the right direction.

Mrs. Proctor Houghton was chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Mark Gordon is chairman of the committee on education.

200 Friends At Testimonial To Paul J. Burke

A testimonial dinner was given Paul J. Burke, newly elected alderman from Ward 3, Monday evening at Valle's Steak House, with some 200 attending.

As principal speaker, Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti stressed the importance of interest in politics and spoke of the need to erase public fear and suspicion of office holders.

Burke, when he takes his seat in the aldermanic chamber next month, will be hold-

Al Capp To Give International Living Feature

A number of Newton women are members of the Greater Boston Community Committee working hard for the success of "An Experiment with Al Capp," to be presented by cartoonist Al Capp for the benefit of The Experiment in International Living, in Kresge ing his first elective office. He has been associated for a long period of time with West Newton civic and sports activities.

Auditorium, M.I.T., Jan. 24, at 8:30 p.m.

It will be Capp's only Boston talk of the year.

The Experiment in International Living arranges home stays in foreign countries for young Americans, and makes American hospitality available to students from overseas.

The local committee members are Mrs. Donald B. Conant, 325 Highland St., West Newton, Mrs. Mitchell Marcus, 144 Bigelow Rd., West Newton, Mrs. Simon Scheff, 240 Greenwood St., Newton Centre, Mrs. William E. Ginsburg, 46-A Alderwood Rd., Newton Centre, Mrs. George Brewer, 1090 Walnut St., Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Charles Sherman and Mrs. Lloyd E. Morris of Waban.

Boston College Chorale Honors Late President

The 500 voices of the combined University Chorale of Boston College and the Glee Clubs of Salve Regina and Providence Colleges will present the Berlioz "Requiem" with the Festival Orchestra Sunday, Dec. 15, at 8:30 p.m. at Boston College's Roberts Center. C. Alexander Pelouin will conduct.

Guest artists for the evening will be the famed Pelouin Chorale and Donald Sullivan, soloist at the Trinity Church in Boston and at M.I.T.

Recalling the first performance of the "Requiem" in 1836 in memory of the French forces fallen at the siege of Constantine in 1830, the Jesuit university has dedicated this performance to the memory of John Fitzgerald Kennedy. The combined climaxes of grief and hope of the powerful "Dies Irae" make a very fitting tribute to the faith and courage of the late President. The Boston College performance is open to the public.

Pres. Figueres Of Costa Rica To Address ADA

One of Latin America's foremost democratic leaders, President Jose Figueres of Costa Rica, a visiting lecturer at Harvard University, will discuss "Politics, Power, and the Alliance for Progress" at a meeting of the Newton and Brookline Chapters, Americans for Democratic Action, on Monday, Dec. 16, at 8:15 p.m., in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul G. Myerson, 25 Larch Rd, Waban.

Leader of the victorious 1948 rebellion against the Communist-controlled Costa Rican dictatorship, Mr. Figueres served as Provisional President of his country from 1948-49, and then again as elected President from 1954-58. He has led his country through dramatic changes during these years — demobilization of its army, and major reforms in agriculture, economy and government structure — but Dr. Figueres' most important contribution has unquestionably been the establishment of a sense of genuine political democracy in his country. He is constitutionally ineligible for reelection for eight years, but continues to serve as President of his Party.

The meeting is open to all members of A.D.A. Others in the community interested in hearing President Figueres are invited to call the A.D.A. Boston office at CA 7-6547 for information about membership and A.D.A.'s activities as an independent, liberal organization.

RICHARD A. WINSLOW

Newton Savings Bank Conducts Annual Meeting

Arnold E. Worth, 18 Durant avenue, Dedham, was elected vice president and mortgage officer of the Newton Savings Bank at its annual meeting Monday night. Mr. Worth has been with the bank since 1933 and has previously served as Vice Treasurer and Mortgage Officer.

Richard A. Winslow, 20 Exeter street, West Newton, was elected to the Board of Investment and Robert C. Casselman, 24 Hawthorne avenue, Auburndale, was elected to the Board of Corporators. Mr. Winslow is vice president and general counsel of the Boston Insurance Company and Mr. Casselman is vice president and sales manager of the Polaroid Corporation.

Also re-elected at the meeting were Frederick C. Ober of Wellesley, president, and Frederick S. Bacon, 42 Hyde avenue, Newton, and Douglas B. Francis, 35 Meadowbrook road, Newton Centre, and Benjamin F. Louis of Weston, vice presidents. Mr. Louis is also treasurer. Arthur K. Wells of Wellesley was re-elected as clerk of the corporation.

Re-elected as Trustees for three years were Robert R. Amesbury, Henry S. Bothfeld, and William H. Vogler of Wellesley; E. Graham Bates, 46 Central street, Auburndale, William H. Raye, Jr., 425 Chestnut street, Waban, Murray E. Sholkin, 12 Evelyn road, Waban, and Mr. Winslow; Frank L. Farwell and Henry W. Hardy of Needham; and Don J. Edwards and Mr. Louis of Weston. Re-elected as the Auditing Committee were Mr. Vogler, Chairman, Mr. Bates and Mr. Edwards.

Mr. Ober reported that the total assets for the Bank were now in excess of 140 million dollars including the Life Insurance Department of over 8 million dollars. The Bank's six officers are now servicing nearly 117 million dollars of deposits of which more than 95 million dollars are invested in mortgage loans in Newton, Wellesley, Needham and other communities. Approximately three-quarters of a million dollars has been loaned by the new personal loan department. The surplus account, protecting the savings deposits, in addition to full coverage by insurance, is over $10,450,000.

The dividend declared by the Bank was 4% annually with 4 1/4% being declared on Special Notice accounts which now total more than four million dollars.

Top officers from the banks in Newton, Needham and Wellesley were in attendance at

Writer, Radio Personality To Be Speaker Here

Paul Benzaquin, radio commentator and author, will be the featured speaker at the next general meeting of the Oak Hill Park Association, Saturday evening, December 14, at 8 p.m. at the Memorial School. His topic is "How to Offend People Without Even Trying."

As a newspaper reporter and feature writer, Paul Benzaquin has covered many big stories in Boston and New England. Excerpts from his book, "The Holocaust," the story of the Coconut Grove fire, have appeared in many major magazines and newspapers. In addition, he covered the capture of the Coyle brothers, the Bonomi trial, the burning of the U.S.S. Bennington, and has also written extensively on medical and scientific discoveries, and problems and progress in this area. His LISTEN! program is heard over Boston Radio Station WEEL.

Following Mr. Benzaquin's talk, there will be an old-fashioned Turkey Raffle, at which five holiday turkeys will be given to the holders of the lucky tickets.

The meeting is open to everyone and there is no admission charge. Refreshments will be served after Mr. Benzaquin's talk.

WCSA Arranging Christmas Party

A Christmas party is being arranged by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newton Centre Methodist Church.

It is to be followed by refreshments served by members of the Monday Circle.

Following are those occupied with the program arrangements: Mrs. Seaton M. Woodley Jr., Mrs. C. B. Emmert, Mrs. W. Gans, Mrs. R. Fraser, Mrs. G. Megrian and Mrs. V. D. Baer.

The catered dinner following the annual meeting. Also present were Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Sr., Senator Leslie B. Cutler, Representatives Joseph P. Bradley, Irving Fishman, Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., Harold E. Rosen and John W. Whittemore, Newton Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Justin V. Horan, Executive Secretary, Newton Chamber of Commerce.

The speaker at the dinner was James G. Roberts, executive vice president of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce who spoke of the increasing relationship between the core city and its surrounding communities.

Business Date Saves Newton Man and Wife

It was a tragic end to their first reunion in Puerto Rico with other couples whose men were alumni of Northeastern University, but a fortunate circumstance that led Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Jones Jr., 34 Ruthven road, Newton, to cut their vacation short.

Their friends, four couples, perished in the explosion of a jet plane over Maryland last Sunday night, when all 81 aboard were killed.

Mr. Jones, president of Arkwright Mutual Insurance Company of Boston, had a business appointment, so he and Mrs. Jones left the island before the others embarked on the fatal flight.

Jones, active in Northeastern alumni affairs since he was graduated in 1925, is a member of the college corporation. He is also a director of Brae Burn Country Club, active for many years in the Eliot Church, and associated with a number of community affairs.

Mrs. Jones, the former Mildred Shirley, is president of the Rebecca Pomroy House board and second vice president of the Newton Community Club.

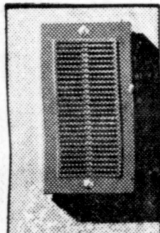

The Porto Rican reunion was a custom of eight years standing, but this was the first time the Joneses had joined it.

Political Highlights

the Republicans, but they sadly realize that the political climate in Massachusetts will not be the same without John F. Kennedy as it would be if he were alive and standing for reelection to the Presidency. His leadership and firm guiding hand will be sorely missed.

Prospective candidates for the Governorship on both sides of the political fence will be obliged to make their decisions and commit themselves before they know how the Democratic and Republican national tickets will shape up.

The Republican national convention will be held next July. The Democratic national convention will be staged in August. That later-than-usual date was scheduled, incidentally, on the assumption that President Kennedy would be running for reelection.

What happens at the two national conventions could affect the political trends in Massachusetts.

If former UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge should be nominated as the Republican candidate for President, it would give a tremendous lift to the Bay State GOP. (It is unlikely that Lodge would accept the Vice Presidential nomination again.)

If Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy is picked as Lyndon Johnson's Vice Presidential running mate, it will help the Democratic party in Massachusetts.

The Democratic and Republican State Conventions will be held next June, and the lines will be drawn for the primary contests before the embattled candidates know whether either or both of those things will happen.

Governor Peabody's popularity—or lack of it—with the rank and file of Democratic voters is being widely discussed and argued by those who are considering challenging him.

Actually, Peabody is heading into a make-or-break period in which his political stock will go up or down.

In his case, the important question is how popular he will be with the voters nine months from now, not how he pectedly becomes a candidate for Governor.

A two-fisted battle is virtually certain to develop if Volpe and Graham are the adversaries for the Republican gubernatorial endorsement.

Graham is a hard-hitting campaigner who doesn't hesitate to express his views in blunt, forthright fashion.

The feeling between Graham and Volpe was somewhat on the cool side when the latter was Governor, with the two differing sharply on many matters.

The struggle for the Republican nomination for Governor will be settled at the GOP State Convention in June.

But the real fight for the right to run as the Democratic nominee for Governor will be waged in the primary next September.

With the tremendous patronage power he now possesses as a result of the reorganization of the State Public Works Department Governor Peabody is virtually certain to be endorsed for a second term by the Democratic State Convention.

Whether he will be equally successful in an open primary is a question which will not be answered until the returns are tabulated.

Middlesex County District Attorney John J. Droney is the only Democrat who has definitely committed himself to opposing Peabody.

Others are contemplating such a move but have not made a final decision.

Whether Droney cleared it with the late President Kennedy before publicly announcing his candidacy for Governor probably will never be known.

Droney was active in Kennedy's campaign for Congress and the U. S. Senate, and it was Kennedy who persuaded ex-Governor Foster Furcolo to appoint Droney as District Attorney after the resignation of James L. O'Dea, Jr.

It's entirely possible, of course, that Droney tossed his hat into the gubernatorial ring without informing President Kennedy of what he planned to do.

Many politicians doubt that, however. They are disposed to the belief that Droney told the late President or one of the latter's lieutenants of his intentions and, in turn, was informed that JFK would maintain a hands-off attitude toward any clash within the Democratic party for the nomination for Governor.

Peabody, incidentally, was seeking the appointment as Middlesex County district attorney at the time Kennedy interceded with Furcolo for Droney.

State Treasurer John T. Driscoll and Lieutenant Governor Francis X. Bellotti both are potential candidates against Peabody as is State Senator Kevin B. Harrington of Salem who was Peabody's floor manager at the 1962 Democratic State Convention but who has since become disenchanted with the Governor.

Bellotti's political activity has created the impression in some quarters that he will seek to move up the political ladder next year.

Driscoll has devoted himself strictly to his duties as State Treasurer but would be an extremely formidable contender if he decided to strike out for the Governorship.

Most Beacon Hill observers lean to the assumption that both Bellotti and Driscoll will be candidates for reelection next year and will delay their bids for higher office until some time in the future.

A factor which might cause Bellotti and Driscoll to revise their political timetables is that Boston Mayor John F. Collins undoubtedly will be a candidate for either Governor or U. S. Senator in 1966.

State Senator Harrington will probably await developments in the early months of 1964 before deciding on whether he will challenge Peabody. His decision could hinge on whether Peabody's political fortunes appear to be rising or falling.

State Senator James W. Hennigan, Jr., is moving steadily ahead in his quest for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

A political figure whose plans are the subject of increasing conjecture is former Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr., nephew of Speaker John W. McCormack, now next in line for the Presidency.

McCormack, who is busily practicing law, has not revealed whether he is interested in returning to the political wars.

quet kitchen, exhibit concourse and a large ballroom.

"Our Newton hotel will be of highly distinctive design and decor with extensive landscaping keyed to the natural river-front beauty of the site," Mr. Marriott said.

"We are grateful for the privilege of becoming a part of the Newton community, and our hotel and its operations will be in the best of taste and, in every way, an asset to the gracious tradition of this historic Massachusetts city."

The Newton Marriott will be the sixth major hotel in the hotel chain. The company currently operates large luxury motor hotels in Washington, D.C. — the Twin Bridges and Key Bridge hotels — Philadelphia and Dallas. In addition, a $7 million Marriott hotel currently is under construction in downtown Atlanta, Georgia.

The Marriott Motor Hotels, headed by J. Willard Marriott, Jr., vice president of Hot Shoppes, are a division of Hot Shoppes established in 1956 with the opening of the Marriott Twin Bridges Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Sports Active Though Football Season Ended

With football virtually relegated to the past, until next fall, anyway, there was no dearth of news this past week for the followers of sports in Newton.

Local enthusiasts had no reason to rejoice in news of two contests played at Exeter, N. H. In one, Exeter Academy defeated Newton High School's basketball team 64-53. It was the season's opener for both sides. In the other, Newton High's hockey team went down to a 12 to 2 defeat at the hands of the Exeter Academy pucksters.

However, all news was by no means bad, the girls of Our Lady's High School chalked up a 29 to 13 victory over Sacred Heart of Weymouth in Catholic League basketball contest.

Other news easy to take locally was that of Newton Tech's 46-45 win over River Country Day of Weston in a hoop affair played away from home. Newton was on the brink of defeat, but came from behind just before the game ended when Gordon Pendleton scored.

Area Police Discuss War On Robberies

Plans to combat the growing number of bank robberies in the Metropolitan Boston area were discussed at a seminar for law enforcement officers called by the FBI Boston office and held last week in the Newton Centre War Memorial Building.

The 75 officers who attended were welcomed by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell introduced Thomas Jenkins, FBI agent in charge, and Special Agent Thomas McLaughlin.

The agents pointed out that the number of bank robberies in the area had doubled in the past five months. Aim of the meeting, they said, was to attack the problem by co-ordinating investigations with the view to effecting solutions and cutting the number of incidents.

Newton officers at the three hour session included Capt. William J. Burke, Lt. William F. Quinn, Sgts. James E. Halloran, Walter D. Drew, John J. Regan, Robert F. Mahoney and Paul Donahue.

Also, Inspectors Richard J. Bagley, James V. Cox and John B. Shorton, and Patrolman Raymond J. Thibault.

SAI Concert On Sta. WERS-FM

Jacqueline Willens Arons, pianist, of Newton Highlands, and Marilyn Schwaner, violinist, of West Natick, will play Handel's Sonata No. 4 in D for violin and piano on Monday, Dec. 16, at 8:05 p.m. over Station WERS-FM, 88.9 kilocycles.

They will be among performers in a concert by Sigma Alpha Iota, a national professional musical fraternity for women.

On that same day, Newton's Sacred Heart took a 63 to 35 beating from St. Mary's High in a game at the Bishop MacKenzie Athletic Center.

Newton Junior College's loss by 90-62 to Quincy Junior College was the only news last week at the local institution that was other than wonderful. It came two days prior to the announcement that Newton was the first junior college in New England to attain accreditation from the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Coach George Winkler of Newton South High's eleven announced that Tom Lopez, who did extremely well last fall at left end, had been elected captain of the 1964 team.

Takes Course In Top Management

Alan S. Axelrod, of 36 Clifton Rd., Newton Centre, vice president and general manager of Airdale Worsted Mills, Inc., Boston, has been graduated from the 44th session of the Advanced Management Program at Harvard University Graduate School of Business Administration.

The program, one of the oldest senior management development courses conducted by a university, has been in continuous operation since its beginning in 1943.

Participants are nominated and sponsored by their companies and have been selected by the admission board on the basis of demonstrated ability. The 13-week course is particularly designed for men 36 to 50 years of age who are in top management posts or likely to be there in the near future.

Franziska K. Plendl of 170 Chestnut street, West Newton, a Newton High School graduate, has been accepted for admission to Bay State School of Business, Boston.

Junior College Cagers In Split

Newton Junior College's basketball team had a win and a loss last week, defeating Cambridge School of Business 60-57, and dropping a 62-90 decision to a powerful Quincy Junior College five.

The Cambridge game was one of the most dramatic in Junior College history. Cambridge led by a 29-28 score at half-time and built a 54-44 advantage when Newton started a scoring spree in the last nine minutes.

Newton outscored Cambridge 16-3 during this period to gain the 60-57 victory.

Gerry Carpluk and Ted Pleuler came off the bench to spark Newton. Carpluk hit four straight from the floor, while Pleuler stole the ball several times and was a stalwart on defense. Jerry Gladstone had 13 points and 15 rebounds. Bob Pentz scored 17 to top all scorers.

Quincy completely overpowered Newton in Newton High gym, although the local boys made a fair game of it during the first half.

Jerry Gladstone led Newton with 15 points. Gerry Carpluk had 12, Bob Pentz had 11 and Bob Levin had 10.

The split gave Newton a 2-3 record. Last year, the team went four games before getting a victory.

Speaker Stresses Bold New Look At Medical Education

Speaking at the recent annual meeting of Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Dr. John H. Knowles of Brookline, general director of Massachusetts General Hospital, urged a bold new approach to medical education.

Discussing "The Teaching Community Hospital and the Academic Ideal," he cited a problem inherent in any profession, and of critical interest to the profession of medicine.

It concerns the continuing education of the practicing physician, and the distance that has grown between doctors busy with the practice of medicine and doctors engaged principally in the teaching of medicine.

He cited the medical education program of Newton-Wellesley Hospital as an outstanding example of the "academy approach," the kind of teaching situation that must be developed.

"We have the physician leaving the 'gown'—the medical school and its large teaching hospital—to set up a practice in the 'town'—where lies all the exigencies and expediencies of medical practice," he said.

The practicing physician finds less time for educational programs, since he must devote more time to his practice. That doctor is the "doer." His counterpart in the "gown" is teaching and research-oriented, and his means of "doing" are sophisticated.

"The need," according to Doctor Knowles, "is to borrow the best from both worlds, to bring 'gown' and 'town' together in the community hospital, so the best in scientific knowledge is coupled with the best in patient care."

To accomplish that, Dr. Knowles cited two developments. "One is the increasing interchange of house staff between teaching hospital and community hospital, creating an environment where doctors on the staff of each hospital become more fully acquainted with the problems and achievements of the other."

"The second concerns appointment of a physician in the community hospital to serve as Director of Medical Education. Programs then can be developed where physicians not only handle the heavy demands of patients, but have opportunities as well for study and reflection."

"Both programs would permit the university hospital to extend its influence beyond its own walls, and would bring the practicing doctor back into the educational setting from whence his career began. The enduring values would be a fuller addition to the body of medical knowledge, and would increase the contributions both of the community and the university hospital."

Local Men Will Have Top Roles In Hub Meeting

Local residents will play prominent roles in the statewide meeting of Certified Public Accountants to be held Tuesday night, December 17, at the Parker House, Boston, at 6:30 o'clock.

Serving on the committee are: Alan M. Edelstein, of Waban; and Jason H. Wolf, of Newton Highlands.

The meeting will discuss the "Effect of the 1963 Revenue Act on Current Tax Planning."

Spiritual Christmas To Be Observed Here

Christmas, 1963, will be observed in Newton with all the revered and age-old traditions which celebrate the Birthday of the Babe Who was born in a drafty stable behind a crowded inn in the little town of Bethlehem.

The colored lights will gleam their message of cheer on Christmas Eve, and the carols which never grow old will echo through the winter night.

Bond Issue For Incinerator Is Approved Here

A $2 million bond issue and a $72,000 appropriation order were approved by the members of the Board of Aldermen at their final meeting of the year Monday night to clear the way for the erection of a new municipal incinerator on Rumford avenue in West Newton, near the Waltham line.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, who expressed his delight with the Aldermanic action and termed it "a tremendous step forward for Newton's housekeeping facilities," declared that he would move immediately

Early Deadline For Next Issue

Because of the Christmas Holiday next Wednesday it will be necessary to request early news and advertising copy for the next issue of The Graphic.

The bulk of such copy should be received on Saturday, if possible, with a deadline set for Monday at noon for news copy. The newspaper will reach readers as usual on Thursday but the Wednesday holiday compels the advance date for copy.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

John McCormack Well Fitted To Assume Presidential Post

If Speaker John W. McCormack isn't the best qualified person to step into the Presidency in the event anything happened to Lyndon Johnson, it would be difficult to figure out who is.

That's why objective observers of the political scene can't quite understand what is behind the attacks levelled at McCormack by certain self-anointed pundits.

When a law was enacted back in 1947 providing that the Speaker of the national House of Representatives would be next in line for the Presidency, there was no outcry of protest.

An extraordinary situation was created at that time. Harry S. Truman had taken over the Presidential reins upon the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt. There was no Vice President. Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., was Speaker of the national House as a result of the Republican wave which rolled across the nation in 1946.

Had Truman died in either 1947 or 1948, he would

"Iron Mike" Galvin Rests In Arlington

Major General Michael J. Galvin, of Newton, New England's most highly decorated military commander was laid to rest with full military honors this past Tuesday at Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia.

He died on Thursday, December 12, at the Soldiers Home in Chelsea. He was 56 years old.

Born in the shadow of Bunker Hill on Monument street, Charlestown, "Iron Mike," as he was known during his days as an armored commander in World War II, lived his life in the tradition of duty, honor and country.

A statesman and an author, as well as a soldier, Galvin was Massachusetts State Senator from Brookline-Newton-Brighton at the time of his death. He won this in a stunning victory last November.

It was his first elected post, although he served in public office as Under Secretary of Labor (1949-1953) with former President Harry S. Truman and as an Ambassador-at-large under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The Harry S. Truman Memorial Library in Independence, Missouri has requested the General's personal papers for permanent display.

His activities as a state senator brought him considerable recognition. Paralyzed from the waist down since Labor Day, he nevertheless appeared in the Senate Chambers in October on three successive days to fight for passage of DPW

Election To Fill Galvin's Seat Planned

A special election will be held in late February or early March to fill the vacancy created in the State Senate by the death of Michael J. (Iron Mike) Galvin of Newton who died of cancer at the Chelsea Soldiers Home last Thursday at the age of 56.

Newton Pioneers Physical Fitness Small Fry Project

The image of the slouching American youngster who uses his seat more than his feet may rapidly be changed by 600 pupils in the Franklin Elementary School in West Newton.

An improvement of 50 per cent in physical fitness tests in grades one through six at the Franklin School was the result at the end of the first year of an intensive three year physical education pilot program, launched last year by Boston University's Sargent College and the Newton School Department.

The Franklin School project, which may set new standards in physical education in American elementary schools, is one of the first of its kind in the country, according to Dean George K. Makechnie of Sargent College and Miss Helene Breivogel, supervisor of physical education in the Newton School Department and an alumna of Sargent College.

The program, according to Dean Makechnie, has two main objectives. First, to bring youngsters failing to achieve national norms for physical fitness up to the norm with a remedial program and second, to provide the maximum amount of physical activity for every child to raise the general level of physical fitness.

Launching of the program was prompted by the critical report and recommendations of the President's Council on Youth Fitness in 1961 and by the fact that 4,000 Newton youngsters showed poor results in fitness tests.

Sargent College is assigning two physical education majors for eight week blocks over a three-year period to carry out the intensive program, in remedial and regular physical fitness, Dean Makechnie explained.

This two pronged program attributes its initial success

$470,535 Revenue Increase Here In '64

Newton stands to gain nearly a half million dollars in 1964 from changes in state-local tax distribution, according to estimates made by the Newton Taxpayers Association.

Mail Address For Kennedy Memorial

Postmaster Ephraim Martin announced today that, due to the substantial volume of mail being received and the number of inquiries as to how this mail should be addressed, the proper address for the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library Fund is:

John F. Kennedy Memorial Library Fund, Post Office Box 2500 Boston, Mass. 02107.

The group points to "windfall" accelerated tax collections from corporations of $255,000, and library aid paid from the General Fund instead of being taken off the top of locally shared state income tax, with a resulting revenue increase of $32,235.

Against those increases are revenue losses as follows: Abolition of the poll tax, $52,000; income tax deductions for students over 18, $19,700, and property tax abatement for certain elderly persons, $15,000, a total of $86,700.

The net revenue increase looked for by the Taxpayers

Aldermen Vote Plan For Control Of Unruly Dogs

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs is planning to carry out as promptly as possible a plan recommended by the Board of Aldermen Monday night for controlling nuisance and unruly dogs in the city.

Two of the steps advocated by the Aldermen, as predicted in last week's Graphic, are the appointment of a dog-catcher and the establishment of a dog pound.

The dog-catcher would be furnished with a butterfly net with which to swoop up the misbehaving canines and a truck in which to haul them off to the pound.

How soon it would be possible to engage a qualified dog-officer and set up a pound is uncertain.

However, Mayor Gibbs declared last night that he recognizes that there is a dog problem in the city and that he will take the necessary steps to correct it.

A provision in a new city ordinance adopted by the Aldermen bars dogs from schools, school yards and recreation areas. The purpose of that regulation is to prevent the animals from molesting children.

The dog-officer would be authorized to order a dog restrained or muzzled if it were found in one of these places. A petition for the adoption of a dog leash law in Newton was rejected by the Aldermanic Board.

The substitute plan designed to control dogs was approved by a 22-0 vote. The two absentees were Aldermen William Carmen and William M. Glovsky.

Dog-owners would pay most of the costs involved in enforcing the new ordinance.

The cost of dog license fees would be increased by $1, with the license charge for a male or spayed female going from $2 to $3 and the license fee for females raised from $5 to $6 per year.

In addition, it is anticipated that some revenue would be realized from $10 fines which would be imposed on dog-owners who fail to comply with the orders of the dog-officers.

The money received from the higher license fees plus the fines should make the new dog program pretty nearly self-sustaining, it is believed.

Chairman Harry H. Ham, Jr., of the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee, who reported out the committee's recommendations for meeting the city's dog problem, said it is the committee's opinion that Newton's 5000 or more dogs present a problem that is administrative rather than legislative in nature and that the appointment of a dog officer appears to be the logical solution.

Ham asserted that both the members of his committee and other municipal officials agree that the city veterinarian who is technically responsible for enforcing the dog regulations, cannot give sufficient time to the city's dog problem because of his multiple duties. He pointed out that the veterinarian is also the inspector of animals and the slaughter inspector.

In the absence of an active dog-catcher, Ham said, the laws covering the conduct of dogs in Newton have not been effectively enforced.

One section of the ordinance adopted at Monday night's Aldermanic meeting specified that if any person makes a complaint in writing to the dog officer that any dog is a nuisance because of a vicious disposition, excessive barking or other disturbance, the dog officer shall make an investigation and may order the animal muzzled or restrained.

Newton Girl Winner

Miss Jane Glenda Shuster, of Newton, a sophomore at Boston University, has been awarded a $500 scholarship.

The Newton student, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shuster of 672 Centre street, received the first annual Boston Taxi Industry Award of the $500 scholarship.

Miss Shuster, a graduate of Newton High School, was presented the award by Dean Horatio M. LaFauci. The Newton girl is a student at the University's College of Basic Studies.

The scholarships will be presented annually to quali-

Safe Skating Areas Flooded Over Weekend

The arrival here of freezing winter temperatures over the week-end sent the maintenance crew of the Newton Recreation Department into action to provide safe skating for the city's youngsters.

Crew members under the supervision of Frank Shea, Recreation foreman, were out Sunday night flooding the city's skating areas.

The following blackout areas were flooded: Williams School, Davis School, Pierce School, Boyd Playground, Lower Falls Playground, Upper Falls Playground, Stearns School, Highlands Playground, Memorial School.

The following playground areas were sprayed also: Albenmarle, Burr, Franklin School. Scheduled to be flooded are Ward School, South High School and Spaulding School.

Crystal Lake and Bullough's Pond should be in operation Tuesday, after one more night

Aldermen In Okay For New Hotel Height

Permission to raise the height of the Norumbega Park motel buildings to 88 feet, and an extension of time from six months to 12 months for the start of construction of the $4,000,000 motel complex by Marriott Motor Hotels of Newton, Inc., were among matters approved Monday night by the Board of Aldermen.

The vote was 22 to 0, with Aldermen William Carmen and William M. Glovsky the only absentees.

Also approved by a 23-0 vote was a petition of the Boston College trustees for permissive use to replace the existing St. Joseph's Hall dormitory with three new dormitories with restrictions designed by the Claims and Rules committee in response to objections on the part of neighboring residents.

Chairman Harry H. Ham Jr., reported that the neighbors and college officials had arrived at an agreement after numerous conferences. Alderman William Carmen had joined the meeting when this matter was taken up and voted in favor of the petition.

One Man Art Display

Edward Brodney, noted Newton artist, is currently holding an exhibition of his works in Boston.

Twenty-seven original paintings by the artist are currently displayed at the new Brodney Art Gallery on Boylston street, in Boston.

One of the appreciative viewers of the exhibit this week was the First Lady of the Commonwealth, Mrs. Toni Peabody.

The Newton artist created the impressive war memorial mural which hangs in the State House on Beacon Hill. Other specimens of his brush have been viewed in the National Gallery in Washington, as well as at other well known galleries.

Newton High Hockey Squad Meets Rindge

BY PETER RYAN

Newton High School's hockey team, which got off to a winning start in GBI League competition with a 3-1 victory over Waltham High last Saturday, meets Rindge Tech this week.

Two quick goals by Dick Toomey in the closing seconds of the first period were the margin as Newton bested Waltham. George Mechem scored the clinching goal, with only five seconds remaining in the game which was the season-opener for both teams.

Waltham went into a 10 lead after a little more than five minutes of play when Tom Kelley took a pass from Dave Cruso and flipped it over Newton goalie Ken Welch who was flat on the ice.

Late in the period Toomey picked up the puck at his own end of the rink and started a rush. He swept around the Waltham defense and fired it past the Waltham goalie with only eight seconds left in the quarter.

After Jeff MacLaughlin flipped the puck to the Waltham end of the rink on the faceoff, George Mechem fed it out to Toomey who again drove it home with but two seconds to go in the period, it was Toomey's second goal in a space of approximately six seconds.

There was no further scoring until Mechem broke past the defense and back-handed the puck into the nets with but five seconds of play remaining.

Galvin Is Cited By Aldermen

Brig. Gen. "Iron Mike" Galvin, member of the Massachusetts Senate from Newton, who died last week and was buried Tuesday in Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia, was cited for his service as a public servant and soldier in a resolution adopted Monday night by the Board of Aldermen.

The resolution was offered by retiring Alderman Joseph G. Bradley, and City Clerk Monte G. Basbas was directed in it to prepare a statement to be spread on the records in recognition of Michael J. Galvin's service to state and country.

tion most of the way. Ken Welch, making his debut in the Tiger nets, had very little pressure on him. The first line of Toomey, MacLaughlin and Mechem did an excellent job. It is on this line which much of Newton's hopes will rest during the season.

Rindge Tech, which plays Newton this week, made a surprisingly good showing in holding Medford to a 2-2 tie last Saturday.

Ward 6 GOP Meeting Is Successful

The Ward Six Committee of the Republican City Committee held an organizational meeting last week, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hovey of Chestnut Hill Road, Chestnut Hill.

Among the new associate members voted into membership of the group were: Mrs. Samuel Citron, Joseph C. McNay, and Mrs. Joseph C. McNay.

William L. Bruce, ward chairman, presided.

Those present were: Mrs. Michael G. C. Boucuvalas, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Citron, Mrs. Elizabeth T. Damon, Richard W. Douglass, Ward Treasurer; Theodore Green, Mrs. Charles Hovey, Helene M. Hovey, David A. Lurensky, Mrs. Rene J. Marcou, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McNay, Mrs. Herman Smerling, Mrs. Eliot Stone, Mrs. Whelan Vinnicombe, Col. Wendell R. Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. Malvin F. White, and Edward A. Winsor.

After conferring with Director of Public Works Wilard S. Pratt, Mayor Gibbs estimated that the incinerator should be completed in about 18 to 24 months.

He said that it will take about six months to design the facility, pointing out that the most time will be consumed in designing the interior of the building with its equipment and machinery.

After the facility has been designed, bids will be sought on the necessary equipment and machinery and finally on the construction of the building itself.

In the case of an incinerator, it was explained, the building actually is secondary in importance to the machinery around which it is constructed.

The $2 million bond issue was approved by a 17-6 vote at Monday night's Aldermanic session. Aldermen Joseph G. Bradley, Harry H. Ham, Jr., Robert L. Tennant, Allard M. Valentine, Earle D. Wood and Wendell R. Bauckman cast the six votes against the measure. Alderman William M. Glosky was the lone absentee.

By the same 17-6 vote and with the same six dissenting, the Aldermen approved an appropriation of $72,000 from current funds.

The incinerator measures had been pending before the Aldermen since last February.

Action was delayed for more than 10 months because at most meetings supporters of ally an emergency.

The first test of strength on the incinerator issue came when Alderman Harry L. Whalen moved that the items be taken from the table.

His motion carried 17-6. The six Aldermen who voted against the bond issue and the appropriation also opposed taking the incinerator items from the table.

In moving that the incinerator questions be put to a vote, Alderman Franklin N. Flaschner urged that Mayor Gibbs "be given his head." Flaschner said the city has had an urgent need for an incinerator for a long time and that the situation is virtually in emergency.

An appropriation of $118,000 from the bond issue to be used for the employment of the engineering firm to design plans for the incinerator and prepare specifications for the necessary machinery and equipment was okayed by an 18-5 vote. Recorded against that motion were Aldermen Bradley, Ham, Tennant, Valentine and Wood.

Hotel

The conditions imposed on the dormitory petition were as follows:

1—The three buildings are to be located as shown on a plan submitted with the petition, and each shall not exceed 3 1/2 stories in height.

2—Student bathrooms shall not be located on the easterly side of the buildings so as to be visible from adjoining residential property.

3—The private road from Quincy Rd. shall be closed to all traffic except BC service vehicles. The service road from Hammond St. shall also be used only by service vehicles. Both roads shall be regulated by a gate or chain, and no student cars shall be allowed in the area.

4—A screen planting of 15 to 20 evergreen trees at least 20 feet in height shall be planted along a line on the easterly side of the north-south service road in the rear of the dormitory buildings, the trees to be spaced approximately 20 feet apart.

Other items recommended by the Claims and Rules Committee and approved in the 23-0 vote were the following recommendations by the city solicitor for payment of damages:

In the case of Chloe Hathaway against the city for injuries she sustained because of a sidewalk defect, payment of $1000.

A settlement of $1200 to Mildred Douglas, also injured because of a sidewalk defect. A settlement of $1600 to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Shapiro.

Payment of $16,306.05 in satisfaction of executions issued in the case of Vera Jo Miller vs the city. This involved a collision in which she was badly injured when her car ran into the rear of a city truck that was making a left turn on the Worcester Turnpike.

The city solicitor explained that it had been shown that the driver had not properly signaled his intention to make the turn. The city would not have been liable, he added, had the truck been engaged in highway maintenance at the time, but it had been pumping out a flooded cellar, a service for which the city makes a charge.

By vote of the Aldermen, a number of items were referred to the new Board, whose term becomes effective on Jan. 1, 1964. Those on which referral was voted included the following:

Alderman Carmen's recommendation that in the case of religious institutions, one parking space shall be provided for each three seats, permanent or otherwise.

A recommendation that an ordinance be adopted to regulate the construction and use of public and private swimming pools.

Two voters' petitions, one asking the Aldermen to call a meeting of voters "to consult on the common good, particularly on the subject of the new incinerator."

The other called for a general meeting on the subject of rezoning Norumbega Park. A request for an appropriation of $26,000 for traffic lights at Washington St. and Commonwealth Ave., and channelizing and storage lanes at that point. School needs in the Winchester St.-Nahant Rd. areas and consideration of eminent domain land taking for that purpose. A $300,000 addition to the Lincoln-Eliot School.

An appropriation of $35,000 for equipment in the new Horace Mann School. Alderman Ernest F. Dietz's petition for regulation of motor vehicle violations and a higher schedule of fees for various violations. The Sherman Paper Products Company's petition for a wide curb cut to provide an entrance to a parking lot at 156 Oak St., Newton Upper Falls. A petition of Edward M. Kaplan for extension of non-conforming use to alter the store front at 543 Commonwealth Ave. Improvements by the Sun Oil Company to a service station at Walnut and Floral Sts., Newton Highlands.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs appointment of George L. White, 36 Walnut Pk., Newton, as a member of the Planning Board to replace Warren A. Sutherland, who resigned, was confirmed.

Approved on a voice vote was a petition of Verne Hillman, who does business as Custom Auto Service, for a license to deal in used cars at 160 Charlemont St., Newton Highlands. The following restrictions were imposed: 1—No signs on premises. 2—No more than one car to be displayed at any one time. 3—No display lighting.

Chestnut Hill Country Club Elects Officers

The following new officers were elected at the recent annual meeting of the Chestnut Hill Country Club:

President, Robert M. Freedberg, 32 Wallis road, Chestnut Hill; first vice-president, Theodore M. Love, 1600 Beacon street, Brookline; second vice-president, Morris Spelgel, 1284 Beacon street, Brookline; treasurer, Max Cornblatt, 137 Clinton road, Brookline; secretary, Dr. Manuel Goldberg, 33 Mason road, Newton.

Elected to the Board of Governors for a three year term were: Max Goldman, Brighton; Paul Karger, Newton; Leon Kowal, Newton; Clarence Kudisch, Newton; Leon Margolis, Chestnut Hill; Harold S. White, Newton.

Those still serving on the Board of Governors for two more years are: Phineas Alpers, Brookline; Maurice Fishman, Belmont; Paul M. Goldman, Newton; Morris Golub, Waban; Abraham Trachtenberg, Newton; Dr. Hyman Waldman, Chestnut Hill.

Those still serving for one more year are: Roger Cohen, Brookline; Gerald I. Glunts, Waban; Robert Jaffee, Chestnut Hill; Theodore Karp, Newton; Morton Weiner, Newton; Edward Winston, Newton.

Outgoing president, Irving Young of Newton was presented a complete set of golf clubs as a token of the club's esteem for his leadership over the past two years. Gifts of beautiful engraved desk sets were presented to outgoing treasurer, Harold S. White of Newton, and to secretary Edward Rice of Brookline.

MARK S. BURNS

One-Boy Drive Here Gives 'Y' Fund An Assist

Eleven-year-old Mark S. Burns of 81 Eliot avenue, in West Newton is carrying on a one-man or one-boy campaign to bolster world brotherhood.

He has been engaged in a non-stop selling campaign for the Y.M.C.A. World Service. Selling mint candies, the money he raises will enable youngsters in less privileged countries to enjoy some of the activities in which he participates at the Newton "Y."

In less than two weeks, Mark has sold 304 boxes of mints. A year ago, he sold 233. In each case, his total topped that of all the other 40 youngsters who are also selling mints for Y.M.C.A. World Service.

Mark admitted to The Graphic that he was getting help. His seven-year-old brother, Michael, who is still too young to be eligible for "Y" membership, has been helping.

So has their father, Elmer Burns, who has sold several boxes to fellow employees at the Unicite Company in Newton. He hasn't admitted yet how much assistance his other five brothers and sisters have added.

The boys have made their sales door-to-door. Mark also has been selling candy in the late afternoon in front of a Newton corner supermarket, and in the evening at the entrance to the men's locker room at the Y.M.C.A.

According to the publishers, Cadmus Books are carefully screened books proved by actual use in schools and libraries and representative of the best in children's literature.

Two other books by the Harris duo previously selected for this honor are "Slim Green" and "Hummer and Buzz."

In addition, "Slim Green" and "Little Red Newt" have also been honored as Junior Literary Guild selections.

Harris, director of education at the Museum of Science in Boston, and his mother, are now at work on another book that will tell the life story of a firefly, including its youthful stages as a glow-worm.

The net gain, the group be-lieves, will be reduced by 1965, but possibly not to the extent that there will be a net loss to the city that year.

The Taxpayers Association makes comments on the legislative changes that affect the city's share of distributed tax moneys as follows:

"The exemption for the elderly law did not include a lien on the property in-volved. We believe it would have been more responsible legislation if a lien to re-cover from the property owner after the elderly beneficiary's death had been included, as the Gov-ernor originally wished. In addition, with the precedent now firmly established, ef-forts to create a flock of similar exemptions for other special classes can be ex-pected, to take place in 1965.

"We might note in passing that the much-touted 'home rule' constitutional amend-ment does not provide protec-tion for cities and towns from new burdens put on general property taxpayers by the legislature. This has been a perennial sore point with the municipalities that object to having their local property taxes burdened by generous acts for which the legislature takes credit.

"Unless corporate income increases substantially by 1965, the new and lowered rate, which corporations gained sooner in the swap for earlier corporation tax payments, will indeed lower the locally-shared tax rate for 1965.

"The first step to a more equitable formula for dis-tributing state taxes which are locally shared — the present formula has not been changed since 1947 and does not reflect any real post-war shifts in the relationship be-tween municipalities — is presently scheduled to take effect in 1965.

"It may be allowed to do so, in which case Newton will suffer from comparative reduction in that year. It is not that Newton has not grown, but that other municipalities have grown faster, and hence

The Spirit of Christmas, 1963

Thank heaven for little girls and boys this Christmas. In their innocence and immaturity they can give full vent to seasonal enthusiasms and completely enjoy the returns of fun and festivity, a privilege not fully given to many adult Americans this year of 1963.

The tragic incident in Texas a month ago must leave a deep scar on the consciousness of countless mature citizens. Its undertone of shock and sorrow dims somewhat the brightness of the Yuletide lights.

Only the most callous among us can ignore the awesome thing to which we are contemporaries, the assassination of an American President. The cold, senseless brutality of the killing jars us back a century in history.

The enmity responsible for the murder of John Fitzgerald Kennedy still exists and persists in our land. Its mutterings go on behind the gay carols, its viciousness glints in the shadows of the brilliant Christmas lights.

This is a fact in our land and in our time. The man who sighted the rifle and squeezed the trigger to blast out the life of our young and vital President was a product of his era. His failing was an inability to sensibly evaluate and discount the flood of venom which daily befouls the life currents of our nation.

Much of this bitter diatribe is a cleverly planned and promoted product spawned of political, religious, racial and commercial persuasions. It appears as heedless headlines and slanted stories in our daily journals, in artfully tooled expressions over the radio and television media, and in a putrid stream of letters, periodicals and pamphlets in the U.S. Mail.

No responsible American can argue with the right of a difference of opinion in our great democracy. But, we must be vigilant against those who carry a divergent view all the way to a festering hatred.

These boiling undercurrents of enmity and frustration erupted in a little pimple of a man in Dallas who played out the final notes of his requiem of reprisal in three rifle shots. The three shots were echoed in the words of a Boston prelate at the grave of John Kennedy, "Requiescat in Pace."

And so, we shall observe a different kind of Christmas this year. The dour mourning drapes are only just removed to make way for the holly and greens. The singing bells take over from the muffled drums. A great nation moves onward under another leader and President.

By the grace of God and the strength of all good men and women, real Americans, of our land we didn't even stumble in the transition.

For this we must be eternally proud and grateful. With a prayer for a fallen Chief, let us continue the crusade for "Peace on Earth To All Men of All Colors, Creeds and Nationality" which was born in a humble manger in far-off Bethlehem 1963 years ago. Merry Christmas.

Dog's Life Can Be Happy

The move by Newton city officials to curb the antics of some of our more frisky and unruly canines must be considered in the light of the community good.

Pets are fine and admirable as long as they remain pets and are not pesky critters running around annoying youngsters and adults.

Most responsible owners keep an eye on their animals to prevent their intrusion in the lives of others, and any invasion of the rights of fellow townsmen. But, as usual, it is the unconcerned minority which brings about all the clamor and complaint and demand for official enforcement.

Unruly dogs are not comical. In fact they can be downright threatening at times and a source of genuine concern to those molested.

So, Newton will have its dog-catcher, complete with butterfly net and pound, where the uncontrolled pets eventually will be deposited.

Owners of the corralled canines will face fines levied against them for their negligence. A dog's life can be a happy one, if its owner exerts common sense.

Public Neglect

The Editor
The Newton Graphic.
Dear Sir,

I am writing to inquire whether there is any municipal ordinance requiring property owners, or occupants of rented houses, to be responsible for clearing the snow from the front of their property or the rented buildings. There are still a number of people — of all ages and even children — who walk and use these public walks either because of necessity or for pleasure. The city cares for clearing the streets very promptly, but the public walks are mostly neglected.

The first snow fall of this season finished off with rain and sleet so that after a freeze the walks have become almost impassable so that it is necessary to walk in the street, which is also dangerous. However, if one walks on the left-hand side so as to face the traffic, most of the cars will gladly turn out for one.

I would not urge that older persons endanger their health by shoveling snow, but there were many requests by teenage boys and young men for the opportunity to rake leaves this last fall. There probably would be as much opportunity for jobs in removing snow if the custom were started. The fact that one sees a driveway to the garage promptly cleaned after any snow fall, with the public walk entirely untouched on the same piece of property, is an indication of a lack of public conscience.

If there is no municipal ordinance that would cover this situation, would an appeal to the public conscience of the citizens be of any avail?

I think you for the use of your paper and your cooperation in this matter.

Sincerely yours,
James A. Hunter,
138 Hancock Street,
Auburndale, Mass.

Signature Achievement

December 14, 1963
The Newton Graphic
Dear Sir:

On behalf of the League of Women Voters I wish to extend sincere thanks to my colleagues from the J. Chamber of Commerce and the Mass. Federation of Taxpayers plus all those groups and individuals, whose efforts, large and small, were so essential for the overwhelming success of the initiative petition drive to curb the powers of the Governor's Council.

In addition much gratitude is extended to the citizens of Newton who signed this petition. By doing so they demonstrated not only support for this cause, but citizenship in exercising their right to petition.

Newton's contribution to the 46,930 valid signatures from Middlesex County was substantial. A total of 125,407 certified signatures was raised throughout the State, a significant achievement for a petition drive.

Very truly yours,
Joyce K. Picard,
League of Women Voters,
Initiative Petition Drive Chairman.

Local Schools Sport Picture Good And Bad

Four items will serve to start off the story of school sports in Newton for last week with news of the better sort.

First, Newton High's hockey team boosted its number of wins over Waltham High to five, when the lads outthrust their traditional rivals in Boston Arena, and ended up winners by a 3 to 1.

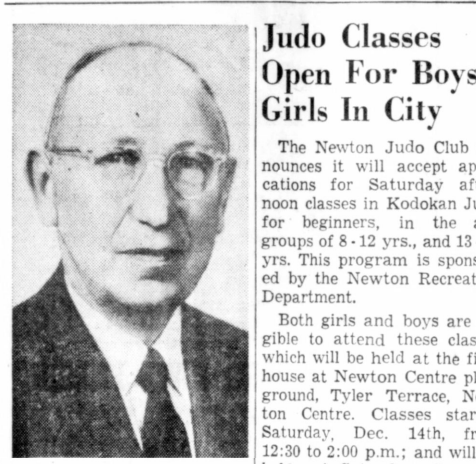

Then, Newton South High had a 2 to 1 win over Wayland in the opener of Dual County League play Saturday in Framingham.

In basketball, Our Lady's High topped Immaculate Conception of Revere 65 to 62 in its Catholic Suburban League opener Sunday afternoon in Our Lady's gym. George Barry and Jeff King between them scored 31 points.

In another basketball fray, Sacred Heart of Newton had a 38-36 win over its Weymouth namesake last Friday night in a non-league game at

Waban Man Is Named To Top Hub Gas Post

Andrew W. Johnston of 129 Dorset Rd., Waban, has been elected senior vice president of the Boston Gas Company at the recent meeting of the board of directors. He will assume his new duties on Jan. 1.

Mr. Johnston is a vice president and director of the company with responsibility for its gas operations. He was born in Richmond, Va., and is a 1927 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy.

Before joining Boston Gas Company in 1950 as engineer of distribution, he had served with the Washington Gas Light Company, Hartford Gas Company and United Gas Improvement Company. He was elected vice president in 1954 and a director in 1960.

He has been a member of the many regional and national gas industry committees, and is now serving on the Department of the Interior's Emergency Advisory Committee for Natural Gas.

He is a director of Algonquin Gas Transmission Company, a past president of the New England Gas Association and the New England Guild of Gas Managers and a Bishop MacKenzie Athletic Center.

Newton High dropped its fourth straight game to Weymouth High's cagers in the Weymouth High gym Friday night. The score: 67-41.

Continuing news 'not of the better sort, it must be reported that Newton South's basketballers lost a squeaker to Brookline Friday in South's gym. The score here was Brookline 53, South 52.

Newton Junior College suffered a 75-59 loss at the hands of Burdett College cagers in Boston Latin gym last Thursday night.

Our Lady's High last Friday took a 73-31 lacing from St. Sebastian's cagers in the latter's gym.

Unique Creche On Display At Waban Church

Life size figures and live sheep make an unusually impressive Christmas Creche at the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd on Beacon Street in the Waban section of Newton.

The sheep, four white and one black, wander among the life size figures of shepherds and wise men before an eighteen foot outdoor Creche in which the Holy family watch over the Christ Child.

Christmas music and soft lighting recreate the atmosphere of mystery and awe that surround the birth of Jesus.

In announcing the Christmas observances of the church, the Rev. William E. Foley, rector of the parish, said that "The outdoor creche symbolizes the fact that God is not some distant abstract principle but a living presence in our midst."

He added that perhaps as people come to see the creche "they will begin to realize that Christmas is not made up of merchandise but of miracle."

The Church of Good Shepherd will hold Christmas Eve Service, with special music, at 11 p.m. Christmas Eve. On Christmas Day services will be held at 10:30 a.m.

The church is at 1671 Beacon Street in the Waban Square area.

Bay State ADA In Tribute To Senator Galvin

The Massachusetts Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action today paid tribute to Senator Michael J. Galvin of Newton who died last Thursday.

A statement by Harold Katz, chairman of the ADA Political Committee, praised the late Senator's political humanism and uncompromising rectitude of character.

"For the second time in less than a month, ADA mourns the passing of a humanist and an ally in liberal politics. Senator Galvin was a man whose quiet personal dignity sometimes belied an extraordinary strength and uncompromising rectitude of character."

"His personal courage," the ADA statement continued, "is documented by his many decorations for valor on the field of battle. His political humanism is reflected in legislation initiated and caused to be enacted both as President Truman's emissary and in an all too brief career in the General Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

"His personal imprint as a man continues in the respect and admiration we in ADA bear his memory."

Launch Drive To Establish Child Guidance Clinic Here

An enthusiastic gathering attended a recent rally held in the War Memorial Auditorium by Newton's Action for Mental Health in Children Association at which a membership drive was launched which, it is hoped, will lead to the establishment of a child guidance centre in Newton within the next year.

Speakers at the meeting included Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, City Clerk Monte G. Basbas, President Kenneth Huberman of Action for Mental Health in Children, Assistant School Superintendent Edward Landy, Superior Court Justice David Rose, Dr. Joseph Sabbath, noted child psychiatrist, and Dr. Reuben Margolin, associate professor of social science at Northeastern University.

Also on the platform were State Representative Lorenz Muther, Jr., and Irving Fishman, Dr. Irving Kaufman, chairman of AMHIC's professional advisory board, and Attorney S. Roy Remar.

City Clerk Basbas, vice president of AMHIC, presided at the session.

Dr. Sabbath, the principal speaker, outlined a "blueprint" for Newton's proposed child guidance clinic. He pointed out that the greater percentage of the clinic's time would be devoted to treating emotionally disturbed children and their parents. The children of any family residing in Newton would be eligible to be evaluated for clinic treatment.

A further function of the clinic, Dr. Sabbath said, would be to work with Newton physicians, with the many qualified agencies in the area, with adoption placement agencies, police and court officials, and with the school department. The assistance of the clinic in Newton would serve to make the public more sensitive to the needs of children so that a more effective community job of early detection and prompt treatment can be accomplished, Dr. Sabbath said.

Every year, Dr. Sabbath continued, "Many Newton children are failing to get the emotional treatment they need. Who is to set the dollar value on their lives? For many of these troubled children," Dr. Sabbath declared "the outcome without treatment will be disturbing. Many will develop into chronically disabled adults, whose functioning in society will be very limited. Some of these children, unhelped, will end up in mental hospitals, in jails, or on relief rolls."

When this happens, Dr. Sabbath warned, "we must ask ourselves some searching questions. What is the cost, purely economically, of doing nothing? What is the cost of maintaining persons in institutions? What is the loss of productivity to the community? What are the losses in taxes brought about by reduced income? What are the increased costs to the community of extra welfare, police, social, and judicial services?"

As a community, Dr. Sabbath told the group, "we should not focus on the fact that the clinic in its early years will be able to treat just a small percentage of the children needing help. Rather we should consider how many children over a number of years, will be directed toward fulfilled and productive lives as sound self-supporting members for our future community."

Dr. Sabbath's remarks were underscored by those of Dr. Edward Landy the director of Newton's school guidance program. Dr. Landy pointed out that the City of Newton needs a child guidance clinic, and that the Newton School Department needs the clinic as a referral source. "A school is not a hospital or a clinic," Dr. Landy asserted, adding that literally hundreds of Newton children are forced to wait for help at the doors of clinics in other parts of Metropolitan Boston.

Judge Rose stressed how heart-breaking it is to see how very young today's juvenile delinquents have become. It is time, he said, that Newton do more to help its youngsters who engage in anti-social behavior as a result of untreated emotional problems.

Other highlights of the evening saw Mayor Donald Gibbs welcome the AMHIC group to the city and warmly praise its efforts to get a clinic started.

Kenneth Huberman voiced his gratification that the Mental Health Study Committee of the Newton community

Aldermen Give And Get Praise At Last Meeting

The Board of Aldermen, whose members completed their 1962-63 service with adjournment of Monday night's meeting, "did an unusually fine job for the city and its citizens," said their president, Wendell R. Bauckman at the session drew to a close.

"You have earned the gratitude of the city for the services rendered," he continued, "and have shown nothing but dedication. Your service personifies Newton. Your only remuneration has been your love of the city."

The chairman then praised committee members and chairmen, and declared he wanted to segregate one of the latter for special mention—Earle D. Wood, Finance Committee head, who is retiring after many years of service.

"Your dedication and devotion has never been exceeded," he said.

President Bauckman, too, was given his share of verbal flowers. Previously, Alderman Joseph G. Bradley, also retiring from the board, said to the president, "You have been most kind during my six years. I'm going to miss you." Others, including Harry L. Walen, had high praise for the manner in which Bauckman has conducted the meetings.

Wentworth Group

Alvin Page, 36 Canterbury road, Newton Centre, and Frank M. Dukat, 205 Beacon street, Newton, took part in panel discussions as members of a committee comprising representatives of industry, the alumni and the faculty of Wentworth Institute at a recent meeting in the institute's auditorium.

Mr. Page, head of the Architectural Engineering Technology Department, discussed his department's curriculum, and Mr. Dukat, executive assistant at Raytheon's semiconductor division, discussed technology.

The group's purpose is to provide a continuous exchange of ideas.

council and Action for Mental Health in Children had realized that their aims could be made mutually complementary. Both have merged into one organization which would, upon proper legal change in the charter, be known as Action for Mental Health in Newton. To formalize this fusion of interests seven representatives of the Newton Community Council were nominated and elected to the board of directors of AMHIC. They are Dr. Henry Greenleaf, Mr. Victor Kumin, Dr. Harry T. Phillips, Mrs. Isidor Slotnik, Mr. John P. G. Palen, Mr. Murray E. Sholkin and Miss Adelaide B. Ball.

Virgin Birth Explained In Sunday Lesson

The virgin birth of Christ Jesus will be explained in this Sunday's Bible Lesson at all Christian Science churches.

Readings from the Bible will include the angel's message to Mary: "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God" (Luke 1:35).

From the Christian Science textbook, these lines will be read: "The illumination of Mary's spiritual sense put to silence material law and its order of generation, and brought forth her child by the revelation of Truth, demonstrating God as the Father of men" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 29).

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

Auburndale Church Sponsors Art Exhibit In Parish Hall

Edward Movitz, of Auburn-dale, will exhibit a series of recently completed paintings entitled, "Astronomical Images" in a public show to be held in the parish hall of the Auburndale Congregational Church, now through December 30th.

This exhibit inaugurates the new gallery facilities in the parish hall which was dedicated early in November.

The Adult Education Committee of the church, in an effort to produce a better understanding of modern culture and contemporary art, is planning to sponsor many such exhibits throughout the church year for parish members and the community at large.

It was felt that this series was particularly appropriate to the Christmas season when the Star of Bethlehem is a traditional meaningful symbol. Man has been interested in the heavens since the beginning of time, and with contemporary man's concentrated interest in the space dimension, our eyes continue to look skyward.

The man in the church devoutly hopes that our steadily increasing knowledge of the stars will be followed, as in the story of old, by wise men of our own century who carry peace in their hearts.

Mr. Movitz who exhibited in the Arts Festival held in the church two years ago, is at present an assistant professor at the Mass. College of Art. He is a graduate of the Boston Museum School, Tufts University and Harvard Graduate School. He has had one man shows at Mass. College of Art, Abbott Academy, Andover, Nexus Gallery and Cambridge Art Association. He has exhibited at Boston Arts Festival, Brockton Arts Festival, and New England Art Today Show at Northeastern University.

Groups or individuals interested may call the church office for any other information at LA7-4636.

Miss Bartony, Mr. Schmid Wed; To Live In Needham

Wearing a gown of white chantilly lace and taffeta fashioned with a sabrina neckline and cathedral sleeves, Miss Judith Ann Bartony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Bartony of Needham, became the bride of Mr. Donald William Schmid, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Schmid, also of Needham.

St. Bartholomew Church, Needham, was the scene of the 11 o'clock double ring ceremony on Saturday morning, November 30. Rev. James P. Muldoon was the officiating clergyman.

The bride's ensemble also featured a veil of silk illusion arranged from a crystal and pearl crown and she carried a cascade of carnations and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father.

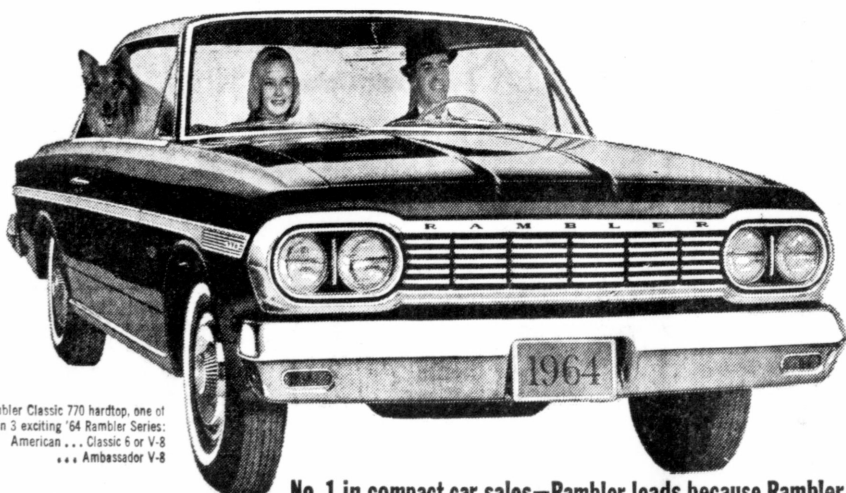

Miss Mildred Gray of Needham was the maid of honor, and the honorary matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Vacha of Franklin, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Woodman of Westwood and Miss Diane Brooks and Miss Joyce Roman, cousins of the bride, both of Needham. Miss Carol Roman was in charge of the guest book.

Serving as best man was Mr. John Mullally of West Peabody. Ushers included Mr. Richard Scheffler and Mr. Barry Gordon of Needham and Mr. Thomas Vacha of Franklin.

A reception followed at the Foxboro House, Foxboro, after which the newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to New York City. Their future residence will be at 35 Highland terrace, Needham Heights.

The bride is employed by Educational Electronics, Inc., Newtonville. Her husband was graduated from Nichols College, Class of 1963, and is employed by Sears, Roebuck & Company.

legislation. It has been hailed as the most important bill of the session and has since been renamed "The Galvin Bill."

But it was a soldier that General Galvin was best known throughout the ranks serving as a rifleman. He went on active duty in 1940.

General George S. Patton immediately recognized his ability as a fighting commander and it was in this role — in the lead tank of Patton's flying columns — that he rolled up an impressive war record.

Emerging as a colonel,

with battle stars for D-Day, Normandy, and the Battle of Bastogne among his many campaigns, Galvin was the recipient of the Silver Star and two Bronze Stars for gallantry, the Legion of Merit, and the Croix-de-Guerre with gold combat star.

Returning to the 94th as a Brigadier General in 1959, Galvin joined with General Chauncey Dean Merrill and General Costas L. Caraganis in creating a prototype Pen-tomic Division. Assuming command in 1960, he made the 94th such a sleekly designed modern warfare unit that it was rated the outstanding reserve division in the country.

General Galvin, once described before the U. S. Congress by General of the Armies George Catlett as "the outstanding reservist of World War II," took great pride in the role of reservists in defense of the nation. He was national vice president of the Reserve Officers Association and president of the Massachusetts R.O.A.

In January 1963, Galvin's 94th Infantry Division was increased in stature, being divided into the hard-hitting, top priority 187th Infantry Brigade, commanded by General Costas Caraganis, and the 94th Command Headquarters which under Galvin's command supervises the majority of reserve units in New England.

Brigadier General William F. McGonagle, Lexington, has assumed command of the 94th. McGonagle said, "General Galvin commanded the

Certificates Awarded At Chamber Meeting

Fifteen members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce were awarded Certificates of Appreciation for their recruiting efforts at the recent Membership Breakfast Meeting held at the Sidney Hill Country Club. More than 200 businessmen attended the event.

Principal speaker was J. Willard Marriott, Jr., president of the Marriott Motor Hotels, the company which will erect the $4,000,000 luxury hotel on land situated at Norumbega Park.

Newton businessmen who received appreciation certificates for their membership activities included:

Roy Boudreau, Philip Bram, Timothy Cronin, Sherman Daniels, Morton Friedman, James Godino, Robert Lurvey, Edgar Marden, Giles Mosher, Jr., Edgar Pitt, Jason Sacks, Robert Tennant and George White, Sr.

T. Frank Copp and Nathan Greene were not present at the meeting to receive their certificates. Awards were given to those members who obtained two or more new members for the chamber during 1963.

In his remarks to the Newton businessmen at the "Early Bird Breakfast" held at 7:45 a.m. last Thursday, Mr. Marriott expressed his "appreciation to the Newton Chamber of Commerce staff and members for their assistance in translating Newton's need into a meaningful rezoning of Norumbega Park by the Newton Board of Aldermen."

He congratulated the Newton aldermen for their "sterling qualities of leadership and foresight" and for their support of the rezoning which allows the construction of the proposed magnificent Marriott Motor Hotel on approximately one-third of the Norumbega site.

Also taking part in the Membership Breakfast program were Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, George L. White, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; Justin T. Horan, executive director of the Chamber, and Robert P. Lurvey, toastmaster and chairman of the Membership Meeting committee.

Highlands A.A. Launches Season With Eight Teams

The Newton Highlands Athletic Association last week launched its basketball league competition for the 1963-64 season, with eight teams participating.

eral Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, the Army War College, and was a student and lecturer at the Combined Services' Defense Seminars.

As an author, he wrote "Manpower Limited" in 1951; "Manpower and National Defense," 1952; and "Manpower Reserves for National Defense," 1953.

He was a member of the National Maritime Emergency Commission, National Defense Mobilization Board and the National Housing Council. In 1953, at the direction of President Eisenhower he was director of the campaign for legislation in each state to authorize Soldier Voting and successfully saw the bill through each of the 48 state legislatures.

Formerly a member of the law firm of Herrick Smith, he most recently was director of the Massachusetts Hospital Association.

He is survived by his wife, the former Eleanor H. Stevens, and five children, Michael, Jr., Patricia, Norren, Priscilla, and Gail, of 107 Hobart Road, Newton Centre.

Burial was from Waterman's Funeral Home in Kenmore Square. A solemn High Mass of Requiem was celebrated at St. Ignatius Church, Newton. Interment with full military honors took place at Arlington National Cemetery in Virginia.

General Galvin was escorted by pallbearers who comprised his key military personnel: Brigadier General Costas Caraganis, Commanding General, 187th Infantry Brigade; McGonagle, Commanding General, 94th Command Headquarters; Col. Irving Yarock, Chief of Staff; Lt. Col. Daniel Finn, Operations Officer; Lt. Col. Alan Becker, Administrative Chief; Major William F. McSweeney, Commanding Officer of the 94th Combat Command; and his aide-de-camp, Captain Roland L. McLean.

Col. Sumner Z. Kaplan, currently at the Command and General Staff School, will join the escort in Washington.

Almost 100 boys in grades 4 through 6 have been assigned to berths on the six major teams and the two farm teams, according to league commissioners Ed Cain and Joe Wolfson.

The six teams in the major league will play a competitive schedule of ten games, which will conclude on March 2. The two farm teams conduct intrasquad scrimmages and as players develop they are drafted for the league competition.

All games are played at the Meadowbrook Junior High School on Monday evenings at 7:00 p.m.

Following is a roster of league players and managers: YALE: Morris Glaser, manager; David Cohen, Skipper; Singer, David Glaser, Mark Ziering, Billy Snider, Peter Dana, Michael Arion, Charles Mmud, Allan Hoffman, Neil Hoffman and Robert Rosata. Christmas Eve Service To Be Held at Church

The Newton Highlands Congregational Church will hold its Christmas Eve candlelight service in the sanctuary on Tuesday evening, December 24, at 7:30 o'clock.

High school students, business young people and college students home for the holidays will sing carols at the service.

Christmas Sunday service will be at 10:45 a.m. All the choir will join in the service of music.

PRELUDE Six Carols: "O Little Town of Bethlehem," Gordon Phillips; The Holly and the Ivy, Coventry Carol, The Endris Night, The Angel Gabriel; The First Noel; processional hymn: "Angels We Have Heard on High;" anthem: "Torches," the Senior, Youth and Junior Choirs; offertory: "Noel Grand Jeu et Duo;" sermon: "The Way of Peace," Rev. Paul G. Pitman, minister; anthem, "Noel of the Bressan Waits, the Junior and Youth Choirs; postlude: Noel in Olden Style, Edward G. Hastings.

At 5 o'clock there will be a special "Christmas Tableaux" at which time the children in the church will bring their "White Gifts" to lay before the manger. These gifts are simply marked for boy or girl and are to be distributed to children in need of Christmas toys.

Couples Club Of Temple To Sponsor Dance

Temple Emeth Couples Club of Temple Emeth in Chestnut Hill will hold their second dance of the year on Saturday evening, Dec. 21, at the Temple beginning at 8:30 p.m. The affair entitled, "The Bagel Ball" was originally scheduled for November but was postponed due to the death of President Kennedy.

The Mari-Aires Orchestra, an all male band led by a female conductor, will provide entertainment and dance music. A late night snack of bagels, lox, cream cheese followed by dessert and coffee will be served. Set-ups will be provided.

The dance is under the chairmanship of the Gerry Sands of Newton and the Walter Glaziers of Brookline. Other committee heads include: the Robert Michaels of West Roxbury, decorations; the Burton Topals and the Alan Shumans of Chestnut Hill, art; and the Myron Segelmans of Brookline, mailings.

Virgin Birth Explained In Sunday Lesson

The virgin birth of Christ Jesus will be explained in this Sunday's Bible Lesson at all Christian Science churches.

Readings from the Bible will include the angel's message to Mary: "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God" (Luke 1:35).

From the Christian Science textbook, these lines will be read: "The illumination of Mary's spiritual sense put to silence material law and its order of generation, and brought forth her child by the revelation of Truth, demonstrating God as the Father of men" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 29).

The Lesson-Sermon is entitled: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?"

James Gardiner Loder, winner of last season's best acting award for his performance in "Majority of One," has a leading role in the forthcoming Auburndale Club presentation of Alex Gottlieb's comedy "Wake Up Darling" to be given on the evenings of Jan. 23, 24 and 25 at 8:30 o'clock.

Others in the cast include, Pat Woodward, Gertrude Rogers, Peg Bailey, Frank O'Donnell, John and Sue Malloy, Shirley Fitzgerald, Alan Metcalf and Joseph Lane. Advance ticket reservation may be made by calling Margo at DE 2-6553.

Auburndale Church Sponsors Art Exhibit In Parish Hall

Edward Movitz, of Auburn-dale, will exhibit a series of recently completed paintings entitled, "Astronomical Images" in a public show to be held in the parish hall of the Auburndale Congregational Church, now through December 30th.

This exhibit inaugurates the new gallery facilities in the parish hall which was dedicated early in November.

The Adult Education Committee of the church, in an effort to produce a better understanding of modern culture and contemporary art, is planning to sponsor many such exhibits throughout the church year for parish members and the community at large.

It was felt that this series was particularly appropriate to the Christmas season when the Star of Bethlehem is a traditional meaningful symbol. Man has been interested in the heavens since the beginning of time, and with contemporary man's concentrated interest in the space dimension, our eyes continue to look skyward.

The man in the church devoutly hopes that our steadily increasing knowledge of the stars will be followed, as in the story of old, by wise men of our own century who carry peace in their hearts.

Mr. Movitz who exhibited in the Arts Festival held in the church two years ago, is at present an assistant professor at the Mass. College of Art. He is a graduate of the Boston Museum School, Tufts University and Harvard Graduate School. He has had one man shows at Mass. College of Art, Abbott Academy, Andover, Nexus Gallery and Cambridge Art Association. He has exhibited at Boston Arts Festival, Brockton Arts Festival, and New England Art Today Show at Northeastern University.

Groups or individuals interested may call the church office for any other information at LA 7-4636.

Miss Bartony, Mr. Schmid Wed; To Live In Needham

Wearing a gown of white chantilly lace and taffeta fashioned with a sabrina neckline and cathedral sleeves, Miss Judith Ann Bartony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Bartony of Needham, became the bride of Mr. Donald William Schmid, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Schmid, also of Needham.

St. Bartholomew Church, Needham, was the scene of the 11 o'clock double ring ceremony on Saturday morning, November 30. Rev. James P. Muldoon was the officiating clergyman.

The bride's ensemble also featured a veil of silk illusion arranged from a crystal and pearl crown and she carried a cascade of carnations and stephanotis. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Mildred Gray of Needham was the maid of honor, and the honorary matron of honor was Mrs. Thomas Vacha of Franklin, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Charles Woodman of Westwood and Miss Diane Brooks and Miss Joyce Roman, cousins of the bride, both of Needham. Miss Carol Roman was in charge of the guest book.

Serving as best man was Mr. John Mullally of West Peabody. Ushers included Mr. Richard Scheffer and Mr. Barry Gordon of Needham and Mr. Thomas Vacha of Franklin.

legislation. It has been hailed as the most important bill of the session and has since been renamed "The Galvin Bill."

But it was a soldier that General Galvin was best known throughout the ranks serving as a rifleman. He went on active duty in 1940.

General George S. Patton immediately recognized his ability as a fighting commander and it was in this role — in the lead tank of Patton's flying columns — that he rolled up an impressive war record.

Emerging as a colonel,

with battle stars for D-Day, Normandy, and the Battle of Bastogne among his many campaigns, Galvin was the recipient of the Silver Star and two Bronze Stars for gallantry, the Legion of Merit, and the Croix-de-Guerre with gold combat star.

Returning to the 94th as a Brigadier General in 1959, Galvin joined with General Chauncey Dean Merrill and General Costas L. Caraganis in creating a prototype Pentomic Division. Assuming command in 1960, he made the 94th such a sleekly designed modern warfare unit that it was rated the outstanding reserve division in the country.

General Galvin, once described before the U. S. Congress by General of the Armies George Catlett as "the outstanding reservist of World War II," took great pride in the role of reservists in defense of the nation. He was national vice president of the Reserve Officers Association and president of the Massachusetts R.O.A.

In January 1963, Galvin's 94th Infantry Division was increased in stature, being divided into the hard-hitting, top priority 187th Infantry Brigade, commanded by General Costas Caraganis, and the 94th Command Headquarters which under Galvin's command supervises the majority of reserve units in New England.

Brigadier General William F. McGonagle, Lexington, has assumed command of the 94th. McGonagle said, "General Galvin commanded the

Certificates Awarded At Chamber Meeting

Fifteen members of the Newton Chamber of Commerce were awarded Certificates of Appreciation for their recruiting efforts at the recent Membership Breakfast Meeting held at the Sidney Hill Country Club. More than 200 businessmen attended the event.

Principal speaker was J. Willard Marriott, Jr., president of the Marriott Motor Hotels, the company which will erect the $4,000,000 luxury hotel on land situated at Norumbega Park.

received appreciation certificates for their membership activities included:

Roy Boudreau, Philip Bram, Timothy Cronin, Sherman Daniels, Morton Friedman, James Godino, Robert Lurvey, Edgar Marden, Giles Mosher, Jr., Edgar Pitt, Jason Sacks, Robert Tennant and George White, Sr.

T. Frank Copp and Nathan Greene were not present at the meeting to receive their certificates. Awards were given to those members who obtained two or more new members for the chamber during 1963.

In his remarks to the Newton businessmen at the "Early Bird Breakfast" held at 7:45 a.m. last Thursday, Mr. Marriott expressed his "appreciation to the Newton Chamber of Commerce staff and members for their assistance in translating Newton's need into a meaningful rezoning of Norumbega Park by the Newton Board of Aldermen."

He congratulated the Newton aldermen for their "sterling qualities of leadership and foresight" and for their support of the rezoning which allows the construction of the proposed magnificent Marriott Motor Hotel on approximately one-third of the Norumbega site.

Also taking part in the Membership Breakfast program were, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, George L. White, president of the Newton Chamber of Commerce; Justin T. Horan, executive director of the Chamber; and Robert P. Lurvey, toastmaster and chairman of the Membership Meeting committee.

of cold weather, John B. Penney, Recreation Commissioner, announced.

Ware's Cove at Auburn-dale is an uncertainty at this time because the recent snow storm left a layer of snow on a thin covering of ice. The ice is too thin to put men or equipment out on it to clear the snow. When this area will be safe for skating is unknown at this time.

The toboggan chute at Newton Centre Playground was in operation over the weekend Sunday, and will operate every afternoon and evening, weather conditions permitting.

Call DE 2-1700 for information about skating and tobogganing in Newton. This service is available at any time 24 hours a day, seven days a week, during the skating season.

William Walsh, Robert Beaser, Timothy Monahan, Paul DeMarco, Jeffrey Karlin and Dean Erickson.

NAVY: Ed Aronson, manager; Mike Aronson, Stuart Shainker, Jack Starr, Lee Grossman, Roger Cooper, Walter Cox, William DeAngelis, Peter Cohen and Charles Bond.

Results of the first week's competition saw the following scores: Cornell 15-Yale 7; Harvard 26-Princeton 6; Dartmouth 12-Brown 11.

Wellesley - Harvard Seniors Married at Newton Church

White poinsettias, gilded cones and evergreen decorated the altar of the Second Church in Newton, West Newton, for the pretty candlelight service on Saturday, December 14th which united Miss Margery Ann Casselman and David John Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crozer Casselman of 24 Hawthorne Avenue, Newton Centre, and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Connor of 33 Clark Street, Newton Centre, are the couple's parents.

Officiating at the 4 o'clock afternoon nuptials were Dr. Ross Cannon and Dr. Carl Hermann Vose, uncle of the bride. The Waban Neighborhood Club was the scene of the reception.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's heirloom gown, previously worn by both her mother and her grandmother, was fashioned of ivory duchess satin. The molded bodice had a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and a full skirt, entraine.

Her heirloom Brussels lace veil, held in place by a satin covered circlet, is over one hundred and thirty-five years old. Her bouquet of stephanotis and white roses was accented with small red rosebuds.

Miss Charlotte Ferree of Philadelphia, Pa., was maid of honor. Miss Linda Covich of Waban, Miss Abigail Hazel

Ice Skating School Opens New Semester

Belle Isle Ice Skating School of 244 Needham St., Newton Upper Falls, has announced the beginning of the new winter semester to start December 21. The school, now in its third year of operation under the management of Mickey Belle Isle and Peter Tomagno, has recently initiated a program of instruction for individual school groups from the various public and private schools in the general area of Newton, Wellesley and Waltham.

A pro-skate shop operated by the two managers carries a complete line of skating needs and has facilities for immediate sharpening service. The school's facilities are available for special ice skating parties and arrangements can be made at the indoor skating rink.

Boys' Club Yule Party Dec. 23

Adelaide Ball as chairman for this year's Christmas party for members and friends of the Newton Boys' Club, announced that it would be held in the club gymnasium on Monday, December 23, at 7 p.m.

There will be entertainment, including movies, refreshments, carol singing and a greeting from Santa Claus, who will distribute gifts.

Norman E. MacNeil, club president, will give the welcome, and Carleton P. Merrill, member of the Board of Directors, will act as toastmaster and introduce the many sports and civic dignitaries expected to be present at the affair, which usually attracts some 500 youngsters.

Patricia Hearn Is Bride of Leonard Francis Farrell

The marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Hearn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hearn of Danvers, to Leonard Francis Farrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Farrell of 54 Pond street, Newton, took place recently at St. Mary's Annunciation Church in Danvers.

The Rev. Daniel F. Cronin was celebrant of the 11 o'clock nuptial mass and doubling ceremony. A reception followed at the Village Green in Danvers.

Escorted by her father, the bride chose a traditional white taffeta gown. Alencon lace appliques marked the fitted bodice, portrait neckline, long sleeves and detachable train.

A Watteau headpiece made of orange blossoms and taffeta roses held in place her illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orchids with cascading ivy.

Mrs. Phyllis Nayahalski of Salem was her sister's matron of honor. Miss Yolanda Battaglia of Stoneham and Miss Beverly Hearn of Danvers were bridesmaids. Young Beth Farrell of Newton was flower girl.

Election

Senate President John E. Powers, who cut short a European trip and flew home from Milan, Italy, on learning of Galvin's death, said he would confer with officials in Newton, Brookline and Boston before setting the exact date for the special Senate election.

High public officials, military leaders and members of the clergy were among those who paid final tribute to Galvin Monday morning at crowded St. Ignatius Church in Chestnut Hill, where a high Mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Richard J. Hawko, chaplain of the 94th Division which Galvin commanded.

Governor Endicott Peabody, former Governor John A. Volpe, Senate President Powers, Newton Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley and Secretary of State Kevin H. White, headed an imposing list of public figures who attended Monday's funeral rites for Senator Galvin.

The men who served with Galvin and under him in the 94th Division turned out in force to pay tribute to him, as did members of the clergy.

Last fall Galvin won election to the State Senate, and in a period of a few months became one of the most respected figures on Beacon Hill.

Senate President Powers summed up the feeling of Galvin's colleagues when he declared: "I never served with a more sincere or more dedicated public official."

Powers revealed that Galvin told him last month that he intended to resign from his seat in the Senate if he was unable to go to the State House and attend every session starting in January.

"Had he been in good health, he would have gone on to much greater success in public life," said Powers. "In him you could see many of the qualities of a Maurice Tobin."

Senator Galvin came out of the hospital three times during the past fall to vote for Governor Peabody's bill for the reorganization of the State Public Works Department. The measure subsequently was designated by Peabody as the Galvin Bill. At that time it was known Galvin was dying of cancer.

Even though it was realized at the State House that Galvin's death was inevitable, the news of it last Thursday came as a shock. Galvin's papers have been requested for permanent display by the Harry S. Truman Memorial Library.

Charles N. Diman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Diman, 645 Centre St., Newton, has won his letter as a member of the varsity football team at Hobart and William Smith Colleges, Geneva, N.Y.

Who'll play Santa next Christmas?

If you could give only one present to your family this Christmas might it not be the comforting assurance that, come what may, Santa will be a regular visitor to your home in the years ahead? Well, you can do just that — with Savings Bank Life Insurance. SBLI is the low-cost insurance protection planned for every thoughtful family man who has modest income, high expenses. This is the right year to give your family the present that also protects the future.

SAVING is the big word in SAVINGS Bank Life Insurance

The new information rack at your nearest Savings Bank or Institution for Savings is filled with valuable facts everyone interested in family protection wants to know.

HOW TO BUY THE MOST PROTECTION FOR YOUR MONEY will help you decide what type of policy is best for you. Other folders explain popular features of TERM Insurance and policies for CHILDREN, HOMEOWNERS and FAMILIES.

The balance of the rack is devoted to individual cards. Just take the card showing your age (nearest birthday) which has premium rates that are lower than you thought. Be sure to take a card for each member of your family.

Savings Bank Life Insurance has been available since 1907 exclusively for people who live or work in Massachusetts. Policies totaling more than $900,000,000 are now in force.

Control

Another section authorizes the dog officer to order a dog restrained or muzzled for any of the following reasons:

1. If found at large or unmuzzled while an order of the dog officer for restraint or muzzling is in effect.
2. If found in a school, schoolyard or public recreation area.
3. For having bitten any person.
4. For having killed, maimed or otherwise damaged any other domesticated animal.
5. For chasing any vehicle upon a public way or any way open to public travel in the city.
6. For any violation of the existing law.

Alderman Theodore D. Mann asked if the term, "vehicle," used in the fifth provision, would apply to a boy riding a bicycle.

Ham replied that he assumed a bicycle is a vehicle on the highway. (This would mean a dog could be restrained for chasing a bicycle as well as an automobile or truck.)

The next section in the ordinance sets forth the manner in which a dog-owner may, within seven days after a restraint order has been issued, file a written request for it to be vacated. The dog officer is authorized to vacate his order and release the animal if his investigation shows such action to be warranted. If the dog is not released, the animal's owner may bring a petition in court. In such an event the court ruling is final and is binding upon both the dog-officer and the dog-owner.

The final section of the ordinance provides that a dog-owner may be fined $10 for failure to comply with an order of the dog-officer.

The ordinance, which was approved as to legal form by City Solicitor Matt B. Jones, Jr., is scheduled to become effective Jan. 1 if signed by Mayor Gibbs.

However, the provisions contained in the ordinance cannot be effectively enforced until a full-time dog-officer is appointed.

to an unusual display of teamwork, says Miss Breivogel. Included are parents, Sargent College student teachers, the school physician and nurses, the physical education staff of the Newton School System and classroom teachers.

The entire team is geared toward a "vigorous motivated type of program which involves all children," explained Ray J. Lund principal of the Franklin School and Boston University alumnus.

Both Miss Breivogel and Mr. Lund stressed that the new emphasis on physical education was not taking time away from other subjects.

In a recent progress report, Louis Pucillo, who teaches grade six, wrote that

Happy At Success Of Project

Leaders in pioneer physical fitness program in Newton are not bird watchers but are showing delight at events going on out of sight at gymnasium. Left to right, Barbara Fitts, Helene Breivogel, and Geraldine Beth Fox.

"one of the greatest contributions this program is bringing about is the noticeable attentiveness of the children during the school day."

Miss Mary Giblin, third grade teacher, wrote, "A variety of exercises has developed their muscular coordination, muscle tone, and strengthened their entire bodies. Each child has become more alert and more physically fit as an individual."

Part of the program's success is credited to the cooperation received from parents. Principal Lund sent explanatory letters to parents of remedial pupils and invited them to hear a talk by the school physician, Dr. Reevan I. Levine. Dr. Levine also gave all pupils in the remedial group a complete physical examination, urging parents to attend.

Parents have been urged to encourage their children to walk to school, do jobs around the house, shovel snow and rake leaves, Miss Breivogel said.

Mr. Lund, principal of Franklin School, attributed some of the muscular weaknesses in the children to "all our labor-saving devices. In a sense we're going against the American way of life in this program in trying to get away from all the push-button habits," he said.

The greatest physical weakness discovered through the pilot program was in the upper back, shoulder girdle and arm strength, Miss Breivogel explained. "They just don't use their arms — they use their seats instead of their arms," she added.

Mrs. Priscilla White special physical education teacher in Newton, produced figures which revealed that this year's fourth grade, which had been in the third grade intensive physical education program last year, had only a 26 per cent failure rate.

This compares with a 57 per cent failure rate in the fourth grade last year, before the program was initiated. Mrs. White tested a fourth grade in another Newton School which does not have this program, and discovered a 51 per cent failure rate.

Miss Dorothy V. Briant, associate professor of physical education at Sargent College, reported that the student teachers "are very excited about the program. It is a very worthwhile thing to do if only we can transmit this to other educators."

"Physical education is accepted on the junior or senior high school level, but not in elementary school, where it's needed most," she added.

Both Miss Briant and Miss Breivogel commented that physical education had suffered a set back in the 1940's and 1950's in reaction to the militaristic methods used in the 1930's. This was followed by a more casual method which did not emphasize vigorous physical activity.

"Today," Miss Breivogel said, "we have come back to a more balanced approach. We encourage the student to think about what he is doing instead of simply following commands."

Included in planning the program was Frank Simmons, physical education supervisor for boys in the Newton School Department.

Audiometer For Hearing Tests At Emerson College

The finest in hearing testing is now available to patients of the Robbins Speech and Hearing Clinic of Emerson College.

Through the generosity of Emerson's Business Advisory Council, of which Paul L. Beane of 47 Dudley Rd., Newton Centre, a trustee of the college, is a chairman, the clinic has put into service the first Bekey Audiometer to be found in a New England college speech clinic.

The audiometer designed by Dr. George Von Bekey, a Nobel Prize winner, is a high-performance instrument enabling audiologists to determine within fine limits the range and amount of any hearing loss a patient may have.

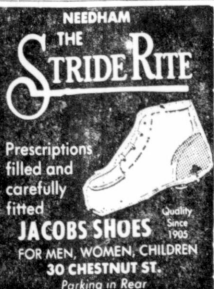

The only other Bekey Audiometers at present in the Greater Boston area are at Massachusetts General Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital in Jamaica Plain.

The instrument was presented to Emerson at ceremonies held in Governors' House on Monday, December 16.

Newton Teachers Attend Conclave

Police Lack Leads In Two Major Newton Robberies

Last week's two major criminal acts were still the object of intense investigation by the Newton police as this week's issue of The Graphic went to press. There were no new developments, the police reported, with regret.

First and foremost was the $100,000 robbery last Thursday night, when two six-footers disguised by theatrical makeup, and posing as deliverers of Christmas gifts, entered the home of Atty. Ralph Cohn at 340 Commonwealth Ave., Chestnut Hill.

Threatening the attorney's wife, Mrs. Harriett Cohn, with guns, the pair forced her to open an upstairs safe. They left her tied and with a pillowcase over her head. The 62-year-old woman, who had suffered a fractured shoulder in a fall a few weeks ago, was unhurt in the holdup.

The loot comprised jewelry worth $75,000, and $25,000 in cash and U. S. Savings Bonds and stocks.

That night Newton police headquarters received a call from a Boston College student who did not give his name, but said that he saw two men leaving the Cohn home and drive off in a car. He wrote down its registration number. It turned out to be a car stolen in Boston more than a month ago.

The second major episode occurred Saturday night, when two youths entered the home of Robert Fleischer, 212 Parker St., Newton Centre.

The two Fleischer boys were watching television when the robbers, carrying long-barreled revolvers and wearing stocking masks, burst in and ordered them upstairs. Learning from them the location of their father's room, they took $700 from the pocket of a pair of trousers there, and broke three banks open, taking $113 from them. Before leaving the house,

School Gyms Open During Yule Recess

Newton Recreation Commissioner, John B. Penny, announced today that four Newton High School gyms would be open under leadership Saturday afternoons and during the Christmas school vacation period.

The gyms at Warren, Weeks, Bigelow and Meadowbrook Junior High Schools will be open from 1:30 to 4:30 the robbers bound the boys and told them to stay on their beds.

The lads were Mark, 11 and Martin, seven.

There was a third holdup on Sunday night, but the loot was comparatively light. Elwood Chase, 60, of 233 Adams St., Newton, was walking along Watertown St. when he was tripped up by two men. They grabbed a 10-dollar bill and a single dollar from the $62 that was scattered when Chase fell.

He was on his way to change his cash for traveler's checks when he was jumped.

p.m. Saturday, Dec. 21; Saturday, Dec. 28; Monday, Dec. 30; and Tuesday, Dec. 31.

Boys and young men from 14 to 20 years in Junior High School, High School, college students home on vacation, and out of school youth are invited to use the gyms for informal basketball. Sneakers are required.

The gym programs will be under the leadership of teachers in the Newton School system. Mr. Anderton at Bigelow, at Warren, Mr. James Cameron; at Weeks, Mr. Henry Barry and Mr. O'Connell at Meadowbrook.

If this program proves popular the gyms will be open every Saturday afternoon during January and February also. Mr. Penny announced. This program is being supervised by Robert Doherty and William Barry of the Newton Recreation Department.

Gets Engineer Rating

Christmas

duced than in other years, its spiritual and religious undertones will be just as deep, and in some ways it may be even more meaningful.

The spirit, the meaning, the glory of Christmas will be the same as they have been back through the sweep of the centuries.

Hymns and prayers will pay homage to the Prince of Peace, and there will be gladness in the hearts of men for the hope, the promise and the joy He brought to earth 1963 years ago.

In many instances the lights in Yuletide displays will be on turned on later than usual.

But by Christmas Eve green trees in thousands of Newton homes, many of them visible from outside, will glisten under their glittering dress of tinsel and bulbs.

Windows will be bathed in the soft glow of colored lights.

Behind those windows preparations will be underway for the celebration of the Birthday of Christ.

Small children will be excitedly searching for the biggest possible stocking to hang by the fireplace, expressing their unbounded confidence that Santa will arrive prepared to fill it whatever its size may be.

Adults will be performing pleasant tasks, and on Christmas Eve after the youngsters have been herded protestingly to bed bundles will be brought out from hiding places to be deposited under the tree.

The plump turkey, of course, will occupy a place of special honor in the refrigerator.

The widespread feeling of goodwill among men, generated yearly by the approach of Christmas, already is evident as the Yuletide spirit climbs toward the flood tide it will reach on Christmas Eve.

It is reflected on the stores, shops and markets where the Christmas shopping rush is nearing its peak.

For those who have not yet completed their Yule shopping the proprietors of Newton stores and shops report that they are well stocked with merchandise from which a selection of Christmas gifts for both children and adults may be made.

Behind the refrain of the carols, the giving of gifts, the color of the lights and sparkling wreaths, the glitter of holly and tinsel, will be the deep spiritual theme of the oldest of the Christian holidays which will be reflected as men, women and children kneel in prayer in the churches of their religion.

Special Christmas services will be held in the churches of all faiths and denominations throughout the community.

Midnight masses will be celebrated in the Catholic churches, with thousands of worshippers filing to the altar rails to receive the sacrament of Holy Communion on the anniversary of the day when Christ was born.

Christmas rites will be held in all the Protestant churches. Choirs have been rehearsing for weeks for the special Yuletide musical programs in many churches.

Group of carolers will go through various sections of the city on Christmas Eve singing the ancient hymns of the Yuletide.

The influx of college boys and girls coming home for the Christmas holidays will start this weekend, and next week many reunions will be staged as they renew old friendships of high school days.

Postal workers are approaching the climax of their gigantic job. On next Tuesday night the grey canvas bags will lie empty and limp as the letter carriers and clerks enjoy a well-earned rest.

The spirit of Christmas is now in the air. It is manifested in many ways. Most of all it dwells in the hearts of men with the gladness born with the Babe in Bethlehem.

And there is goodwill among men which John Fitzgerald Kennedy sought to accomplish among the peoples of the world.

Here comes jolly old Santa, the red-clad chap with the flip-top pack! What's that he's carrying? A piece of coal? Well, perhaps he wants to warm himself up as he makes his rounds.

Most men and women are warmed by the inner glow that comes from choosing the perfect Christmas gifts at Jacques. And think how heart-warming it will be to receive a gift bearing Jacques' famous label! Mirabile dictu!

Just before Christmas, and while the Yule spirit runs rampant, Jacques is going to offer cashmere sport coats and cashmere outercoats at 20 percent off regular prices.

These are brand-new items — smart as a bumped head in the hall closet! They are both 100 percent cashmere, and they are the darlings of the men's wear trade in comfort, softness and sheer luxury.

It's a Christmas gift, in effect, from Jacques to you... and there's no reason why you womenfolk can't buy one as the ideal gift for that ideal man in your lives. Of course, if your husband objects to this, well, that's something else again.

But remember, this is a pre-Christmas event, involving navy and black cashmere sport coats and outercoats... at 20 percent off regular prices.

We could mention umpteen items that are wonderful gifts — such as long-sleeve knit shirts ($3.95 to $10.95), robes (as low as $8.95), gloves and mufflers ($3.95 to $7.95) — but we won't! Why should we clutter things up with details? Particularly when everyone knows that Jacques is Santa's headquarters in this area this year.

Weight Down Rear-Engine Car

The many owners of rear-engine cars in this area have been advised to add weight, preferably a bag of sand, to the front end of the car because of the effects of winter winds on steering.

Says Angus MacDonald, president of the Jug End Sports Car Club, "With all the weight in the rear, these cars can act just like a weather vane in a strong wind, and a lateral movement of a couple of inches of the front end can force the car into an oncoming lane."

"We have had many reports of near misses when there is not sufficient weight in the front baggage compartment."

"A bag of sand will not only give the added weight, but can come in handy during the winter in an emergency," he added.

Ex-Newton Man Is Ordained In Rome, Italy

Peter F. Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mullen, who lived in West Newton prior to moving to North Easton, was ordained into the Roman Catholic priesthood yesterday (Wednesday) in Christ the King Church in Rome.

He was ordained to serve the diocese of Fall River by Archbishop Martin J. O'Connor, rector of North American College in Rome, where Fr. Mullen was a student.

Before going to Rome, Fr. Mullen was graduated from Msgr. Coyle High School in Taunton, and studied at St. John's Seminary in Boston and Cardinal O'Connell Seminary in Jamaica Plain.

Born in 1938, he is the son of the former Dorothy Buck. His paternal grandparents were Capt. James J. Mullen of the Newton Police Department, and Catherine (McIsaac) Mullen.

His first public mass will be offered when he returns to this country next June or July. His family attended his ordination.

Dates Are Set For Police Exams

Three examinations for Newton Police Department positions have been announced by W. Henry Finnegan, state director of civil service.

One for promotion to captain will be held Jan. 11, and is open to the permanent lieutenants. The pay is $7310 minimum and $8200 maximum. Deadline for filing applications is Dec. 23.

The one for promotion to lieutenant, open to permanent sergeants will be held Jan. 18. The pay is $6520 minimum and $7030 maximum. Applications must be filed not later than Dec. 30.

The examination for promotion to sergeant, open to permanent regular patrolmen, will be held Jan. 25, and the deadline for applications is Jan. 6. The minimum pay is $5930, and the maximum $6440.

Clerk Certified

The director of civil service has certified Mary A. Mullen of 69 Cummings road, Newton Centre, as eligible to fill a request by the commissioner of the State Department of Public Welfare for a temporary senior clerk at $74 per week.

142 Heart Memorial Gifts Honor Late Newton People

Heart Fund gifts honoring 142 late residents of Newton have been received by the Massachusetts Heart Association's Greater Boston chapter, Dr. David Littman, president, announced this week.

Dr. Littman pointed out that the memorial gifts, given in tribute to departed relatives and friends, make possible substantial additions to Heart Association programs of life-saving research, education and community service.

"It is particularly heart-warming at this holiday season," said Doctor Littman, "to receive such impressive proof that our people not only pay thoughtful tribute to those no longer with us, but that in so doing they help pave the way for longer, healthier lives for those to whom heart research will mean so much."

Diseases of the heart and circulation account for more than half of all deaths in this community and state.

From the Marriott Motor Hotels:

A sincere note of thanks to the citizens of Newton

As founder and President of Hot Shoppes, Inc., the parent company of the Marriott Motor Hotels of Newton, it is my privilege to extend our thanks to you, the citizens of Newton, for your confidence in our organization—a confidence evidenced by the recent approval of our zoning application to permit location of a beautiful new Marriott Motor Hotel on the banks of the Charles River at Norumbega.

We are grateful for the opportunity to become a member of your community. And we want you to know that we will at all times respect the high standards and gracious traditions of Newton; we are confident that our hotel and its appearance will be in the best of taste and, in every way, an asset to your City.

Our plans call for construction of a refined and well appointed Marriott Motor Hotel at the approved site—a hotel which will include 336 beautifully designed guest rooms and suites, a banquet center, and three outstanding restaurants—a Fairfield Inn family dining room, a Sirlain & Saddle steak room, and an elegant Kona Kai Polynesian restaurant.

The Newton Marriott Motor Hotel's operations will be guided by the same high standards that comprise the hallmark of excellence for other Marriott Motor Hotels in Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Dallas, Texas, and our hotel currently under construction in downtown Atlanta, Georgia.

The tradition of dignified family service and sincere participation in community affairs has been an integral part of all phases of Hot Shoppes and Marriott Motor Hotel operations since the founding of our company in the nation's capital thirty-six years ago. This tradition is carried out in every one of our current 116 operations in 13 States and the District of Columbia. And you can be assured that the same high tradition will be maintained in your community.

Again, thank you for your welcome to us.

J. Willard Marriott,
President

Weekly Seminars By Bank Have Successful Program

A talk on "Public Relations and You" by Calvin K. Scholl, management consultant from Waltham, and a bank security program in charge of Thomas F. McLaughlin, special agent and head of the Boston office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, concluded a seven week employee seminar at the Newton Savings Bank recently.

This weekly, Thursday night, series of lectures, preceded by catered dinners, has been delivered principally by the bank's officers and supervisors. Subjects covered and speakers were as follows: Mutual Savings Banking — Frederick C. Ober, president; Creating an Image Through Advertising — William H. Carney, vice president, Dean C. Wolf Associates, Inc.; Personnel Policies — Benjamin F. Louis, vice president & treasurer; Savings Department — panel of branch and department managers: Donald P. Frail, vice treasurer—moderator.

Mrs. Joan C. Colligan, banking supervisor; Mrs. Sylvia E. Kaiser, manager Highlands Office; H. Winston Mercer, assistant treasurer; Raymond B. Thomas, assistant treasurer; Mortgage Department — Arnold E. Worth, vice president & mortgage officer; John S. Stevens, asst. treasurer.

Personal Loan Department — F. Blake Cloonen, manager, Personal Loan Dept.; Savings Bank Investment — Mr. Ober; Auditing Department — David R. Donald, asst. treasurer & auditor; John F. Swift, CPA, E. L. Pride & Co.; Accounting Department — George A. Arbuckle, asst. treasurer; Richard E. Seested, asst. treasurer; Richard G. Valanzola, manager IBM Dept.

Life Insurance Department — Ralph S. E. Sanguinetti, vice treasurer and manager, Life Insurance Department; Richard L. Linden, asst. treasurer and associate, manager Life Insurance Department; William Read, vice president and field secretary, Savings Bank Life Insurance Council.

98% of the bank's 87 employees attended on a voluntary basis.

Enlistment Now Accepted In All Marines' Fields

An unlimited quota in all fields of the U.S. Marine Corps has been allotted this area, according to Gunnery Sgt. C.B. Reichert, recruiter at the office on City Hall Common, Waltham.

He also said that aviation duty can be guaranteed before enlisting to those who qualify. The sergeant called attention to the following four advantages of the Marine Corps Pool:

1. Entrance examinations will be taken immediately and the results made known to the applicants
2. Immediate enlistment into the Marine Corps Reserve (inactive) places the applicant into a nondraft category.
3. A definite departure date is established by the applicant which enables him to make definite plans before leaving for the service.
4. All time up to and including 120 days spent at home on inactive duty counts for both pay and promotion periods after going on active duty.

charge of a committee composed of Mr. Linden, Mrs. Doris L. Benger, asst. secretary, and Mr. Louis.

Tree Lights Can Be Dangerous

Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., warns that Christmas tree lighting, if not correctly done, can take much of the joy out of this joyous season. He makes suggestions as follows:

"Wax candles are highly dangerous. Don't use them on or near the tree.

"Check lighting sets, electric candles and similar holiday lighting equipment. Also examine extension cords for frayed insulation, loose connections and broken sockets.

"Use only lighting equipment carrying the Underwriters Laboratories (UL) label. Unlabeled materials, domestic and foreign, seldom meet safety standards. Be sure the fuse on the circuit serving tree and other lighting is not over 15 amperes. Good sets with a fuse in the plug, bearing a UL label, are available and recommended.

"If extensive lighting is planned, call in a licensed electrician.

"Turn off all tree and other indoor holiday lighting before retiring or leaving the house."

Yule Dance By Trojan Club To Fight Fibrosis

Newton high school boys, members of the Trojan Club, will help in assuring the success of the club's annual Christmas Eve dance to be held Tuesday, December 24, at the Statler Hilton Hotel, Boston, starting at 8 o'clock.

Proceeds of the dance will go to aid the fight against Cystic Fibrosis. Last year the club raised the sum of $5200 for the campaign. High school boys from Newton and Brookline comprise the club's membership.

Health Dept. Clerk

January 25 has been set by W. Henry Finnegan, director of civil service, as the date for an examination for the rating of senior statistical clerk in the Newton Health Department.

One vacancy is to be filled, and the minimum pay is $3590, the maximum $4220.

Public Health Nurse

A list of persons eligible for the position of public health nurse in the Newton Health Department, established by the director of civil service, names Joyce C. Hill of 15 Hovey street, Newton, and Elinore G. Nee of 87 Tolman street, West Newton.

Political Highlights

have been succeeded by Martin, and the Presidency would have passed from a Democrat to a Republican. That would have represented an upheaval rather than a smooth transition in the national government. But the columnists now questioning whether McCormack should remain next in line for the Presidency raised no objection to Martin back in '47 and '48.

With all due respect and deference to Joe Martin who was an able Speaker, it would be preposterous to claim that McCormack is any less qualified for the Presidency today than Martin was 16 years ago.

A legitimate argument could be raised against McCormack if he were to stand for election as President. That is that he has reached the age where the enormous Presidential burdens could prove too heavy for him to assume for a four-year period.

McCormack, however, isn't running for the office. He simply is holding himself in readiness in case any emergency should develop in the next 13 months.

With the possible exception of Lyndon Johnson, John W. McCormack probably is better qualified to be President than any Vice President back through the sweep of the years who stood only a heartbeat from the Presidency.

It is fair to say that John McCormack is better prepared for the Presidency at this moment than was Harry Truman when Franklin D. Roosevelt died in 1945.

John McCormack fills the second most important and powerful post in the national government. His power far surpassed that of Lyndon Johnson when John F. Kennedy was president.

The truth is that some Washington commentators have never given John McCormack full credit for his outstanding work and his great accomplishments in Congress.

That is largely because McCormack is a modest, self-effacing man who does not shoulder anyone aside to get the spotlight.

He shuns Washington's social life and cocktail parties to which some of the commentators attach so much importance. He is too busy working to attend such affairs. That may be a grievous failing in the eyes of some capital pontificators.

McCormack was seriously boomed for the Democratic nomination for Vice President back in 1948. He had widespread support and would have been a potent contender if there had been an open convention fight. Instead, he stepped aside when Harry Truman indicated he wanted Alben Barkley as his running mate.

In 1956 Massachusetts Democrats voted 3-2 for McCormack as their Presidential preference over Adlai Stevenson who was subsequently nominated a second time as the Democratic candidate for President.

Many honors have come to McCormack in his public career. Except for his election to the Speakership, it's doubtful that he values any of them more highly than the vote of confidence the people of Massachusetts gave him in the 1956 Presidential primary.

One can't help wonder what kind of man the columnists, who have been rapping McCormack, think should be standing next in line for the Presidency.

Shouldn't he be a man experienced in government who could move into the breach in a national emergency? If so, who better can meet that test than John McCormack?

It's also becoming a little wearying to read in syndicated columns that John McCormack is no Sam Rayburn. Of course, he isn't. The two men were different in many ways. There was only one Sam Rayburn just as there is only one John McCormack.

But it would be just as fair and accurate to observe that in some respects Sam Rayburn was no John McCormack.

John McCormack really needs no defense from this writer or anyone else. His record speaks for itself. His name will live in history long after those who directed barbs at him are forgotten.

Newsman Couldn't Tell True Story on Galvin

A reporter can't always write the entire story. Sometimes there are things which can't be said.

It was that way when Senator Michael J. (Iron Mike) Galvin of Newton came out of the hospital three times to vote for Governor Peabody's bill for the reorganization of the State Public Works Department.

Galvin, who served as Under Secretary of Labor under the late Maurice J. Tobin and was the commander of the 94th Infantry Division, was known for his blazing courage both on the field of battle in World War II and in the field of politics in 1963.

You see Galvin was dying of cancer when he left his hospital bed and went to the State House to help save Peabody's DPW reorganization measure.

The newsmen knew that, but they couldn't write it while Galvin might read it.

At the time the doctors gave him about six to eight weeks of life and said he couldn't live out the year.

You wouldn't think a dying man would give much thought to long-range reforms in the State Public Works Department, but "Iron Mike" Galvin was made of stern stuff.

In fairness, it should be emphasized that neither Governor Peabody nor Senate President John E. Powers ever asked Galvin to leave the hospital to vote on the DPW reorganization. That was strictly Galvin's own idea.

When Galvin came into the Senate chamber in a wheelchair, wan and weak and wasted, probably wracked with pain, the newsmen covering the session knew he wouldn't live to see the effects of the law for which he was voting.

If Galvin also knew, he gave no indication of it.

He not only voted that first day he came out of the hospital, but he asked permission to speak from his wheelchair.

Powers waived the rules, then turned his head momentarily so Galvin couldn't see his face until he had brought his emotions under control.

Galvin chatted almost gaily that day. He said he was going to lead the Veterans' Day parade. He acted as if he was trying to cheer up the people around him.

The other Senators and reporters knew he couldn't lead any parade, that he was paralyzed from the waist down, but they joined in the act and nodded their assent.

The only difference was that Iron Mike meant what he was saying. He was dying, but he did ride in an open car at the head of the Nov. 11 parade.

During a stop at the State House, where he was hailed by Governor Peabody and fellow Senators, Galvin said he'd see us at the State House on New Year's Day when the Senate convened for its 1964 session. But this time "Iron Mike" didn't sound as if he really meant it. He died one month and one day later.

Would Ban Law-Makers From Practising Law

Representative Charles Iannello of Roxbury has filed a bill for consideration at the 1964 legislative session which is not likely to arouse much enthusiasm among his lawyer-colleagues.

Iannello's measure seeks to prohibit members of the Legislature from practising law. Such a ban, of course, would be ridiculous, but not much more so than some of the other restrictions imposed by the so-called Conflict-of-Interest law.

A strong suspicion exists on Beacon Hill that Iannello had his tongue in his cheek when he filed his bill and that he was trying to prove some kind of point.

Some legal experts have wondered whether the lawyer-legislators were violating the Conflict-of-Interest statute in voting on pay raises for judges before whom they try cases.

That hardly seems consistent with the interpretation that the retiring public works commissioner is prohibited from becoming associated with any firm doing work with the Public Works Department.

POOR DADDY!
WHAT'S HE GOT FOR CHRISTMAS...

The house is bedlam. A tangle of joyous kids and gay Christmas wrappings litter the floor.

In the midst of it all, Mommy and Daddy barely have time for a quick kiss, and a "Merry Christmas". Then, she's off to the kitchen to start Christmas dinner, while the kids play gleefully with their new toys.

But something bothers Daddy... something he tries hard to define. Is this Christmas? Is this what it really means?

He searches — but finds no answer. Later, at dinner, he sits at the head of the table. He pauses, between bites of turkey and stuffing... stares at his family — his wife, his children. One by one, they look back at him... and, for a moment, all is still. Then, as if guided by an unseen hand, the children arise — even the toddler — and go to him.

As they crowd around, he sees their shining eyes, watching him now with trust, with gratitude, with love. He picks up the youngest and feels the small arms wind around his neck. "Daddy... you're my Daddy."

He glances at Mommy in intimate, understanding silence... and that's when he knows!

Yes, this is Christmas... this, and all year 'round. This... my family, my home, my heritage. This... my life... the gifts that I receive.

Poor Daddy? No. Rich Daddy!

Rich in blessings... rich in satisfaction... rich in giving...

These. The greatest gifts of all.

Police Calling Owner Of Half Of Ranch House

Anyone misplace part of a house?

State Police on the Massachusetts Turnpike are looking for the owner of one quarter of a ranch house that has been parked on a trailer in the tandem-trailer area at Interchange 14, in Weston.

Segments of houses are frequently transported on low-bed trailers over the Massachusetts Turnpike. And some times they are parked temporarily in the tandem-trailer area until a permit can be obtained to move the load over state highways.

But this house fragment has been parked for almost three weeks, and no one remembers whence it came. To add to the mystery, there is no plate or other means of identification on the trailer.

The owner can retrieve his house segment by contacting Captain Michael E. Faherty at the State Police Barracks in Southboro. The Captain will be so happy to be rid of the thing, he may not even issue a ticket for illegal parking—but don't bank on it.

Action Due On George L. White

One of the items on the docket for the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next Monday, Dec. 16, is one that has been held and laid on the table. It calls for action on the Mayor's submission of the name of George L. White, 36 Walnut Pk., Newton, as a member of the Planning Board to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Warren A. Sutherland on his being elected to the Board of Aldermen.

Other tabled items that may be removed and acted on Monday are three having to do with the controversial question of a new city incinerator, its location and its financing, and a petition of Verne Hillman, who does business as Custom Auto Service for removal of his business to 160 Charlemont St., Newton Highlands.

Alderman William H. Prentice raised a charter objection to the latter item at the previous regular meeting.

1100 Invitations Sent For Newton Cotillions

Parent volunteers for the Newton Cotillions, which for the past 15 years has sponsored a series of dances for Newton's young people, have recently mailed 1100 invitations to resident students of the Newtons, according to Mrs. Thomas S. Hayden, this year's chairman.

Originally known as the Normandie Dance Series, these dances have as their purpose the pleasure and social enrichment of Newton high school age young people. Over the years the Cotillions have also provided funds for scholarships and for such youth organizations as the American Field Service.

Mrs. Ray Huling, this year's treasurer, reports that more than $3000 has been given for these purposes since 1958. Last year's scholarship winner was Miss Elaine Panagopolous, a Newton High School graduate, who is now a freshman at Wellesley College.

The setting for the dances this year will again be the Chestnut Hill Country Club. Serving as officers with Mrs. Hayden and Mrs. Huling are Mrs. David D. Nickerson, assistant chairman, Mrs. Hosea Wheeler, secretary, and Mrs. John Gurry, assistant treasurer.

The student representatives assisting the Cotillion committee are William O'Brien, chairman, Susan Aldrich, April Crosby, Walter H. Dietz, Jr., Robert Elder, Michael Gradone, Ralph Hamilton, Donald Hayden, Karen Hamon, William Horner, Pamela Huselbee, Sandra Jones, Paul Kirshen, Thoms Marquis, Michael McCutcheon, Ann McDaniel, Ronald Mertens, Pamela Nabseth, Elizabeth Nickerson, Geneva Simmons, and Gregory Steinsieck.

Serving as patronesses from the various villages of Newton are the following:

Auburndale and Newton Lower Falls, Mrs. Donald Manchester, Chairman, Mrs. John Carr, Mrs. John F. Crosby, Mrs. Michael E. Gradone, Mrs. Melbourne Hemeon, Mrs. Edward C. Maloof, and Mrs. Charles E. Seymour.

Newton, Mrs. Charles E. Smith, Chairman, Mrs. Ralph L. Angier, Mrs. Harry H. Crosby, Mrs. Kenneth E. Gleason, Mrs. John Gurry, Mrs. Paul S. Rich, Mrs. George W. St. Clair, and Mrs. William Seegitz.

Newton Centre, Mrs. Walter P. Mutter, Chairman, Mrs. John Billinsky, Mrs. Edward DeGeorge, Mrs. Robert R. Elder, Jr., Mrs. William J. McPhee, and Mrs. F. Weston Whittier.

Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls, Mrs. Francis T. Gowen and Mrs. William G. Johnson, Chairman, Mrs. Samuel N. Aldrich, Mrs. Alfred S. Carroll, Mrs. Joseph Cotter, Mrs. William E. Hogan, Mrs. Charles A. Lytle, Mrs. Robert S. Mullen,

Mrs. Don H. Ross, Mrs. Robert T. Steinsieck, and Mrs. Charles A. Thompson, Jr. Newtonville, Mrs. Richard C. Huselbee, Chairman, Mrs. Walter A. Clisam, Mrs. Richard A. Crosby, Mrs. Warren L. Launch School Project

$300,000 Religious School Is Underway

Construction began last week on Temple Reyim's new Religious School building which will arise adjacent to the present sanctuary and social hall at 1860 Washington Street, Newton.

To be built at a cost of $300,000, the structure will comprise 14 classrooms, a youth hall with a seating capacity of 300, a chapel to seat 75, a library, a rabbi's study, administrative offices, a Sisterhood gift shop, check room and a new paved parking area.

The building, which is being constructed by A. J. Martini

Company of Medford, is scheduled to be completed in September of this year, according to Sol Kaufman, chairman of the design committee, and George Chalatzky, building committee chairman.

Architectural plans for the school were drawn by Architects Collaborative, the firm which designed the original Temple.

Temple Reyim's building was awarded top honors at the 1961 Boston Arts Festival in the field of religious architecture, and the new building has been designed to blend in with the original structure's architectural patterns.

Superior Court Hearing To Set Hotel Decision

City Solicitor Matt B. Jones will represent Newton tomorrow (Friday), Dec. 27, at a hearing in Middlesex Superior Court at which it will be determined whether start of construction on the $4,000,000 motor hotel complex at Norumbega Park can be further delayed by a temporary restraining order of Justice Edward O. Gordin against the issue of a building permit by the city.

The court order followed the bringing of a citizen's equity and, notice of which was received by Building Commissioner Vincent D. Burns in the following telegram from Michaels and Alder, attorneys, of 90 State street, Boston:

"Dear Commissioner Burns: Please be advised that Justice Gordin has temporarily restrained you and the city of Newton from issuing any building permit to the Marriott Motor Hotel. Service will follow."

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Busy Political Year Ahead; New Scandals To Rock State

Politically, the coming year will be a hectic and history-making one both at the state and national levels.

It will be a year which will see two national conventions and a Presidential campaign, the repercussions from which will be felt here in Massachusetts.

The new year will not be many weeks old before the people of the Bay State will be shocked by explosive developments resulting from the far-reaching investigation being conducted by the Crime Commission.

An indictment will be sought against at least one prominent public figure in late January or early February. If it is returned by a Grand Jury, it will rock the State.

What effect the indictments stemming from the crime board probe will have upon next November's election in Massachusetts is a question on which the political analysts can only conjecture.

MRS. E. T. PARKHURST
Mrs. Parkhurst
1964 Chairman
For Heart Fund

A well known Newton woman, Mrs. E. Tyler Parkhurst, 64 Parker St., has been appointed general chairman of the 1964 Heart Fund in this city.

Announcement of the appointment was made this week by Charles W. Bartlett, state campaign chairman.

A public-spirited leader in community affairs, Mrs. Parkhurst is a former president of the World Affairs Council of Newton, and of the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

She is the present chairman of the education committee of the Newton PTA Council, and of the local branch of the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, (UNICEF).

Mrs. Parkhurst will take general charge of a month-long fund raising campaign in February sponsored by the Massachusetts and American Heart Associations.

In commenting on the February drive, Mrs. Parkhurst said, "I have every confidence that our people will make the 1964 Heart Fund campaign the most successful in history, and in doing so will serve ourselves, our fellow men and generations yet to come."

Climax of the campaign starts on Sunday, February 23, when a week-long community-wide, house-to-house solicitation will be conducted to allow everyone in Newton an opportunity to support the Heart Fund.

Snow Costs City $7000 Per Inch

Each inch of snow costs Newton about $7000.

That was revealed as the Board of Aldermen approved a $50,000 appropriation for snow-removal Monday night at a special meeting called by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

Whether the $50,000 voted Monday night will be enough to see the city through the end of the year depends upon the whims of the weather.

$30-Million Increase Seen In Newton Home Valuations

Tax assessments on a majority of Newton's 23,000 residential properties will be increased as a result of a three-year revaluation survey which has just been completed, The Graphic learned today.

The total increase in the valuations placed on the residential properties will amount to about $30 million.

That would represent nearly $2 million in additional taxes on the basis of the present tax rate.

Purpose of the revaluation is to arrive at assessments which are fair and equitable for all property-owners.

During the past three years the assessments on all properties in Newton have been reviewed, and the city assessors now are preparing to make adjustments in the valuation on residential properties on the basis of that study.

Tentative estimates are that the tax assessments will be raised on between 60 and 70 per cent of the homes in Newton.

All property-owners will be notified by mail in January of the changes made in their assessments. For most of them it will mean higher tax bills.

Increases will be made in the assessments on most of the older homes in the city.

In some cases the assessors found that homes were over-assessed, and reductions will be made in the valuations placed on such dwellings.

Assessments on some of the newer dwellings, which have been built during the past six years, will remain unchanged. That is because the assessments placed on such properties were up-to-date and in conformance with the standards now being followed.

If all other factors which play a part in determining the amount of the tax rate were to remain the same next year as they were this year, a $30 million increase in the assessed value of taxable property would result in a $6 drop in the tax rate.

However, the factors which determine the amount of the tax rate will not be the same during the coming year.

In fact, some municipal observers are wondering if Mayor Gibbs will be able to prevent a jump in the tax rate even with the $30 million increase in the total valuation of taxable property.

School and municipal costs also will be substantially higher in 1964 than in 1963.

The city's reserve fund also will probably be at least $1 million smaller at the end of this year than it was at the close of 1962.

Mayor Gibbs To Launch Third Term January 1st.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs will outline his plans and proposed programs for 1964 in his inaugural address on New Year's Day as he begins his third term as Newton's chief municipal executive.

The Mayor is expected to announce his intention of pressing forward with the urban renewal and rehabilitation program during the coming year and of seeking funds for a number of new facilities which would serve the people of Newton.

Supreme Court Justice John V. Spalding, who resides in Newton, will administer the oath of office to Mayor Gibbs, as he did in 1960 and 1962.

Mayor Gibbs then will swear in the 24 members of the Board of Aldermen and the eight members of the School Committee during the inaugural ceremonies which start in the Aldermanic Chamber at 3 p.m. on New Year's Day.

Seven newly elected members of the Board of Aldermen and one new member of the School Committee will form-

The new Aldermen are:

John F. Holden of 27 Jackson ter., Newton, Alderman-at-large from Ward 1.

Warren A. Sutherland of 40 Williston rd., Auburndale, Alderman-at-large from Ward 4.

William Lane Bruce of 934 Beacon st., Newton Center, Alderman-at-large from Ward 6.

Andrew J. Magni of 140 Adams st., Newton, Ward Alderman from Ward 1.

Paul J. Burke of 53 Jerome ave., West Newton, Ward Alderman from Ward 5.

Daniel W. Jackson of 362 Wolcott st., Auburndale, Ward Alderman from Ward 4.

Edward C. Uehlein of 217 Varick rd., Waban, Ward Alderman from Ward 5.

The new member of the School Committee is Dr. Way Dong Woo of 70 Burdian rd., Newton Centre, who was elected in November as the School Board member from Ward 8.

The inaugural rites will follow the same stately but simple ritual as in the past.

City Clerk Monte G. Bas-has will call the meeting of the Board of Aldermen to order and ask for the election

Cancer Drive Gets Strong Newton Aid

Newton women have taken prominent parts and have contributed greatly to the success of the campaign held by Aid For Cancer Research, a charitable organization comprising women from this area.

Mrs. Alfred L. Novick, of Waban, is president of the group, and announced this week that her organization has raised more than $250,000 over the past fifteen years in the fight against cancer.

Most recent contribution of the women's group was the gift of a valuable Bowman In-

New Year Baby To Be Winner Of '64 Contest

The arrival of the first baby born to Newton citizens after the stroke of midnight, December 31st, and which heralds the coming of a New Year, will be remembered again by gifts donated by local merchants.

The Graphic's annual "First Baby Contest" will again announce the winner and the many prizes to be provided for the brand, new youngsters and the proud parents.

Following are the contest rules which were established for the event this year:

Unique Course For Scouts Is Underway Here

Boy Scout and Explorer Post leaders in Greater Boston have been invited to attend the unique "Tantamous" training course for Scouters offered by Norumbega Council.

The course which is conducted in Council headquarters in Newtonville and at the 500-acre Nobscot Scout Reservation in Framingham and Sudbury has been called "one of the most advanced Scout training programs in New England".

This course, the 17th to be conducted in recent years, is the first one to be opened to Scouters in other Greater Boston councils under a new plan of cooperation developed by the Greater Boston Councils Coordinating Committee.

Scouters attending the course, which opened, Dec. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in Norumbega Council offices at 259 Walnut st., Newtonville, will receive a "fun program" of learning in the operation of Scouting units. Emphasis will be on learning by doing and the Scouters will function by patrols in a Scout troop organization. Highlight of the six-week course will be a week-end overnight program at Nobscot Reservation.

Scouters must be 18-years of age or older to qualify and must now be, or in training to be Scoutmasters, Assistant Scoutmasters or Explorer Post leaders.

The program is conducted by the Leadership Training Committee of Norumbega Council under the leadership of Chairman George M. Collins.

Increase In Resources Reported By Local Bank

Recently elected president of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company, Nathan I. Greene, stated at the bank's annual Christmas Party:

"During the past seven years, the resources of the Newton-Waltham Bank and Trust Company have increased from $60,000,000 to $90,000,000 and new or re-modeled offices have been opened in Chocituate, Wayland, Newton Upper Falls and Newton Corner. In Waltham, two new offices at 475 Winter Street and at 300 Moody Street have been opened and the 637

Main Street has been completely renovated."

Mr. Greene paid tribute to his predecessor, George L. White, under whose leadership so much of the bank's progress has been made.

"Now," he added, "We must continue our growth and services to the communities we serve. Our immediate goal is to make ours a $100,000,000 bank."

Mr. Greene also announced that the directors of the bank had approved an Annual Bonus for each member of the organization. He then commented on the current amendment to the Retirement Plan for employees which provides for an increase of 10% in past and future benefits due to an increase in the income from investments of the Fund and a revision of the Group Annuity tables.

Among the bank's directors in attendance at the party were George P. Davis, John J. Flynn, III, W. Hart Nichols, Harold G. Travis, George L. White, Benjamin F. Wood and former Directors John J. Flynn, Sr. and J. Sidney Stone.

of a temporary presiding officer.

Wendell R. Bauckman, who is to be reelected president of the Aldermanic Board, will be designated to preside temporarily over the proceedings.

Bauckman then will name a committee of three Aldermen to escort the eight School Committee members into the Aldermanic chamber.

Next Bauckman will designate a committee of three Aldermen and one School Board member to escort Mayor Gibbs and his guests into the chamber.

The Rev. Harold R. Fray, Jr., of the Eliot Church will give the invocation.

Justice Spalding then will swear in Mayor Gibbs, and the Mayor's first official actions of his third term will be to administer the oath to the members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee.

A 30-minute inaugural address by Mayor Gibbs will close the program which will be followed by a reception in the Mayor's office.

MTA Deficit To Add 4 Cent Tax

An addition of four cents to the 1964 tax rate is expected because Newton's share of the second highest deficit in the history of the Metropolitan Transit Authority makes the city responsible for an estimated $150,444.69 to make up the $20,664,000 deficit.

Newton's tax rate in 1963 included 49 cents on the MTA deficit. Next year, the figure will be 54 cents.

Budget

For master's degree, minimum $5400, maximum $9750.

Master's degree plus one year, minimum $5600, maximum $9950.

Doctor's degree, minimum $5900, maximum $10,600.

Potential notable service maximum for bachelor's degree $10,650. For bachelor's degree plus one year $9950. Bachelor's degree, notable service $11,150.

Potential notable service for master's degree $11,250. For master's degree plus one year $11,450. For doctor's degree $12,100.

Annual increments were established as follows:

Bachelor's degree, two increments at $250 — steps 2 and 3; four increments at $300 — steps 4, 5, 6 and 7. Six increments at $350 — steps 8 through 14.

Master's degree and master's degree plus one year, two increments at $250 — steps 2 and 3; one at $400 — step 4; three at $300 — steps 5, 6 and 7; one at $450 — step 8; six at $350 — steps 9 through 14.

Doctor's degree, two at $250 — steps 2 and 3; one at $400 — step 4; three at $300 — steps 5, 6 and 7; one at $450 — step 8; seven at $350 — steps 9 through 15.

The foregoing increases were those of a schedule at which the School Committee had arrived after many hours of consideration of one proposed by the Teachers' Salary Committee. Following an executive session held shortly before midnight Monday, Chairman Haskell C. Freeman explained to the Teacher's Committee members that his committee had decided to grant increases according to the school board's schedule. He pointed out that there was no great difference between the two schedules, and that the major difference lay in the areas in which the increases were being granted.

A new salary policy for clerical and secretarial personnel was voted as follows:

Secretary clerk, 10-month year in elementary schools, minimum $1600, maximum $3125, annual increment $100. Twelve-month year, minimum $2450, maximum $4600, annual increment $150.

Senior secretary - senior clerk, 12-month year, minimum $2675, maximum $5125, annual increment $150.

Garden Club Meeting To Feature Flower Lecture

On Thursday, January 9, the House and Garden Club of Wellesley will present Miss Mary C. Takahashi, who will speak on the subject, "Traditional and Contemporary Japanese Flower Arrangements." Miss Takahashi's lecture will take place at 1 p.m. at the Wellesley Community Playhouse. She will be introduced by Mrs. Frank Nichol, president of the House and Garden Club. A door prize will be awarded at the lecture.

Miss Takahashi was born in Berkeley, Calif., and is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley. During World War II she went to Chicago and studied at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts. In 1954 and 1960 she went to Japan for further study of Japanese Flower Arrangement in the oldest school of Japanese Flower Arrangement, The Ikenobo School. In 1959 she founded the Chicago chapter of Ikenobo International and was its first president. Miss Takahashi has given up designing wallpaper to devote full time to her lecturing throughout the United States.

Tickets for Miss Takahashi's lecture may be obtained from Mrs. H. Wheeler at 237-9121 and Mrs. J. Sanders Haas at 235-7105 for a nominal donation. Proceeds from the lecture will aid in the upkeep and improvement of the club's Civic Project, The Wellesley Common.

Mrs. Robert B. Kinnach, who is chairman of the ways and means committee, is also in charge of this event. She will be assisted in making arrangements for Miss Takahashi's lecture by the following members of her committee: Mrs. Sherman C. Bedford, Mrs. Eugene Bruce, Mrs. William D. Follett, Mrs. Frederick R. Garon, Jr., Mrs. J. Sanders Haas, Mrs. Robert P. Neilson, Mrs. Charles A. Palloca, Jr., and Mrs. James H. Wheeler.

Mrs. H. Eugene Bruce is in charge of the ushers who will include Mrs. Daniel R. Ewing, Jr., Mrs. Robert C. Hussey, Mrs. Aram Pothier, Mrs. Robert Woods and Mrs. John C. McFarlin.

Mrs. H. Eugene Bruce is in charge of the ushers who will include Mrs. Daniel R. Ewing, Jr., Mrs. Robert C. Hussey, Mrs. Aram Pothier, Mrs. Robert Woods and Mrs. John C. McFarlin.

MRS. HELEN KAPLAN

Newton Woman To Conduct TV Panel on Aging

Mrs. Helen Kaplan, of Newton, research worker on the problems of the aging, will conduct a television panel dealing with the urgent problems of older people, on Channel 7, Sunday afternoon, December 29 at 3 o'clock.

The Newton woman announced that the panel will endeavor to ascertain whether our traditional admiration of youthfulness has caused us to isolate the older members of our population.

Helen Kaplan is the creator of the radio series, "Looking Ahead" currently featured on WNAC. The radio programs are "especially designed for the older generation, for their families and friends, for the men and women in the professions which cater to their needs, and for all of us who are looking forward to the fulfillment of a long and vigorous life," Mrs. Kaplan explained.

On Sunday, December 29 the television panel will include Dr. Peter Townsend, London School of Economics; Dr. Donald Kent, director of the Office of Aging, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D.C.; Dr. F. Marott Sinex, professor and chairman of the Department of Bio-Chemistry, Boston University Medical Center; Dr. Ethel Shanas, associate professor of Sociology, University Medical Center; Dr. Ethel Shanas, associate professor of Sociology, University of Chicago; and Bill Hahn, radio and television personality.

Mrs. Kaplan, a Newton resident, studied at Radcliffe College, and at the Boston University School of Social Work, and has been connected with several of the social agencies in the Boston area. In private life she is Mrs. Bernard I. Kaplan, wife of a Boston attorney.

fusion Pump for cancer chemotherapy to the Massachusetts

Eye and Ear Infirmary.

Dr. Daniel Miller, surgeon in charge of the Tumor Clinic within the Department of Otolaryngology at the Infirmary, accepted the gift for the institution.

Representatives of Aid to Cancer Research were given a demonstration and explanation of the operation of the pump by Dr. Miller and Dr. Werner D. Chasin, assistant in Otolaryngology and a member of the Tumor Clinic staff.

Through use of the pump, medicines can be introduced directly into the artery where they are most effective in reaching the malignant cells.

President Mrs. Novick stated that the energetic women of Aid to Cancer Research raise their funds by sponsoring various projects such as cake sales, card parties, and an annual luncheon-fashion show which will be held on April 15th at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

A particularly important source of financial support for their work comes through contributions to the organization's Memorial Fund.

Officers serving with the Waban president, are, Mrs. Louis Katz, Brookline, first vice president; Mrs. Melvin Norris, Newton, second vice president; Mrs. Murray Shlager, Brookline, treasurer; Mrs. Max Mayer, Roxbury, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Bernard D. Frank, West Newton, recording secretary.

Members of the advisory board include, Dr. Sidney Farber, chairman, Dr. Joseph C. Aub, Dr. Francis Moore, Dr. Shields Warren, and Dr. David Weisberger.

Season Of Vandalism

The 1963 Christmas and New Year holiday season has brought along the usual accompaniment of vandalism and senseless wanton destruction.

Christmas light bulbs stolen or smashed, yuletide greenery ripped down, wreaths stolen or defaced, are some items in the annual toll taken by hoodlums here and elsewhere.

The lights on a well known Newton Memorial Tree, located on church property and dedicated to the memory of a local youth whose final resting place is marked by the tree, are not spared by the wreckers.

The family of the deceased youth has replaced more than fifty bulbs in one week following their theft or destruction by vandals.

Folks with normal minds find it difficult to understand the mental workings of human beings who vent their spleen on the bright habiliments of the season which celebrates the Birth of Christ.

It would appear that those who cannot conjure up a modicum of respect for Christmas and all that it represents are in serious trouble and have scant prospects for a well ordered life in the years ahead.

Reports from communities outside Newton list acts of vandalism going so far as to actually smash the figures in an outdoor creche. Strange indeed are the dark and devious workings of the inept and twisted mind.

A bleak commentary on our times was one beautiful creche not too far from here with heavy chicken wire firmly affixed to the structure, locking in the lovely large figures and protecting them from destructive hands.

It is discouraging to those citizens who each year attempt to provide beauty and enchantment to the local scene at Christmas time only to have their efforts destroyed by the brainless fringe of the population. There also is the factor of expense involved in replacing decorations. The "Season of Lights" is annually at the mercy of the light-headed among us.

Peculiarly enough, the wanton destruction wrought by these hoodlums goes on and on, each Christmas season repeating the tales of violence of the year before. Verily, the great majority of our citizens, the law abiding and decent among us, are long suffering and of extreme and continued patience.

Beauty of Lights in the Night

One of the most attractive displays of Christmas lights is exhibited this year at the Middlesex County House of Correction at Billerica.

For several years past, this spot has been one to thrill the motorist driving along Route 3 after dark. This year, the illumination surpasses any of the others.

Sheriff Howard Fitzpatrick and his staff at the Billerica institution are to be congratulated. It is a Middlesex County beauty spot and one of the most elaborate lightings to be seen anywhere in this area.

The view is particularly impressive and breathtaking for those driving south on Route 3, as the myriad of intermingled colors glows against the completely dark background.

However, drivers are warned to keep a wary eye on the rear view mirror; this is a busy traffic thoroughfare.

Deface Memorial Tree

The time has come when the beautiful evergreen on the lawn of the First Church in Newton at the corner of Homer street and Centre street is lighted with Christmas bulbs as a living memorial to the boy whose final resting place is under its roots where he is near his church and a beloved Christmas.

Every year the family has been disappointed in the great loss of bulbs, stolen, broken or disturbed by some persons who apparently have no respect for Christmas, the church, a young man's final resting place or even for grounds and property of the church.

Each day for the past week, the family has replaced anywhere from thirty to fifty bulbs on the tree. Why don't parents remind their children that this is not "just another lighted Christmas Tree?" (Name Withheld on Request)

A Job Well Done

The entire city of Newton can now offer thanks to Mayor Gibbs and those members of the Board of Aldermen who have voted to build the new incinerator in the coming year.

It has been over two years since the Mayor has asked the city fathers for the funds necessary to replace the old, defective incinerator now working overtime to keep up with the mountain of material being fed daily. The need for the new facility has never been greater than shown recently when the current plant on Elliott street collapsed and was temporarily repaired several weeks ago.

A modern plant will be built that can operate efficiently and cleanly to better serve all the people of Newton for the coming generation.

A hearty thanks again from the people of Newton.

Sincerely yours,
 Harold M. Band, President

Praise For College

To the Editor,
 Newton Graphic

Dear Sir:

We would like to express our excitement and pleasure that Newton Junior College has received accreditation from NEACSS, thus becoming the first accredited public two-year college in New England.

We hope that young people (and older ones) in Newton will recognize and avail themselves of the splendid opportunity open to them here in their own town to advance their education beyond the high school at a minimum cost to them. The college offers them not only training for technical skills, but also an associate of arts degree from which they may transfer into the junior year of a senior college.

No one need hesitate to apply for admission, for the special function of a community college is to help the person who applies to find out what he is capable of and to achieve it, without undue concern over past problems.

The many persons in Newton city government and school committee, and the directors, administration, faculty, staff, students, and benefactors of Newton Junior College, whose dedicated efforts have made possible this truly outstanding accomplishment for the benefit of the community, deserve the sincere congratulations and commendation of all Newton citizens. Our unqualified support is needed to help the college develop its quality and services.

Sincerely yours,
 Eloise Proctor

Headlights and Highlights From Newton High School

By KATHY WATERS

Supper, a hootenanny, and a talent show comprised the Senior Supper held recently in the Newton High School Gym. The purpose of the event was to raise money for the scholarship program that the Senior class is planning to establish.

The student chairman was Arthur "Woody" Bernard; and the various committees were headed by Fran Nesson, Vicki Hambro, Renie Kay, Debbie Conant, Bob Brady, Chris Wood, and Don Hayden.

Chinarama, the second Tigerama of the season, was an experimental first which separated the two high schools. About 400 students were present.

Finger pastories and music were the ingredients of the December Musicales held on the monstrous day of Friday the 13th. A dessert and concert of this kind is new to Newton High, but proved a success as shown by the large audience of close to 700.

The proceeds went to the Newton High School Music Club Scholarship Fund, which awards a scholarship annually to a deserving senior to continue in the field of music. Entertainment was provided by the Symphony Orchestra, the Big "N" Tiger Band, a Cappella Choir, Madrigals and Girls' Choir.

Officers of the Newton High School Chemistry Club, elected at the club's first meeting, are Fred Mansfield, President; Harlan Polishook, Vice-president; Barney Rothstein, Treasurer; and Jennifer Finkel, Secretary. Mr. J. C. Hall is the faculty advisor.

Members of the honor roll for the last marking period are, from Bacon House: Susan M. Altman, Gretchen B. Bachrach, Richard B. Blazer, Charles A. Brown, Robert S. Brown, Jeffrey R. Burns, Lynne M. Clergyman Is Women's Club Artist Guest

The Rev. Roger W. Palmquist presented "The Wonder of It All" at the December meeting of the West Newton Woman's Club held last week at the Second Church in West Newton.

Mrs. Earl L. Ham, program chairman, introduced Rev. Palmquist who said that although his profession was the ministry, he was an artist and cartoonist by avocation.

For the first part of his program he drew three cartoons each of which depicted a special meaning of the Yuletide season. Mrs. Raymond J. Grenier, a Club member, played Christmas carols as a musical background while Rev. Palmquist produced a Nativity scene. His work is done with chalk. Rev. Palmquist's commentary during the drawings was both humorous and inspirational.

Mrs. Joseph F. Spillane assisted by Mrs. Osten S. Anderson and Mrs. Robert H. Perkins were hostesses at the dessert-coffee served at 1 p.m. The table was festive with a centerpiece of red and white poinsettias. The pourers were Miss Avis C. Walsh and Mrs. Donald C. Moody, Past Presidents and Miss M. Elizabeth Kilburn, Assistant Treasurer.

Mrs. Leonard G. Simmons, fine arts chairman, arranged an attractive display of Christmas wreaths and decorations which were made by club members in the ladies' parlor.

The president, Mrs. John B. Naylor, conducted a short business meeting at 2 p.m. Mrs. Edmund Anthony, ways and means chairman, reported that the scholarship bridge held on December 6 was very successful.

Women's Clubs Federation Has A Full Meeting

Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, president, opened a recent meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs with reports from the secretary and treasurer, after which tributes were paid to the memory of President John F. Kennedy and Mrs. Thomas Porter, a recent president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. A. William Kinkel, librarian, commented on a study evaluating the services of the Newton Free Library.

Following an invitation from Mrs. Selma Stonberg to visit Newton Junior College, members enjoyed a tour of the campus and a tea in the student lounge. They met Charles W. Dudley, the director, and representatives of the Student Council.

There was a report on the number of American flags sold during Know Your America Week.

Attention was called to the mid-winter meeting on January 22, at 10 a.m., in the Newton Centre Women's Club House. The meeting is held in cooperation with the 12th District Confer-

Political Highlights

None of the prospective candidates who will be engaged in the major political battles in Massachusetts has been touched even remotely by the indictments based on information unearthed by the Crime Commission.

But if the State is rocked by one scandal after another in 1964, it is bound to have some impact upon public thinking.

What happens on Washington's Capitol Hill in the early months of the year ahead also will influence voter sentiment across the nation.

It appears virtually certain that a reduction in the federal income tax will be voted by Congress to stimulate the national economy.

It is likely, although less certain, that some civil rights laws will be placed on the nation's statute books before this Congress winds up its business in 1964.

Whether President Lyndon Johnson will be able to walk a political tight rope on the explosive civil rights issue and follow a course which will satisfy the North but not bitterly antagonize the South is a factor which could affect the Presidential election.

The late President Kennedy had just about written off the deep South except for Texas and Florida, the two States he was visiting on the tragic trip which ended in his assassination.

But this probably will not be true of Lyndon Johnson. Himself a Texan, he undoubtedly will try to hold the usually Democratic South in line.

Two big questions will be resolved next summer, of course, before the Presidential campaign begins.

Out in San Francisco in July Republican delegates from the 50 States will pick the GOP candidate who will stand against Lyndon Johnson.

In August at Atlantic City the Democrats will go through the motions of nominating the man Johnson selects as his Vice Presidential running mate. Johnson's nomination for President is a foregone conclusion.

Politicking by candidates for both the Presidency and state offices will be started soon after the turn of the year.

ence on Home Life. Luncheon will be served at 12:30.

Mrs. Charles Oltan from Newton Chapter, American Field Service, told of an exchange student who spent last year in Italy, and who spoke at Newton Centre Methodist Church on Dec. 19.

South High's Tracksters In Big Win 50-36

Newton South High School's track team swept to a decisive 50-36 victory over Concord-Carlisle at the Commonwealth Armory last Saturday.

Dave White in the 1000-yard run, Mike Coleman in the 600-yard run, Ricky Goldstein in the 300-yard run, Stewart Moss in the shot put, Joe Campos in the dash were the first place winners for Newton South along with the relay team.

Bob Wolfe, Pete Fleming, Bill Collins, John Arlanson and Chris Davis placed second in their respective events to help seal the triumph for South.

Sacred Heart Tops Our Lady's Cagers

Sacred Heart High's Terry Murphy scored 18 points, and Ed Egan accounted for 13, to give their basketball team a 51-41 victory Friday over Our Lady's High in a game played in Bishop MacKenzie Athletic Center.

Newton Tied For First Spot In Hockey League

Newton High School's hockey team won its second consecutive GBI league game as it bested Rindge Tech 4-2 at the Boston Arena last Saturday.

Newton is now tied with Arlington and Brookline for first place in the GBI loop. Each of the three teams has won two games and lost none.

The Toomey brothers, Dick and Bob, accounted for three of the four Tiger goals, Dick scoring twice and Bob once. Bill Verner scored the other Newton goal.

Kevin McLatchy, a sophomore, who started his first game as goalie for the Tigers, turned in an excellent performance as he blocked 12 Rindge shots.

Verner sent Newton off to a 1-0 lead early in the first period when he blasted home the first tally after a faceoff from the Rindge zone. John Coyle earned an assist on the play.

Rindge came back less than a minute later to tie the count.

Dick Toomey made it 3-1 for Newton as he scored after taking a pass from George Mechem.

Rindge picked up its second tally, but when it pulled out its goalie in the closing minute of the game in a desperate attempt to deadlock the count, Dick Toomey scored the fourth Newton goal.

SAMUEL Z. GOLDHABER

Waban Youth Is Bar Mitzvah At Brookline Temple

Samuel Zachary Goldhaber, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Goldhaber, of Waban, was Bar Mitzvah, on Saturday, December 7th at Temple Beth Zion in Brookline.

Rabbi Israel Silverman officiated at the ceremony which was followed by a reception held in the Temple vestry.

Samuel Goldhaber is a graduate of Temple Beth Zion Religious School and is currently enrolled at the Hebrew High School at Temple Emanuel in Newton. He also is a student at the New England Conservatory of Music and is a member of the Class of 1968 at Roxbury Latin School.

Bill Would Halt Pension Cut

Joseph G. Bradley, member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives from Newton, has filed a bill to exempt veterans who have retired from state, city and county positions under a service-connected disability after 15 years of service from the law that requires an annual readjustment of pensions and allowances if their earnings exceed the salary of the position they held.

The loss was South's second, giving the team a .500 percentage. The previous loss was a squeaker which Brookline took, 53 to 52.

Guests at the head table included Hugh M. Tomb of the Newton School Committee, John Penney, recreation commissioner; Dr. Charles E. Brown, school superintendent; Richard W. Mechem, Newton High principal, and Frank M. Simmons, athletic director.

Newton South Has 2 Wins and 2 Losses

Newton South High's cagers lost Friday to Weymouth High 65-57 in a game played at Newton.

The loss was South's second, giving the team a .500 percentage. The previous loss was a squeaker which Brookline took, 53 to 52.

Hearing

Burns said that he was not in the habit of attending hearings of that sort because they tend to become too complicated for a non-legal mind. We therefore turned the matter over to the city solicitor.

"We are not making any foregone conclusions," Burns said, "as to whether the resultant delay will be small or major in character, or if it will cause any delay at all."

Listed in the suit as petitioners are Basil K. Woods, Albert G. Horton and Bert F. Richards. Respondents are Marriott Motor Hotels of Newton, Inc., Building Commissioner Burns and the city of Newton.

Friday's hearing will determine whether the injunction should be continued until the case is decided.

According to former Alderman Richard H. Lovell, attorney for the Marriott interests, the suit could delay start of construction. However, he added, the respondents would probably be entitled to a quick trial. He cited a similar case, in which he represented the Sylvia Company, which obtained a zone change in Newton Highlands.

In that case the company brought the matter to court to confirm the action of the Aldermen in granting the change of zone.

In the Marriott case, the city recently changed 10 acres of Norumbega from Residence Zone to Business AA, and the Board approved the plans for a 336-room motel complex at the park.

144 Athletes Of Newton High Given Letters

Major feature of Newton High School's fall athletic banquet, held last week at Meadowbrook Junior High, was presentation of letters to 144 participants in three school sports — football, track and soccer.

The coaches of the three branches of sport, Jim Roynayne, Abner Bailey and Gordon Elliott, presented sweaters and letters to varsity players. Presentation to junior varsity members were made by Howie Ferguson and Manson Hall.

There were two special presentations by Jim Roynayne, the football coach. They were to Co-Captains Dave Bliss and Martin O'Gorman. To Bliss went the Beverly game ball. O'Gorman received a ball for his outstanding play at Brookline.

John Tomb and George Sellick will be co-captains for track next season, it was announced by Abner Bailey, track coach.

Alvin Fortune, assistant football coach and head baseball coach, acted as master-of-ceremonies at the banquet.

Construction On Incinerator Set To Start In June

With the last obstacle removed, Mayor Donald L. Gibbs looks for construction of the Rumford Ave. municipal incinerator to start in approximately six months.

Mayor Austin D. Rhodes of Waltham has yielded to Newton's claim to the two-acre land tract at the Waltham-

Newton line in Auburndale. He has suggested a "good neighbor" policy whereby Newton will allow Waltham the use of the incinerator should an emergency arise in Waltham.

Said the Waltham mayor, "There is no sense in damaging good relationships over a 60-foot water hole that is not much good to us in the first place. We are perfectly willing to give up our claim." Mayor Rhodes' statement was made following the vote of the Newton Aldermen in favor of a $2,000,000 bond issue for construction of the facility.

Trip To Israel Contest Prize For Youngsters

A summer in Israel is the top prize offered by national Hadassah in an essay contest for 13 to 17 year old boys and girls. Top winner in the 7 to 12-year old age group will be awarded a summer in an approved Zionist summer camp in the United States.

The contest is being held in connection with the 30th anniversary of Youth Aliyah, the world movement which has rescued and rehabilitated more than 110,000 uprooted children in Israel.

To become eligible for the prizes each contestant must submit an original 350 to 500-word essay on Youth Aliyah along with a filled Child's Day coin book. The topics for the 13 to 17 age group are, "Henrietta Szold," or an essay on any period in Youth Aliyah history. The younger group will write on "What Youth Aliyah Means to Me" or "Child's Day for Youth Aliyah."

Contestants may obtain reference material and coin books from Mrs. Irving Gashin, Boston Hadassah chairman for Child's Day for Youth Aliyah, at AS 7-1484. Rabbis and principals of religious schools in the area are announcing the contest to their students. Closing date for entries is Feb. 27, 1964.

Newton South Football '64 Prospects Seen Rosy

Next season should be another good one for Newton South High's football team, if current developments are any criterion.

The school has enjoyed considerable success on the gridiron ever since its first varsity team took the field in 1960.

It appears now that there will be five returning starters next fall. They include Ted Clarke, quarterback, and Chuck Spear, who gained 669 yards this past season in 124 ball carries.

Replacements will have to be found for Young and Horwitz, whose absence from the 1964 team will constitute a major loss. Young, an end, scored 42 points last year, 42 of them on passes from Quarterback Clarke. Horwitz was the Lions' standout left tackle.

However, South's future is still bright, what with the return of Clarke, Spear, Tom Lopez at left end, Joe Fiore at right guard and Pete Bassett at right tackle. All of them contributed heavily to the team's successful 1963 season.

The following returnees are leading candidates for vacated line positions: Joe Durocher, Jack McLeod, Mark Cohen and Bob Plummer. The latter is challenged with the difficult task involving a replacement for Young at end.

Two backfield performers,

Dick D'Eugenio and John Passarini, can be relied on, it is felt. The former saw a lot of service as a running halfback. The latter was used sparingly at fullback.

There will be backs in plentiful supply, promising junior varsity boys hoping to graduate to varsity. Added depth, a definite need in the opinion of Coach George Winkler, may be provided by the following:

John Manfredi, Steve Parnell, Steve Sampson, Mike Nathanson and Steve Ward, all scheduled to make bids for varsity stature.

Social Action Group Holds Its First Meeting

The newly organized Commission On Social Action, New England Region, United Synagogue of America, held an open meeting in the library of Temple Emanuel, 385 Ward St., Newton Centre, on Monday evening, Dec. 23.

The Commission will be the authoritative voice for the entire New England conservative movement, and two representatives from each of the United Synagogue's constituent bodies have been appointed.

They include Kivie Kaplan of Temple Emanuel, national vice president of NAACP; Rabbi Zev K. Nelson of Temple Emeth, Chestnut Hill; Mrs. Edward Resnick, chairman of the Social Action Committee, Temple Emanuel Sisterhood; Rabbi David Weiss of Temple Emanuel, Mrs. Lena Silverstein, Social Action chairman, Temple Emeth Sisterhood; Morris Spelfogel of Temple Mishkan Tefila, Newton, former Men's Club Federation national president, and Rabbi Albert I. Gordon of Temple Emanuel, former United Synagogue national executive director.

John Bercury Jr. and Bride Now Living In Arlington

Now making their home in Arlington are Mr. John Dennis Bercury Jr., and his bride, the former Miss Elaine Marie Rossignol, who exchanged vows recently at the Notre Dame Church in Cambridge.

The Rev. Nicholas Spagnola, C.P.S., was celebrant of the 10 o'clock nuptial mass at which two rings were exchanged. A reception was held at Boston College Alumni Hall.

Escorted by her father, the bride's organza gown designed with lace appliques, had a scoop neckline and long petal-point sleeves. A jeweled queen's crown held in place her elbow-length illusion veil. She carried her missal with a cascade of Stephanotis and a single white orchid.

Miss Phyllis D. Rossignol of Cambridge was her sister's maid of honor. Two other sisters of the bride, Mrs. Dolores Fazzino of Middletown and Mrs. Joanne Russell of Arlington and Miss Julie Moscone of Allston were bridesmaids.

Joseph Cacciola of West Roxbury served as best man. Ushering were two brothers of the bridegroom, William Bercury and Dennis Bercury, both of Chestnut Hill, and Richard Crosby of Brighton.

The bride, a graduate of Notre Dame High School, Class of 1960, is an Air Force secretary at the Boston Army Base.

Mr. Bercury was graduated from Boston College, class of 1962. He is a survey statistician for the U. S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Census in Boston.

Engagement Of Ellen M. Every To Dr. Yavel

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Every of Roslindale announce the engagement of their daughter, Ellen Marie, to Dr. Robert P. Yavel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Yavel of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Miss Every is a graduate of Notre Dame Academy, Roxbury, and Boston College, School of Education.

Dr. Yavel is a graduate of Brooklyn College and New York University, College of Dentistry. He is a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve. A June 13 wedding is planned.

Martin Beckwith Is Fiance Of Judith Jackson

An August wedding is planned by Miss Judith Lynn Jackson and Martin J. Beckwith.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Jackson of Stamford, Ct., make known the engagement of their daughter to the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leopold Beckwith of Newton.

Miss Jackson, a graduate of Middlebury College, received a Certificate of Etudes Francaises from the University of Geneva, Switzerland. An alumna of the Manhattan School of Music, she plans to continue her graduate studies in the field of East Asia at the Columbia University in February.

Mr. Beckwith, who was graduated from Harvard College, magna cum laude, is a member of Phi Beta Kappa. He was a member of the combined Harvard-Yale track team, which competed against the Oxford-Cambridge team in 1959 and 1961.

Vassar Club To Fete Students At Dec. 27 Tea

Newton members of the Vassar Club of Boston are on committees for the tea to be held at 3:30 o'clock on Friday, December 27th at the College Club, 40 Commonwealth avenue, to which 250 girls, and their parents, from public and private schools in the Greater Boston area, have been invited.

Students at Vassar, home for the Christmas holidays, will give a fashion show and hold a panel discussion to give prospective students a more complete picture of life at Vassar.

Garden Club Of Auburndale Will Meet January 6

The January meeting of the Auburndale Garden Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Guernsey Camp, Jr., at 79 Hawthorne avenue, Auburndale at 1:30 p.m. on Monday, January 6.

"Landscaping the Small Home" is the subject chosen by the speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Wilhelmina Feinberg.

Mrs. Richard Kenney, president, will conduct the business meeting preceding the program, and the tea will be arranged by Mrs. Frank Meyer with Mrs. E. Graham Bates and Mrs. William E. Biddle, Jr. as pourers.

Margaret Powell and Stephanie Rowbottom, Bradford Junior College freshmen, are at home for Christmas vacation. Miss Powell is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thurston G. Powell, 82 Windsor road, Waban. Miss Rowbottom is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison F. Rowbottom, 24 Winnetaska road, Waban.

Barbara Brett, Newton Teacher, Is Engaged

Of interest here is the announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Brett of West Hartford, Ct., which makes known the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Mary Brett, to Robert Gannon White. He is the son of Mrs. Allan R. White of Milton and the late Mr. White.

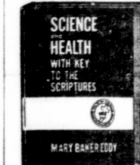

A graduate of St. Joseph's College, Miss Brett received her master's degree from the University of Hartford. She is now teaching in Newton.

Mr. White prepared at Milton Academy for the Georgetown University of Foreign Service and attended the Graduate Division of the Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania, where he received an M.B.A. degree.

He served with the 7th Fleet in the Pacific and the 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean for four years. He is lieutenant in the Naval Reserve and belongs to the Longwood Cricket Club in Brookline.

A February 8th wedding is planned.

You'd better make tracks to Jacques. Climb aboard your snowshoes, and ankle over to jumping Jacques.

Our instructions were to write glowingly of French, Shiner & Uner. Oh yes. We recall them. They were those rooming house characters who cooked their own meals in the back room.

What's that? Oh, you mean those French, Shiner & Uner chaps? Little old shoemakers, aren't they?

Jacques is headquarters here for French, Shiner & Uner men's shoes. The men's quality shoe brand was one of the first lines selected by the quality Newton Corner store; like putting its best foot forward, if we may be permitted a slight witicism.

French, Shiner & Uner, sounding like a veritable song-and-dance act, now come to center stage with a short ditty about their range of Norseman shoes reflecting a look of the brave and the bold, as with the sea kings of old.

Thus they sing of the Norseman, but what of the slip-ons and hand-sewn loafers in the French, Shiner & Uner line? What, too, of the grains? Ah, the grains, the grains.

Then, there's also such wondrous footwear materials as sharkskin, alligator, and the old favorite, cordovan leather. All these, and more are handcrafted into eye-pleasing shoes that help ease men along the rocky roads of life.

So, you'll make the best footprints and tracks when you wear feet-ease, eye-please shoes from French, Shiner & Uner. Available at Jacques, of course, or else why this long discourse?

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Donations Exceed Quota Of Temple Building Fund

Announcement that Congregation Beth El-Atereth of Newton had exceeded its $250,000 building fund quota by $34,000 brought a surge of applause from the 200 members who gathered recently at a victory party held at the synagogue on Ward street to celebrate this victory.

"At this point," said chairman Samuel Matross, the total of $284,000 represents only reported cards. We have every reason to believe that the total will reach $300,000 before the end of the year."

Rabbi Abraham Koolyk said that it was fitting that "this victory celebration be held in the synagogue in the middle of the church season because the holiday we are observing this week commemorates a victory of our forefathers against those who would have suppressed our right to worship as we pleased some 2100 years ago, and who, by their victory, were able to rededicate the temple."

After the chanting of the traditional Chanukah prayers by Cantor A. Shonfeld, the honor of kindling the candles went to the following who had shown outstanding leadership in the campaign: Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dorfman, Mr. and Mrs. David Gopen, Lloyd Axelrod, Aaron Silver represented by his wife and son, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kurr and Philip Gilfix.

A citation honoring him for his campaign leadership was presented to Samuel Matross, Honorary Chairman David Gopen presented Mrs. Matross with a bouquet of flowers.

Special commendation was given Associate Chairman Lloyd Axelrod, Samuel Andler and Aaron Silver. Citations also went to division chairmen Nathan Pearlman, Louis Andler, Henry Merrin and Morris Kesselman.

She also served as chairman of the Women's Committee at Brandeis.

Survivors are her husband, Charles Kemler; three sons, David, Ralph and Michael Kemler, and a grandson, Peter Kemler.

Dr. Bertha Coffman
Services for Dr. Bertha (Reed) Coffman, PH.D., 87, of 26 Hollis street, Newton, a retired college professor, were held on Monday, Dec. 23, in the Mackay Funeral Home, Newton.

A native of Decatur, Ill., and wife of the late George R. Coffman, Dr. Coffman died Dec. 19.

She was a teacher of German at Grinnell College, Iowa, and at Simmons College, Boston, and was a member of the Eliot Congregational Church. A nephew, Edward R. Sanner of Atlanta, Ga., survives.

Katharine T. Kretschmar
A family service for Mrs. Katharine T. (Salmon) Kretschmar, who lived for many years in West Newton and Waban, was held in Newton Cemetery Chapel on Monday, Dec. 23.

Mrs. Kretschmar, a native of Philadelphia, died Dec. 20 in Jordan Hospital, Plymouth. She was 82 years old, and had been living with a son, Charles G. Kretschmar of Duxbury.

She attended Oguntz School in Philadelphia and Mrs. Stearn's Seminary in Amherst.

Survivors, besides her son Charles, are a daughter, Mrs. Samuel Orcutt Davis of Alberton, N. Y., and a son, Robert S. Kretschmar of West Newton, executive secretary of the Massachusetts division, Automobile Association of America.

Albert H. Ginsburg
Funeral services for Albert H. Ginsburg, 69, of 10 Hammond Pond Pkwy., Newton Centre, were held in Brookline on Monday, Dec. 23.

Mr. Ginsburg, founder and president of the Statler Tissue Corporation of Somerville, died Dec. 21 in Massachusetts General Hospital after a short illness.

He was born in Boston, and was a graduate of Lowell Technical Institute.

He was a director of the Grove Hall Savings Bank in Roxbury, and served as trustee of the Combined Jewish Philanthropies. Also, he was a member of Shawmut Lodge, AF & AM, and a trustee of Congregation Kehillath, Brookline.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Rose (Hurtwitz) Ginsburg; two daughters, Mrs. Hy L. Eisenman of Brookline and Mrs. Murray Silin of Waban; six sons, Mrs. Martha Parkins and Mrs. Robert Rogers of Brookline, Mrs. Harry King of Andover, and Mrs. Leo Flax, Mrs. Joseph Simberg and Mrs. Howard Rubin, all of Newton, and five grandchildren.

Burial was in Linwood Cemetery, Randolph.

Hugh J. MacGillivray
A requiem Mass for Hugh J. MacGillivray, 74, of 35 Moulton St., Newton Lower Falls, a builder who operated his own business in Newton for many years, was celebrated in St. John's Church, Wellesley, on Monday, Dec. 23.

Mr. MacGillivray died at his home on Dec. 20 after a long illness.

Born in Antigonish, N.S., he came to Newton as a 14-year-old boy.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Vayda of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Mrs. Phyllis Procutus of Weyland and Mrs. Pauline Thomas of Waltham, and a son, Robert MacGillivray of Natick.

Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Needham.

John A. Janse
A requiem Mass for John A. Janse, 70, of Sandwich, a one-time candidate for mayor of Newton, was sung in Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, on Tuesday, Dec. 24.

Mr. Janse died unexpectedly.

Free Coffee To Drivers on Mass. Pike New Year's

Free coffee will be available for all motorists on the Massachusetts Turnpike on New Year's Eve, Chairman William F. Callahan announced today.

"This practice was initiated on New Year's Eve two years ago as a safety measure," the Chairman said, "and the results have proved most satisfactory. Last year the plan was expanded to include Christmas Eve as well as New Year's Eve and the Turnpike Authority is pleased to announce that coffee will be available on both dates again this year."

As motorists pick up their toll tickets upon entering the Massachusetts Turnpike, they will be given also the following invitation signed by Chairman Callahan and Howard B. Johnson, president of the Howard Johnson Company that operates the eight restaurants along the Turnpike:

"You are cordially invited to stop and enjoy free coffee at the Howard Johnson restaurants on the Massachusetts Turnpike from 10 p.m., Tuesday, December 31, 1963 to 7 a.m., Wednesday, January 1, 1964. Please drive carefully on New Year's Eve and throughout 1964."

Local Delegates At Histadut Hub Conference

Samuel Goldberg of the Joint Board, ILGWU, brought greetings of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union and its locals to the recent 40th anniversary conference of the Israel Histadut Campaign, attended by more than 400 delegates from the six New England states at the Hotel Bradford, Boston.

The annual financial report was given by Hyman Green of Newton, and Harry Rubin, Newton baritone, sang the National Anthem.

Included in the slate of officers presented were the following:

Honorary chairman, Philip Kramer of Newton; campaign chairman, Alexander Shapiro of Newton; treasurer, Hyman Green of Newton; vice chairman, Sylvia Green and Bessie Landy, both Newton; business division chairman, Carl Cohen of Chestnut Hill and Ben Cohen of Newton; chairman of trade union division, Samuel Goldberg; women's division president and honorary president, Bessie Landy and Diane Feinzig; A.H.D.F. Lawyers' committee chairman, Theodore Morrison of Newton.

Civil Service Test
The name of Jeanne M. Roche, 46 Webster street, West Newton, has been placed on an alphabetical list of women found eligible to hold the rating of electronic tape operator in the State Division of Employment Service.

She was one of 85 who passed a civil service examination that was taken by 183 women and 11 men.

ly of a heart attack in his Sandwich home on Dec. 22.

He was a member of Newton Lodge of Elks, and a past president of the Newton Kiwanis Club. He was a garage collection contractor in Newton prior to his retirement six years ago, when he moved to the Cape and became purchasing agent for the Town of Sandwich. At one time he operated the Christopher Rider Restaurant in Chatham.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy S. (Johnson) Janse; three sons, Edward A. of Wellesley, E. John of Needham and William Janse of Eastham; two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Rozvar of Attleboro, and Mrs. Barbara Denault of Sandwich, and two sisters, Mrs. Elsie Ramhoffer and Miss Rose Janse, both of Newton Centre.

Burial was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury.

William B. Ness
Services for William B. Ness, 73, of 207 Lincoln street, Newton Highlands, production manager prior to his retirement at Holtz-Cabot Electric Company, were held Friday, Dec. 20, in Newton Cemetery Chapel, with the Rev. Paul G. Pitman of the Newton Highlands Congregational Church officiating.

Mr. Ness was stricken with a heart attack at the Parke Snow store, Newton Centre, on Dec. 18 and was pronounced dead on arrival at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Blanche G. (Scott) Ness; a son, William B. Jr. of Millis, and a sister, Jessie A. Ness of Newton Highlands.

Harold Andres

The funeral of Harold Andres, 54, of Bronxville, N.Y., a Newton High School graduate who was regarded as an all-time great in Dartmouth College sports, was held in Bronxville on Monday, Dec. 23.

He died Dec. 21 in a Bronxville hospital.

An executive of Lever Brothers Company of New York, where he had worked since 1934, he was a Navy lieutenant commander in World War II.

A native of Dorchester, he went from Newton High to Dartmouth, and was graduated in 1931. He played center and was football captain in his junior year. He won three consecutive varsity letters in football, hockey and baseball.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Ruth (Cummings) Andres; a daughter, Mrs. Thomas L. Brogan of Bronxville; his mother, Mrs. Eugene C. Andres, and a sister, Mrs. Gretchen C. Andres, both of Newton Highlands, and five brothers, Eugene C. Jr., and Robert R. of San Jose, Calif., Philip F. of Denver, Paul R. of Covington, Ky., and Arthur E. Andres of Louisville, Ky.

Burial was in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Yonkers, N.Y.

Carlo DiRico

A requiem Mass of Carlo DiRico, 64, of 265 Nevada St., Newtonville, a laborer in general contracting, was celebrated in Our Lady's Church on Thursday, Dec. 26.

Victim of a heart attack at home on Dec. 21, he was pronounced dead on arrival at Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Mr. DiRico was born in Chieta, Italy, and had lived in Newton 35 years.

He was a member of Umberto Primo Lodge, Sons of Italy of Newton.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Angelina (Cicchini) DiRico; a son, Antonio of Newton; a daughter, Mrs. Mary Giachetti of Watertown; two grandchildren; a brother, Nicola DiRico, and two sisters, Mrs. Giuseppina DiRado and Mrs. Antonia Giachetti all of Italy.

Burial was in Newton Cemetery.

Joseph Cerasoli

A solemn high Mass of requiem for Joseph Cerasoli, 58, of 53 Ripley St., Newton Centre, was celebrated on Tuesday, Dec. 24, in Sacred Heart Church.

Mr. Cerasoli died unexpectedly at his home on Dec. 21 after being stricken with a heart attack.

Born in Aquila, Italy, he was a Newton resident for 35 years.

Car Plates On By Noon Jan. 1

License plates for 1964 have to replace 1963 plates by noon of Jan. 1, all motorists were reminded yesterday by Registrar of Motor Vehicles James R. Lawton.

The plates can be changed any time from noon, Dec. 31, until noon, Jan. 1, but evidence of registration for both years must be carried in the vehicle during the changeover period.

Local Woman Has Role In Forming Kennedy Memorial

Mrs. Frederick Greene, of Newton, president of the Greater Boston Council and its 14 constituent chapters throughout the Boston area, is assisting Mrs. Blanche Fine, national president of Pioneer Women, in the establishment of a John F. Kennedy Memorial Scholarship Fund.

The fund will provide $100,000 to be used for scholarships to further the education of 200 deserving students in Israel. Mrs. Fine stated she felt a scholarship fund was an especially appropriate tribute to the memory of John F. Kennedy because of his endeavors to broaden man's intellectual, scientific, and cultural horizons.

Since free secondary education is not provided in Israel, Pioneer Women's scholarship programs provide schooling for youngsters who otherwise could not afford further education.

Mrs. Fine also announced that the initial contribution to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Fund was made by Mrs. Sonya Deanin, a member of the organization's executive committee.

In the United States and Canada Pioneer Women, the Women's Labor Zionist Organization, promotes participation in civic life and Jewish cultural activities. In Israel Pioneer Women provides almost half of all social services for women, children and youth, in nearly 1,000 child care and immigrant rehabilitation centers.

Art Association Meets January 2

Arthur R. Safford will be the guest artist at the Thursday evening, January 2nd meeting of the Newton Art Association, to be held at 7:30 o'clock in the Beethoven School, Waban.

Mr. Safford, well known in Boston, Rockport and Gloucester, will do an oil portrait from a live model. Visitors will be welcome. There will be a small donation.
